SUMMARY.

The woman suffragist, Davison, who interfered with the King's horse in the race for the Derby and was seriously injured, is dead.

A suffragist manifesto has been issued announcing "a public funeral."

Suffragists burnt the pavilion of the North Middlesex Cricket Club. The grandstand at Hurst Park was also burnt.

The Servian delegates to the peace conference have been recalled.

The conference will probably be dissolved with the outstanding points left unsettled.

It is rumoured that there were several angry scenes at Saturday's sitting of the conference.

No good is expected to come of the proposed conference between the Premiers of the Allied States.

The meeting in any case has been postponed, owing to the Bulgarian Ministerial crisis.

The Berlin Stadium was opened by the Emperor in the presence of 30,000 spectators.

There has been but little comment in Berlin on Mr. Churchill's proposal for the acceleration of the building of three Dreadnoughts.

It is pointed out that if the battleships are available in the North Sea Germany will demand countervailing measures.

The Argentine Government is inclined to grant protection against the American beef trust competition.

The Liberal papers say that the Marconi contract disclosures are adversely affecting Liberalism.

An explosion occurred on board a submarine while running on the surface in the Bristol Channel.

The engineer was killed, and four other men were seriously injured. The engines were destroyed.

The Prince of Wales is to visit Germany shortly, and will make a prolonged stay.

Three hundred skilled railway-men from Swindon are emigrating to Canada, attracted by the high rates of pay.

A strike has occurred among the Kleinfontein miners for the recognition of the union.

The trouble threatens to lead to a general strike throughout South Africa.

Bandits robbed the passengers in a motor omnibus at Plock, Poland.

In a subsequent encounter, five police were killed by the bandits.

Pirates in the West River captured a steamer plying between Hongkong and Fuchow, and stole £2400 worth of specie.

A Chinese passenger was shot dead, and six of the crew were wounded while defending the ship.

A member of the London Stock Exchange drew Aboyeur, the Derby winner, in a sweepstake.

He was so disgusted with his luck that he presented the ticket to his office boy, who won £1875.

The King's birthday holiday was marred by wet and wintry weather.

The heavy rain that fell was responsible for a large decrease in the railway and tramway receipts.

There were 33,706 fewer passengers carried on the railways than there were on the corresponding day of 1912.

At the A.J.C. winter meeting yesterday the Second Hurdle Race was won by Loughrea and the Flying Handicap by Barley Water.

In the Second Nursery Doreen G. defeated Gold Gift. Hautapu won the Steeplechase, and Electrakoff the Winter Stakes.

The Parliamentary party motored from Wyalong to Lake Cudgellico on Sunday.

All the members of the party were favourably impressed with the class of country they saw.

The northern colliery employees have withdrawn their application for a special court, and have asked for a board.

In the second game of their tour the All Blacks were again defeated by New South Wales by 21 points to 12.

At one stage only during the game did the New Zealanders look like securing a victory.

In the Rugby Union match, at the University Oval, the Maori team was also beaten by New South Wales by 15 to 3.

The Maori half-back, Samuel Piki, was badly injured through another player falling on him.

The second round of the amateur golf championship was played on the Royal Sydney Golf Club's links yesterday.

The most noticeable performance was E. L. Apperly's fine round.

The Motor Yacht Club handicap ocean race was won by Rooganah, the scratch boat.

A large deputation waited on the South Brisbane City Council to protest against a boxing stadium being erected.

A number of specially selected ex-service men and reservists from the army and navy intend to settle in this State.

Commissioner Hay opened a new Salvation Army Hall at Campsie.

The annual rescue meeting was held in the Town Hall last night, and was largely attended.

Unusual interest is centred in the Farmers and Settlers' Conference to be opened in Sydney on July 7.

One of the principal questions to be considered is that relating to the formation of a Country party.

The American expert in the bulk handling of wheat has been inquiring into the way that grain is handled at Wyalong.

He considers the methods adopted by the farmers and railway authorities as wasteful.

The Victorian Royal Commissioner's report on bulk handling advises the erection of country elevators at various points.

It is urged that steps be taken to promote co-operation between the States in the transport of wheat.

Mr. G. E. Foster, the Canadian Minister for Trade and Customs, left Melbourne for Sydney by express yesterday.

He believes his visit to Australia will result in better trade relations between the Commonwealth and Canada.

An Australian manufacturers' week is being held by the leading shopkeepers of Broken Hill.

An agreement has been filed between the shipowners and the Federated Enginedrivers and Firemen's Association.

The award in the Silverton Tramway employees' case has been issued.

It provides for an increase of 1s a day for guards, 6d for shunters, but nothing extra for labourers.

The award does not meet with favour from the officials of the union.

A girl about 12 years of age was murdered at Samford, near Brisbane, on Sunday night. An arrest has been effected.

An affray occurred in the Melbourne police barracks, in which a constable, it is alleged, attempted to shoot one of his comrades.

The trouble at the State coal mine in Victoria is still unsettled.

An inmate of the Yarra Bend Asylum made a sudden attack on several other inmates, and killed one man.

The interstate chess match between New South Wales and Victoria was started last night. Each side won a game.

Snow fell yesterday on the Blue Mountains and the southern tablelands.

Temperatures were low generally on the highlands, many stations being below freezing point.

At the Homebush sales yesterday sheep and lambs were in light supply. There was a strong demand, and values were strong.

There was an ample supply of cattle. Prices at the opening were hardly so firm, but hardened towards the close.

The development recently reported in the Viking lease at Norseman (W.A.) is said to be phenomenally rich.

Forecast.—Further rain on the coast and parts of the highlands; some heavy showers on the coast, with strong south-east winds; snow on the southern tablelands; fine inland, and cold generally.

THE GENTLER PASSION,

Portraying Scenes of Modern Life in Paris. Nothing more marvellous than this production can be imagined. The scenes in the Studios and in the Night Haunts of the Gayest City in the World are of Astounding Realism.

3000. A SENSATIONAL and STARTLING SUCCESS. 3000

This is a remarkable Play for many reasons. Produced in Pathecolour, the various scenes are of great beauty, and the interpretation is truly marvellous. In addition to the two great artists whose names are cited, the authors were fortunate in securing the services of a great number of distinguished performers from all the Principal Theatres of Paris.

From the Peristyle where I write to you I see the sky-blue bay and Ursus in a skiff that pushes its prow into the luminous billows. At my side Lygia unwinds a skein of red wool, and in the garden, in the shade of the flowering almonds, I hear the song of our slaves. It is peace, my dear friend; it is the forgetting of the sufferings. Therefore I am obliged to say to you that they are not the Fates who so sweetly weave the web of our existence; it is instead Christ, Our Saviour and Friend.—VINITIUS TO PETRONIUS.

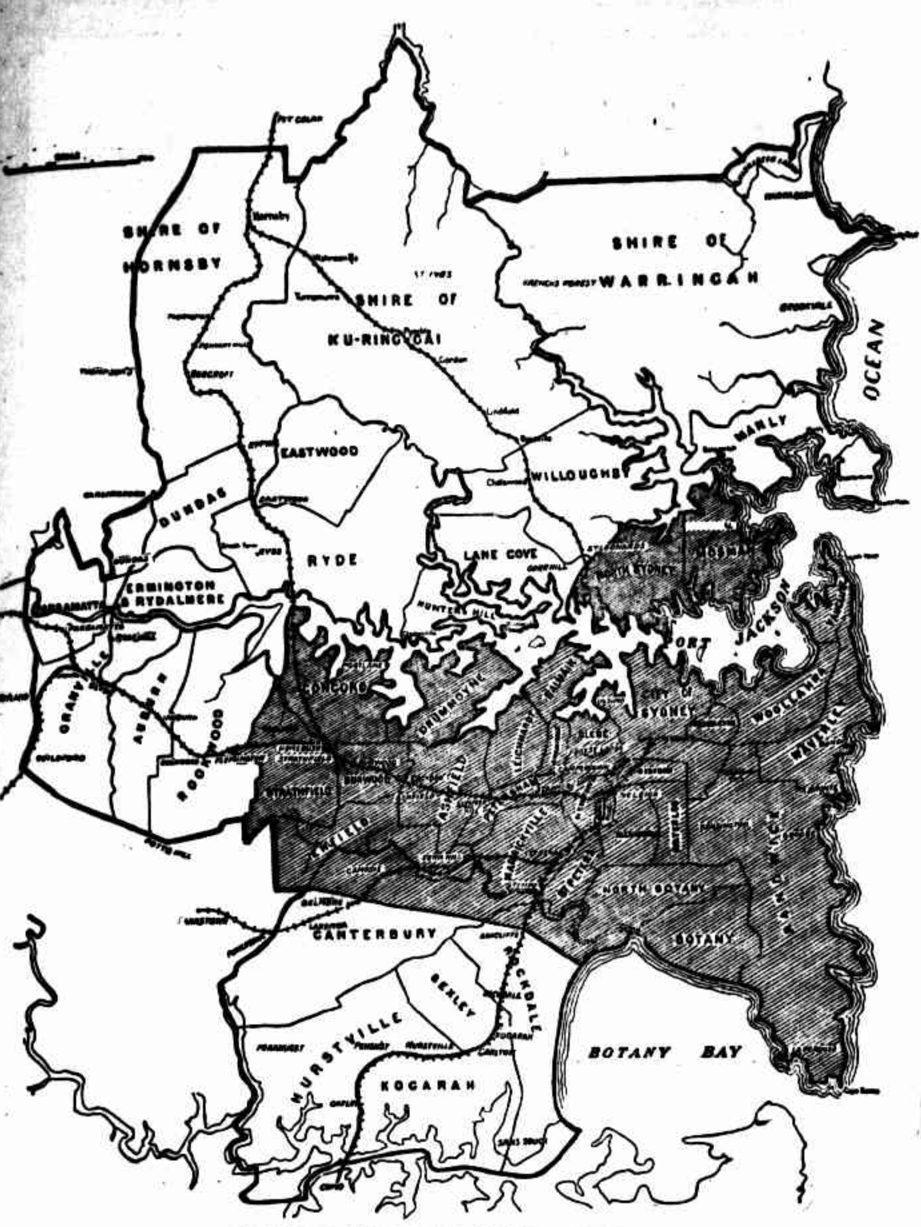
THE GREATER SYDNEY MOVEMENT.



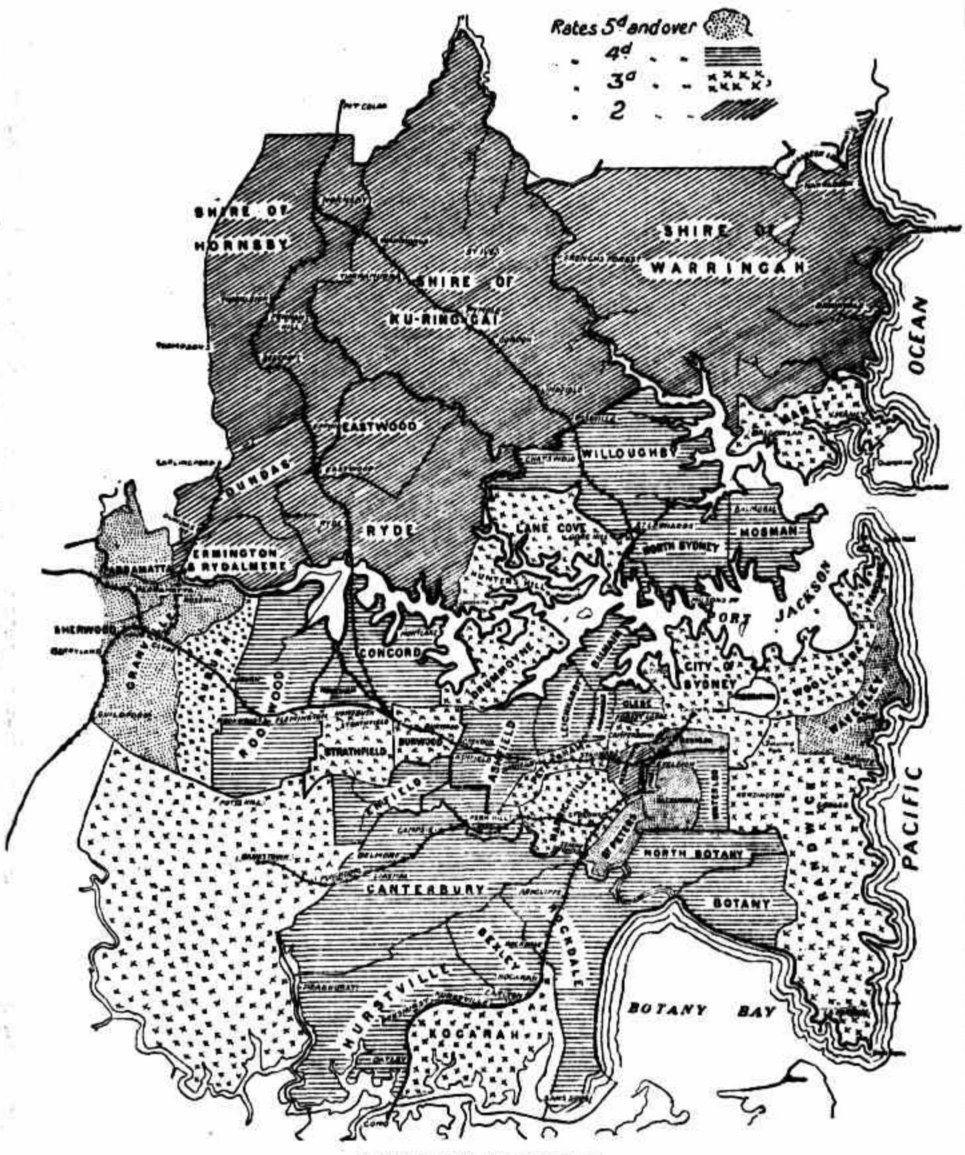
PROPOSED INNER AND OUTER ZONES.

A scheme for Greater Sydney has been submitted to the Royal Commission that is inquiring into the subject by Mr. John Garlick, officer in charge of the local government branch of the Public Works Department, whose idea is that there should be an inner and an outer zone.

Within the inner zone, shown shaded on the map, the City Council would be supreme in all matters of local government. Within the outer zone the central authority would, under this scheme, have power to supply common services and exercise power over town planning, the subdivision of lands, the erection of buildings, the care of public health, the maintenance of main roads, and other powers. The present councils in the outer zone, however, would have the care of all other local matters as at present, until such time as the districts of the outer zone developed to a stage to justify their inclusion within the inner zone.

The area of the inner zone is 46,917 acres, or 73 square miles. The unimproved capital value is £45,580,123 (including the present municipality of Sydney, £23,988,480). The population is 581,230. The average density of population over the whole of the proposed inner zone is 12.3 per acre.

The area of the proposed outer zone is 142,370 acres (or 222 square miles), valued unimproved at £8,194,689, and bearing a population of 1.1 per acre.



INTENSITY OF RATING.

The above shows the intensity of rating in the municipalities which it is proposed to include in the Greater Sydney scheme. All the councils do not levy their rates according to the same system. The City Council, for example, levies part of its rates on rental value, and part on the unimproved capital value. In order to get figures giving a fair comparison of the intensity of rating, Mr. Garlick has calculated what rate on the unimproved value would be needed in order to produce the income at present derived from rates which were levied on bases other than unimproved capital value. Thus he has reduced all the rates levied in the metropolitan area to an unimproved capital value basis. The common impression is that the present city, with its many channels of expenditure, was much more heavily rated than the suburbs. This impression is, Mr. Garlick states, not correct. There are 41 municipalities whose rates were in 1912 equal to or greater than those levied in the city. In the year 1912 the rates levied in the inner zone totalled £688,567, and in the outer zone £131,554. If the sum of £688,567 were raised by a uniform rate over the whole of the inner zone, that rate would be approximately 3.7d in the £ on the unimproved capital value.

ELECTRIC LIGHT AT BULLI.

The lighting by electricity of the streets of Bulli, Thirroul, and Austinmer is an accomplishment of which the Bulli Shire Council has reason to be proud. These townships of late years have become very popular with tourists, but the one outstanding feature which militated against their complete success in this direction was the fact that beyond the fitful gleams shed by the shop lamps, the streets at night were in complete darkness.

A complete electric lighting system has been installed and the main and side streets from Bellambi to Austinmer are now brilliantly illuminated. Altogether 35 miles of wiring have been installed. In the main road there are 180 lamps, each of 60 candle power, and 140 of 40 c.p. in the side streets.

The power for the scheme is being supplied by the Bellambi Coal Company, Ltd., and the cost per lamp will amount to about £3 15s 3d per annum.

CIVIL AMBULANCE APPEAL.

At the monthly meeting of the committee of the Civil Ambulance and Transport Corps the following names were added to the list of life honorary members, in recognition of generous donations to the £1000 fund for the purpose of purchasing an additional motor ambulance for the corps:—Mrs. Julia Levy, Mr. [illegible] A. Thorpe, Sir Allen Taylor, Mr. Samuel Hordern, Mr. Hugh Dixson, Mr. Orwell Phillips, and Mr. Hartley Sargent. Of the others who gave liberally to the fund the following were already on the list of honorary life members:—Miss Eadith C. Walker, Mr. Lebbeus Hordern, Mr. Louis Phillips, Mr. S. F. Newlands, and Sir Alexander MacCormick (£100 each).

About £150 is still required to complete the amount needed.

EARTHQUAKES.

RECORDED IN SYDNEY.

During the past week or so two rather extensive earthquakes have been reported on the Observatory seismograph. The first was registered on May 31, shortly before 10 p.m. The origin of this earthquake was probably 2350 miles from Sydney.

The second tremor was recorded on June 4. The preliminary tremors reached here at 8.5 p.m. The disturbance did not cease until 10.22 p.m. The origin was about 2500 miles away.

The physical features of both these tremors show that, if either occurred on land, extensive damage must have occurred.

A MARTYR FOR YEARS.

"For years I was a martyr to liver complaint," writes Mrs. Corlett, 112 Clyde-street, Ballarat, Vic. "I would get dreadful sick headaches, and be unable to eat. I consulted a doctor, but he was unable to do me any good. Eventually I tried Chamberlain's Tablets, and derived such benefit from them that my health is now perfect."—Advt.

THE WEEK IN LONDON

AN AUSTRALIAN'S NOTES.

(BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

Aerial Defence.

LONDON, May 9.

On Monday last a great meeting was held at the Mansion House, with a view to emphasise this country's danger in the matter of its slow development of army aeronautics. It was a largely-attended meeting, the speakers, if not quite so eminent as those first announced, were substantial men, and some 3700 apologies for absence were received by the chairman, probably a record in that regard. In the event, the meeting proved to be quite a sober declaration of belief in the importance of air craft as instruments of war, a result not at all anticipated by the hysterical "working-up" of the Opposition newspapers for days before. That is one of the most disheartening signs of the times in London; the fact, namely, that no public question, however serious its character, is ever discussed on impartial lines. Always it is made a political question. If it is concerned with something the Government is doing, then the Government organs support it enthusiastically, and the Opposition organs attack it, as in duty bound. If it is something the Government is not doing, one set of public opinion is urged to believe that inaction is driving the country to the verge of disaster, and another set of public opinion is urged to believe that disaster is only to be avoided by inaction. That precisely is what is happening now in the matter of aerial defence. It is known that both Germany and France are well equipped in provision for army dirigibles and aeroplanes, and that Great Britain is not. Well, if it is anything at all, that is a matter which deserves reasoned discussion and a well-thought-out scheme of operations. As a matter of fact, it meets on the one hand with frenzied partisan denunciation against the Government, and on the other with acrid insistence that the Government is certain to be right whatever it does or fails to do. The Opposition newspapers have made two other displays of this regrettable character recently. The attempt to discover Mr. Lloyd-George and Sir Rufus Isaacs as Stock Exchange gamblers of the worst type looks very ridiculous now, in the light of the Marconi committee and the deplorable figure it cuts in the eyes of the public; but Lord Roberts's honest effort to impress his belief in national service on the people has been quite nullified by these methods of the Conservative press and its insistence that the absence of national service is one more of the Government's countless sins of omission. It is to be hoped, however, that the aerial defence matter will be more judiciously set afoot by this Mansion House committee. It needs careful handling. The marvellous flights of recent weeks show the aeroplane as ever developing toward a great place in national defence, and the dirigible is already proved to be a great potential arm. It is not to be believed that Britain will be content to see other nations outdistancing her in aerial power.

Far From Superfluous.

The Lord Chief Justice of England recently gave it as his opinion that the Judges are at their best between the ages of 65 and 80. It has proved quite a popular obiter dictum. Mr. Justice Phillimore at once gave it point by declaring that the work he does now (he is 67 years old) is so hard that if he was a younger man he could not do it, and he is enthusiastically supported by Sir George Birdwood, long eminent in medical and other learned circles, and now 81 years of age, who is quite certain that an able man's brain goes on developing right up to 90 years and over, however weak his bodily frame may become. Sir George Birdwood, indeed, is emphatic in his support of the old men as being the best men for great and responsible posts, and he regards it as monstrous that the State should force any able man to retire before he is proved absolutely unfit for his work. Thus, the "too old at 40" idea has had this week vigorous attack, for not only have these specific repudiations of it enlivened us, but the correspondence columns of the press are energetically proving that it is the old men who have always done the best work in the world, and especially the work demanding high intellectual capacity. As a matter of fact, one of the surprises of life in London is the discovery of so many able and hearty old men. We are apt to think of the hard climate as hopeless for all but the most responsive constitutions, but everywhere about London are to be seen splendid specimens of old men, very old men often, but active and about, vigorous in this and that, and obviously able to enjoy life. There is, moreover, a group of old men, some of them at work in the very centre of things, others of them on the fringe of things, but still at work, the loss of whom would be genuinely felt. Alfred Russell Wallace, fr example, is 90. Lord Halsbury is 87. Lord Roberts is 80. Lord Morley is 74, Sir Hiram Maxim 73, and Thomas Hardy 72. Then we have Lord Wemyss, still a universally popular figure in the second Chamber, and still wonderfully active at 94 years of age. Lord Strathcona is 92, but he is still Canada's representative and still makes periodical appearances, and speeches, too, at public functions. Another Canadian, the ex-Premier, Sir Charles Tupper, who is 91, arrived blithely in London to-day, quite unperturbed by the discomforts of the Atlantic. There are many others, old men who united with their prerogative of the wisdom of age a wonderful capacity of physical vigour. In view of them it is easy to understand the pronouncements of the veterans this week, and easy, too, for the others of us to take consolation from their cheerful faith in themselves.

Cricket.

The English cricket season began this week. At least it was to have begun, and it would have begun under anything like congenial circumstances. But it has rained this week—all this week. It often rains here. Just now it seems as though it rains here always. It has rained every day for quite a time, and as one result, at Lord's, at the Oval, and at most other grounds where the county competition was to have been inaugurated, "no play" has been hung across the closed gates. Within, the sides, and other persons officially interested, sit for hours in the pavilions gazing at a gloomy sky, and speculating as to whether the last drizzling shower is the end of it, or only one of yesterday's brand signalling more to follow. The newspapers have already begun to instruct their readers that it is "a wet spring," an announcement one would scarcely have thought worth while really. But if this coming one should prove a wet summer, in any degree resembling last year's, then may it be confidently expected that even the philosophic Englishman will turn and rend his capricious climate. Moreover, if it should prove a wet summer, the condition of the English county cricket clubs will be serious. Last year staggered some of them at their financial bases; they are in urgent need of recovery by public support of them. That is one reason why, this week, there is tacit admission that the game of cricket really must be developed into a public interest, and why there is voluminous discussion going on as to what is wrong with it, and why people no longer patronise it as once they did. One evening newspaper is offering prizes for letters advancing the best reasons why the writers thereof no longer attend cricket matches. So far their reasons vary in detail, but agree in pronouncing present-day cricket as a dull business for the spectator. Narrowed down to reasons in chief, they amount to two—waste of time by the players, and slow batting. However that may be, it is certain that the British public is somehow or other agreed that the game wants reorganising. The constant change of the field between short overs, the susceptibility of the players to a mild shower of rain, the tendency of batsmen both to play break bowling with their pads, and to decline risks for the sake of runs—all these are causes which are more and more antagonising the spectator. How they are to be obviated is the problem, but at least it can be said that the authorities here are now fully alive to cricket's decline in attractiveness for the public, and that something or other will very likely be done with a view to lessen its solemnity and restore it to its rightful place as a great game.

ARE YOU TAKING

an everyday care of yourself? Prevention, you know, is ever so much better than cure. A little irregularity of the stomach seems such a trivial thing to-day, but next week it is a malady, ever getting more serious; little ailments soon become big complaints. Cure that little irregularity at once. Neglect it, and it leads swiftly to dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulence, constipation, biliousness, headache, and perhaps a train of greater evils. Even these will yield to

BEECHAM'S PILLS

But why run the risk of so much suffering? What folly to delay—waiting till one is ill. A dose of these famous pills, taken whenever the least weariness is experienced, will effectually prevent any unpleasant developments. Don't wait till you have to be cured. Take an everyday care of yourself; remember always if you keep the bowels regular and the liver in working order you will never be troubled with indigestion and its attendant miseries. "Taking care," of course, means that the standard remedy must be always at hand. In many thousands of home BEECHAM'S PILLS are regarded as the family medicine, and are kept in an appointed place always ready for use. When you notice a symptom you want to get rid of it at once; there is no time like the present. To be always prepared, you, too, must keep a box of these famous pills

AT HOME.

EDUCATION.

THE UNIVERSITY SENATE.

At the last meeting of the University Senate the recommendations of the professorial board for an alteration in the terms in 1914, with a view to affording facilities to the members of the teaching staff to attend the meetings of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, were adopted, as follows:—(1) That in 1914 the June vacation be shortened by one week, the lectures of Trinity term to commence on Tuesday, June 9, instead of on Monday, June 15. (2) That Trinity term consist of nine weeks, instead of ten weeks, the lectures terminating on Saturday, August 8, instead of Saturday, August 22. (3) That the examinations in medicine and engineering, appointed to be held in the last week of the term, be held in the last week of the amended term thus constituted. It was further resolved that Michaelmas term be increased by one week, and that it be referred to the professorial board to report whether such addition should be at the beginning or at the end of the term.

A letter was received from the University of Adelaide, suggesting that a congress of Australian universities should be held during 1913 for the consideration of certain subjects of common interest. It was resolved to cooperate in the proposal and to suggest that the conference should be held in August this year.

AMERICAN METHODS.

Mr. Edward Jordan, M.A., B.Sc., senior mathematical master of King's School, gave an interesting account of the education system in California at the last meeting of the New South Wales Teachers' Guild. The lecturer dealt at length with the increasing tendency of the State to assist itself in education, and outlined the attitude of the American public towards education as the chief means of national greatness. He stated that no expenditure is spared to provide the means for this end, and thus California has free schools from kindergarten to university. California is about half the size of New South Wales, and has a population of two million. As against the 40 secondary schools in New South Wales, California has over 200 State high schools and three universities, the latter totalling 4500 students. A comparison between these figures is interesting. It gives New South Wales for every thousand inhabitants one student at the university and six pupils at the secondary school, while California has three students at the university and twenty pupils at the high schools. The part the universities in California play in the training of men and women for other walks of life than the usual professions was dealt with. Mr. Jordan stated that no high school can employ a teacher who has not at least a university degree, with six months' graduate study in addition, together with two years' teaching experience at elementary or practice schools. The training of the future citizens of the State is regarded as a serious undertaking, and those who handle it must be specialists. Entrance to the university is not by a series of "cram" examinations, but by an accrediting system of schools, by which headmasters of approved high schools can nominate students who have covered successfully a prescribed course of four years and passed the school tests. Subsequent failure on the part of such students means their dismissal by the university and the loss of the right of nomination to the schools concerned. All through the university course the student is kept up to the mark. The survival of the fittest is the dominant note, and the student must make the most of the opportunities provided free by the various agencies, or else make way for those who can and will use the advantages so generously provided.

The lecturer concluded his address with an interesting description of the various ways in which many of the university students of moderate means work their way through the different courses to a degree. The summer vacation provides funds for many men and girls, who amongst other things accept positions at the fashionable summer resorts as waiters and waitresses. This is a tribute to the true spirit of American democracy, the right of brain-workers to earn their living in other ways without fear of class prejudice, and to the firm belief in the dignity of honest labour. One cannot but admire the earnestness of those who realise the value to them of a first-class education, and who will leave no stone unturned in its attainment.

TEACHERS' UNION.

At the last meeting of the Public School Teachers' Union, the president (Mr. R. A. Shields) outlined a modified scheme of superannuation based on contributions as at and under 35 years of age. That is to say, the 1912 scheme to be accepted as it stands for all up to age of 35, and for those aged over 35 now, contributions for a pension up to £2 a week to be paid as laid down for age 35. The advantages of such a scheme, it was stated, will be manifest to everybody, because for a pension of £2 a week the cost to contributors over 35 years of age will be less than a shilling a day, and for those under 35 the contributions will be considerably less on a descending scale according to age.

A communication was received from the South Australian Teachers' Union, inviting delegates to a conference at Adelaide, beginning on June 30. Two delegates were appointed, and it was decided to apply to the Minister of Public Instruction for railway passes and the necessary leave to allow the delegates to attend.

OLD BOYS' UNION.

At the annual meeting of the Fort-street Old Boys' Union, the following were elected office-bearers:—Patron, Mr. J. W. Turner; president, Mr. A. J. Kilgour, B.A., LL.B.; vice-presidents, Messrs. C. A. Macintosh, Hyam Hains, Q. L. Deloitte, W. H. Mason, Dr. O. Bohrsman, Mr. P. R. Watts, A. J. Hare, and A. C. W. Still; hon. secretary, Dr. A. J. Collins; hon. assistant secretary, Mr. J. Malcolm; hon. treasurer, Mr. L. V. Harris. committee, Messrs. H. Brown, J. R. Bardsley, O. Hughes, S. A. Macintosh, E. Booth, Holmes, Thomas, Welch, and Whitney; hon. auditors, Messrs. H. V. Evatt and D. Stafford. The secretary, in his annual report, stated that the year had been a record one for the union. Not only was the membership a record, but all the functions which had been held during the year had proved great successes.

LAID UP BY BILIOUS BOUTS.

COULD NOT KEEP FOOD ON HER STOMACH.

A PERMANENT CURE BY BILE BEANS.

A typical example of the way in which Bile Beans defeat sickness and restore complete health and strength is the case of Mrs. Charlotte Moore, Prospect-street, off Erskineville-road, Macdonaldtown, Sydney, who says:—

"For a long time I suffered acutely from indigestion and biliousness. The combination of these two evils rendered my life almost unbearable. Fits of vomiting followed one after another, while bile got into my blood, and turned my skin yellow. These bilious bouts laid me up for days together, and I could not keep any food on my stomach. Flatulence caused my heart's action to become very weak, while pains between the shoulders were simply terrific. For days together I was laid up. Life seemed a burden, and although I was medically treated my suffering did not cease.

"However, I commenced to take Bile Beans, and soon obtained relief from the awful pains. As the course continued I became brighter, and all the bilious symptoms left me. I kept on with Bile Beans until my health was completely restored. It is three years since Bile Beans cured me, and I can recommend them to other sufferers with every confidence."

Bile Beans are excellent for constipation, biliousness, headache, liver trouble, piles, indigestion, stomach disorders, flatulence, nausea, vomiting, impure blood, liver chill, rheumatism, lack of energy, general debility, anaemia, and other ailments. Sold by all medicine vendors and storekeepers at 1/1½ per box, or large family size, containing three times the quantity, 2/9.—Advt.

This Woman Suffered acutely after Every Meal with Indigestion, and life became a burden. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured her.

The increased blood supply, which is so quickly in evidence after a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is commenced, gives tone to the nerves, muscles and glands of the stomach, and cures Indigestion. This case is typical.

"My health failed and I lost my appetite," said Miss Ada Hastings, Ellina Street, Maryborough, Queensland. "After a meal, food lay very heavy on my chest and sent a pain right through from the end of the breast bone to the shoulder blades. Sometimes for an hour at a time I felt quite suffocated. I never had a fancy for any food and I fell away and got very thin. My friends hardly knew me and none of my clothes would fit. Headaches, too, came on, and I felt miserably low-spirited and lacking in energy and strength. Every morning my tongue was coated and there was such a nasty taste in my mouth. My skin turned quite sallow. My heart beat so fast and irregular that I had to stop and rest every few minutes if I were out. For some weeks I was away from business. At last through the advice of a friend I tried a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they cured me completely. Before I took them I dare not eat anything rich, but by degrees my digestion grew strong again and I can now take what I like; the chest pains eased off and I gained flesh and got a healthy color. I have never been troubled since."

Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Bloodlessness, Indigestion, Rheumatism and Nervous Complaints because they have cured these disorders. Price 2s. 9d. per box, six boxes 15s. 3d. of all dealers or from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. of Australasia, Ltd., Sydney.

BUILDINGS AND WORKS.

PROGRESS OF THE TRADE.

COUNTRY HOSPITAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The foundation-stone of the Newcastle Hospital will be laid on June 14. It will be a very fine structure, and will cost about £66,000. There will be three separate pavilions, with spaces of 50ft between each, which will be connected by covered ways. The building will have a frontage of 250ft to Pacific-street. The central pavilion will be the administrative block, and the northern and southern pavilions will contain the wards. The buildings will be three stories in height, with the exception of the northern pavilion, which, on account of the slope of the ground, will be four stories in height. The northern pavilion will be used for male patients. It will be 158ft in length, by 48ft in width, and will be divided into six wards, each containing 20 beds, and there will also be three wards of 16 beds each. On all floors there will be private wards of one bed each. Attached to the wards are duty rooms, linen-rooms, and patients' day rooms. The wards will be surrounded by wide verandahs. In the basement will be the outpatients' department, with dispensary, doctors' rooms, waiting rooms, and rooms for examination and dressings.

The southern wing will be divided up into six wards for women. Three of the wards will be for 20 beds and three for 10 beds each. In addition there will be private wards. This block will be 164ft long and 48ft wide. There will also be duty and day rooms similar to those in the northern pavilion, and wide verandahs. The administrative block will provide various rooms for the officers of the hospital, waiting-rooms for patients, and casualty rooms. The nurses' quarters will be placed on the top floor of this pavilion.

The building throughout will be constructed of fire-resisting materials, with floors of concrete. A separate fire-resisting staircase will be provided for each pavilion, also a bed elevator.

The construction of the walls will be in brick, relieved with stone dressings. In order to build the new hospital the existing hospital buildings will have to be demolished, but the intention is to erect the northern pavilion first to house the patients. The present laundry and kitchen blocks will be allowed to remain. The work is being started by day labour, but after the initial stages are through it is intended to call for tenders to erect the super structures.

The mining township of Cessnock is also to have a new hospital, which is estimated to cost £4500, but when the whole design is carried out the total cost will be much higher. At present it is intended to erect the male and female wards, the administrative block, and the isolation wards, leaving the kitchen block and nurses' quarters to follow as soon as funds are available. Each ward will provide for 20 beds, with a couple of small wards of three beds each. The building will be erected on the northern side of the town. The hospital will be of brick, with a tile roof, and finished to an attractive design.

The mining centre of Coledale, near Wollongong, is also to be provided with a hospital, which is estimated to cost £2500. It is not intended to erect the whole of the buildings just now. As a beginning, half the wards are to be constructed, together with the administrative rooms in the centre. The operating theatre will also be built, and kitchen, laundry, and dining-room block, together with out-patients' department. These will be connected with the main pavilions by means of covered-in ways. There will be 12ft verandahs running right round the wards. There will also be private wards, and a sitting-room for the matron. When the completed design is carried out at a future date, the Coledale Hospital will be a very fine institution.

Under the supervision of the Government Architect's Department, Mr. O. M. Mitchell is erecting a new hospital at Moree. The contract is for £5997, but extras will bring the total to over £6000. The building is of brick, with an iron roof. The administrative block, which has been placed in the centre, contains private wards, a dispensary, duty room, operating room, and offices. The two main wards are each 44ft x 24ft. Ten-foot verandahs run right round the wards. At the rear is the kitchen block, and the domestic offices. These are connected with the main building by covered ways. The hospital is being erected in Alice-street.

Last week Mr. F. Flowers opened the new wing of the Dubbo Hospital, which was erected at a cost of over £1800. The work was carried out by day labour. The additions consist of a new ward, 43ft x 23ft, with provision for 10 beds. Verandahs 8ft wide run right round the wards. Two private wards, each 16ft x 12ft, have been erected. The institution is now complete, with the administrative block in the centre, and flanked with the male ward in the right, and the female ward on the left.

SALVATION ARMY.

ANNUAL CONGRESS.

A heavy programme is now being carried out in connection with the Salvation Army's annual congress. Last Friday in the morning and afternoon there were two sessions of the officers in council, which were conducted by Commissioner Hay and his wife. Thirty open-air meetings were held. At night, at the Congress Hall, an all-night meeting took place. This lasted from 11 o'clock till 5.15 a.m. on Saturday. There was a 20-minutes' break for refreshments at 2 a.m.

On Saturday afternoon there was a meeting of local officers and bandsmen. Commissioner Hay opened a new Salvation Army Hall at Campsie, which will hold about 250. On Saturday night a Young People's demonstration at the Congress Hall was very largely attended, the doors being closed to the exclusion of hundreds who wished to attend. A diversified and interesting programme was supplied by 500 trained children.

On Sunday meetings were held at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. In addition to the ordinary ministrations of the Army, special gatherings were held in three centres. At the Congress Hall, at 8 p.m., a densely-crowded meeting took place. Col. Hammond (from London), Commissioner Hay and Mrs. Hay, Col. Hoskin, and others were present. Col. Palston at Newtown, and Col. Horskins at Leichhardt conducted all-day meetings.

SHIRE COUNCILS.

GUNNING.—The shire council is taking steps to have the speed of motor cars passing through the shire on the Great Southern-road limited to 15 miles an hour. An application will be made to the Minister for permission to erect discs along the route warning motorists.

MUSWELLBROOK.—The engineer's report, read at the meeting of the council, estimated the cost of repairs of the damage caused by the recent floods to be £487, exclusive of [illegible] washed ou crossings at Baerami and Widden creeks.

BLOTCHES COVERED NECK AND FACE.

"7 Hardy-street, East Brunswick, Vic.—Some months ago I began to feel a small red spot on the side of my neck, which spread rapidly till it covered my neck and face with large red blotches, and was very irritating. I tried several ointments and bathing it, but they did no good. Then I tried various other treatments recommended to me, but it seemed not a bit better.

"I then noticed the free sample advertisement of Cuticura Ointment in a weekly paper and I applied and got same. After using the sample I seemed to feel much easier, so I procured a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap, and after using them for a couple of weeks I am glad to say the trouble died away completely, and I have had no return of it since. My mother was so pleased with my cure that she gets the Cuticura Ointment for any sores that any of the family get." (Signed) Donald Smith, March, 1912.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a sample of each, with 32-page Skin Book, will be mailed free on application to R. Towns and Co., Dept. M., Sydney.—N.S.W.—Advt.

The bells may ring the Old Year out,
Or ring the New Year in:
Men will make vows to maidens fair,
And promise to begin
A new career in every way,
And make their lives secure,
By taking for their own health's sake
Woods' Great Peppermint Cure.—Advt.

A MESALLIANCE.

BY KATHERINE TYNAN.

[ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.]

CHAPTER XXV.

Avis was wont to say afterwards, twitting her young husband, that there had been just one little time in her life when she had been half tempted to regret her choice between Bretherton and him. That was during the journey between Woodhay and Nunsholme, when Bretherton overwhelmed her with a serious and tender kindness, which was half contrition, because of his leaping pulses and joyful heart. Even on her wedding journey, she could scarcely receive a more assiduous kindness. They had had it out, she and Bretherton. She had sobbed her contrition, mopping away the rivulet of tears that would not be stayed, because Fate had ordained that she must love Jim Douglas, and not him who was her benefactor, who had deserved all she could give him; and the man had stood by, feeling an intolerable hypocrite, while he tried to soothe her with tender words and phrases.

In the end he had concluded that to be honest was best. He remembered he was taking Avis to the woman he adored. It was not likely that his adoration would not be patent to the girl's eyes. He had indeed no idea of holding it in check. He was eager to show it to all the world.

So at last he had taken Avis's face by the chin, tilting it a little, so as to look into her eyes, while she tried vainly to escape from him.

"Little Avis," he said, "do you think there are no cakes and ale left in the world for anyone, because you must have your share?" The tears dropped, and her eyes became inquiring.

"What do you mean by that?" she asked in wonder.

He had no intention of telling her the whole truth, which must be for ever concealed from her.

"Supposing, Avis," he said, "supposing that Mrs. Adams, in her kindness, had told each of us a pretty similar story?"

"Oh!" It was a long "Oh!" as though the revelation of his meaning came to her slowly. "You mean . . . .?"

He stooped and laid a light affectionate kiss on her satin smooth cheek of youth.

"I don't know why I should have believed it," he said—"that your golden youth should care for my grey hairs."

"Oh! Adams told you that! And she told me that you were dreadfully in love with me, and that I owed so much to you that I must make you happy. What on earth put such things into her head? And she told you that I was in love with you, and that you must marry me or I should die. What an old goose! And what a mess we might have made of it through listening to her. But"—her face took a musing look—"I can't understand Adams,—for lately it has all been Jim with her. I thought it was because she found out I cared for him."

"And were breaking your heart at the prospect of marrying me?"

"Oh not that!" said Avis in a shocked voice, her cheeks deepening their roses. "Not that. But Adams was very strange. She even suggested our going back to London quietly; and that Jim should come up afterwards and we could be married. I was frightened of that, although—I might have done it if Jim had asked me. But he didn't. He said we must run straight. I know how right he was. Even Jim wouldn't have made up for my treating you like a pig."

"Ah, I am glad Jim said you must run straight. He would with that face—wouldn't he?" They passed easily from Mrs. Adams's motives. Doubtless she had worked in her ignorant and tortuous way for what she believed to be her young mistress's happiness.

"I am glad you are not going to be unhappy. Even Jim would not make up to me for that."

Upon the word he had confessed.

"I hope I am going to be exquisitely happy, Avis," he said, and his face was like the face of a boy—not a bit legal now, but flushed with happiness, eager with anticipation.

"Oh! There is someone else. What a vain little fool I have been to think you cared."

"I must have cared, Avis, if I had not been preoccupied," he said, and kissed her hand.

They walked over from Nunsholme to Littlecombe, arriving about half-past 4 in the afternoon. It was a check to be told that Mrs. Harding had just gone out. His falling face moved old Bastable to further information.

"She's gone towards the dairy, Sir, with old Bruce. If you was to follow her across the park and through the spinney you might come up with her. If not you'll find her at the dairy; you can't miss her."

"You'll take care of this young lady and give her some tea."

Bastable had sent Avis many curious glances.

"I'll ask cook to send up a good tea for the young lady, sir. You've come a journey, haven't you, sir?"

He went off, leaving Avis in Bastable's care, going out by the French windows of the drawing-room across the lawn, down the terraces, walking discreetly while he was in sight of the windows, running like a happy boy when no eyes were upon him. If some of his acquaintances and friends in London could have seen him as he ran! And his face that had shed the vestige of its responsible early middle-age and was the face of a young lover! What boy's passion could be like his?—his own passion—for his heart had been singularly untouched, and he had a clean record to carry to the one woman.

In the clearing of the coppice he found her sitting on the very self-same tree on which they had sat last February and again in May. He came lightly over the springing turf. She did not hear him. She was sitting in an attitude that carried to his mind a suggestion of forlornness, her elbows resting on her knees, her cheeks propped in her hands. The old dog was watching her unhappily till he was aware of Bretherton's presence, when he came to him with a wagging tail. Her eyes looked straight before her at the dark screen of leaves in front. She had not noticed the dog's greeting of him. He stood to watch her. The ground was carpeted with wild thyme. He recognised its sharp sweetness as he trod it under foot.

Suddenly she turned about and saw him. At the suddenness the colour suffused her face. The grave tenderness of her expression was broken up, merged, transmuted into a wild joy.

"You!" she said. "I thought you were not coming back."

He knelt down beside her, and again the pungent sweetness of wild thyme was in his nostrils.

"Lizzie," he said, "I have brought Avis Bourne to you. I have left her at Littlecombe while I came on here. I want you to give her shelter and protection—a motherless girl—till she can have another protector."

Her face changed. Her eyes did not fall before his.

"Miss Bourne will be very welcome, Ralph," she said. "I am very glad you have brought her to me. I am sorry I was out when you came."

"And I am glad you were out," he said, his passion rising, "for I wanted to have you to myself."

He watched her face for a second, holding himself in check. He had a certain cruel pleasure in seeing how she suffered for him. Her lips had fallen into their old lines of patient endurance, but her eyes smiled at him bravely.

"You may trust her with me, indeed, Ralph," she said. "It is right that she should be married from Littlecombe Hall. Edward would be pleased if he could know. Is she very pretty, Ralph?"

The woman's question on the lips of the simple and noble creature touched and delighted him.

"I think her very pretty," he said. "You will judge for yourself."

"And loving, Ralph? I've often wanted a young thing to love me."

He was tempted to play with her a little longer, to hear the sadness in her voice, and to see the shadow in her eyes, knowing that any happy second he, her lover, could chase them away and bring a happy confusion in their stead.

"You shall ask Mr. Jim Douglas," he said. "I've no doubt he finds Avis very loving. He is the youth of her choice."

"But——"

"I heartily endorse her choice. We shall hurry on their happiness, you and I, having secured our own. Oh, Lizzie, my one woman, that child didn't want me nor I her. I have came to my mate, the woman God made for me."

As he flung his arms about her and buried his face in her breast he was aware of the crushed sweetness of wild thyme, and knew that there was a spray of it in her bosom. Her arms were about his neck and her cheek on his hair, since for the first time the woman in her was come awake, and she had the sipsy way of love.

THE END.

BOUGHT A BOTTLE.

"I had pains in my legs which the doctor said was rheumatism," writes Mr. Robt. Cochrane, builder, Waimiha, N.Z. "His lotion did me no good, and I suffered misery. I saw a friend using some liniment, which he told me was Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and offered me his bottle to try it. It did me so much good that I bought a bottle myself, and was soon free of all pains."—Advt.

FARM AND STATION.

FRUIT SPECIALISTS.

This is the age of specialising. In the same way that specialising governs manufacturing, so it is becoming a necessary essential to the successful conduct of primary industries. An industry which requires the attention of a specialist probably more than any other is that of fruit-growing. We have not, except in a few instances—any orchards solely devoted to the cultivation of any particular variety of fruit, with the result that at least 90 per cent. of our orchardists are living from year to year in a sort of experimental base, from which they emerge at the end of the fruit season as often on the wrong side of the ledger as not. It must be seen that it is quite impossible to properly attend to a hundred apple trees or so while another part of the orchard devoted to peaches is ripening its fruit, which must be attended to in quite a different manner, whether the orchardist likes it or no. An orchard containing a dozen varieties of fruit requires—but, of course, never receives—the attention of a dozen different pairs of hands, and that is where the whole trouble lies. The grower is harvesting fruit from early spring until late in autumn in small quantities, which cost almost as much to handle, if not more, and with a far lesser profit than would be the case if his holding were planted with one variety particularly suited to his district. The Californian Government at the present time is setting out a number of experiment orchards of a couple of acres in extent in almost every district in that State, with the object of determining the particular variety of fruit best suited to that locality. Their object is to impress upon growers the necessity for specialising in varieties suited to local conditions of soil, climate, etc.

An American orchardist who visited this State a few months ago inspected some of our fruit districts, and in one of them he noticed that pears in particular thrived well, but the growers did not specialise in this fruit in any way, and nearly every orchard was made up of from half a dozen to a dozen sorts. The visitor was astonished that the growers did not devote their energies entirely to the fruit which did so well in their locality, and he advised them to cut every other fruit out of their holdings and go in solely for pears. When informed that possibly they would meet a "glut" in the pear season if they did this, he wanted to know what was wrong with a cannery. If, he explained, they had a thousand acres of pears in the district a cannery would come whether they wanted it or no, and when it did come they would find that there was no such word as a "glut," and that their areas would be doubly as profitable as they are at the present time. This is certainly good advice, because as things are in this State at present, no cannery could live in any one district, for the simple reason that there would not be sufficient fruit of one variety to make a decent output of that brand. There are many of our areas which are highly productive peach soils, and which would probably return an average of from seventy to a hundred pounds per acre under a specialised system of cultivation. This means that the growers would have to confine their attentions solely to the cultivation of peaches, and, instead of each grower marketing a hundred boxes or so, along with a couple of hundred boxes of apples, about the same quantity of plums, and so on, extending over many months of the year, he would be busily engaged for a short time only in disposing of a single product from his holding. It would be easy for the growers to establish in their midst a small peach cannery to take the surplus quantity of peaches. Under this system not only would there be absolutely no waste, but, because of the fact that there would be some thousands of cases ready for railage to the city on successive days for some weeks, the Railway Commissioners would probably provide special fruit trains for rapid conveyance to market. As it is in our fruit centres the products of the orchard mostly just dribble through to the market in comparatively small quantities at uncertain dates through the spring and summer months. It is largely because of this heterogenous collection of fruits throughout our State that the average production per acre has been reduced during the last decade from 1058 dozens to an average of 650 dozens in fruit, and, in a lesser degree, the returns from vineyards from 5 tons of grapes per acre to 1¼ ton. The sooner we see the last of our mixed orchards the better it will be for the industry and the State, and the department should endeavour to decide as closely as possible which varieties are suitable to certain districts, and impress upon local orchardists the enormous benefits of cultivating the suitable variety only.

ENGLISH WOOL TRADE.

PRICES AT BEST POINT.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

BRADFORD, May 9.

The sales are over. Coleman-street has pronounced its verdict, and all buyers are away home. After being present 14 selling days, and dealing with 130,000 bales, the majority felt they had had enough, and were glad to leave for more agreeable scenes. It must be said that the auctions were characterised by a very good buying spirit throughout, and no one could sit in the Exchange without feeling that the trade still possessed inherent strength, for nothing hung fire. Really speaking, no new feature presented itself as the auctions came to a finish, the attendance of buyers remaining satisfactory right to the close. Nothing could be picked up under previous rates, and I thought that here and there rates were paid during the last three days which were in excess of the previous week. The raw material being taken so freely shows that the trade has still faith in the future, and the brighter outlook on the Continent has, no doubt, had something to do with both French and German buyers operating a little more freely than during the earlier part of the series. Russia did not buy as extensively as in March, while one important buyer from Switzerland never put in an appearance. What really was wanting was more competition on the part of America and one or two of the smaller Continental countries, but when all is said and done the series passed off well, and if higher prices cannot be chronicled, the fact of wool selling well at firm prices is a creditable performance in view of the many disturbing elements which had to be faced. It has needed great faith in the future to inspire big importing houses to increase their obligations in face of the heavy stocks which they had at home, but this has been done readily.

EVIDENCES OF STRENGTH.

The recent series of auctions have occasionally furnished a little irregularity, but for the sound combing wools there has been a steady persistent call throughout the entire series. It is this fact which has impressed itself most strongly upon the trade. No doubt merinos still remain in the forefront of the wool trade, and are to-day the more popular article. This is mostly due to the shortage of supplies, together with the continued soundness of the home trade, which still absorbs tremendous weights of merino wool. What really gives strength and tone to crossbreds is the large export demand for yarns and pieces, but when dealing with merinos we have to look to the increased spending power of Great Britain's population. During the recent auctions the writer has spent some time in looking into clothiers' windows at the West End and in the city in order to see what is being shown for the coming summer season's trade. This is the time of the year when tailors and clothiers enjoy their greatest spell of trade, and some very nice things indeed are being displayed. The principal shades are greys, browns, and blues, but the fact which is most evident is that in nearly every case fine merino wool is what the fabrics are made from. Here we have the explanation why merinos are to-day in the front rank, and if higher values cannot be quoted when compared with the close of the March auctions we are satisfied that prices are firm, and wool in good demand.

HOW LEADING CLIPS SELL.

During the course of the auctions several clips have been sold twice, and the day before the series finished a well-known red earthy New South Wales clip was disposed of, part of which had been offered the first week of the series. The following shows what the wools realised when they were twice offered, and also I give a well-known leading Queensland clip, which again illustrates the course of the market:—

CROSSBREDS FREELY ABSORBED.

Something like 80,000 bales of crossbreds have been catalogued. Prices have been firm and steady from first to last, and apart from fine half-breds, selling brokers are reporting values on a level with the closing rates of the March auctions. Some are disposed to think that occasionally they made a fraction more, but this I cannot see. My own opinion is that crossbred wool generally has sold freely, and made satisfactory prices. Keener competition from the Continent and America was needed to prompt the home trade to pay more money, and this they have not done. All we say is that values have remained very firm, wool selling freely at March closing prices. Sliped crossbreds have done splendidly, due as much to their scarcity as to the urgent needs of users. When good half-bred lambs are selling from 17d to 17½d, it shows that they are a popular article, even the stronger descriptions making anywhere from 14d to 15d, but the most surprising thing of all is the way seconds and thirds have been disposed of, these making anywhere from 12d to 13d, while even "pan bottoms" as some Yorkshire buyers call them, i.e., wools very poor, small in staple, and limey, made anywhere up to 10½d.

SUPPLIES AND DELIVERIES.

Yesterday Dalgety's cabled their figures showing the exports of wool from Australia and New Zealand for the first ten months of the current wool year, and to find that the shipments are larger, and there is a decline in the shortage compared with the figures a month ago has given the trade something to think about regarding the anticipated deficiency of 300,000 bales. The majority are beginning to think that it is very unlikely that these figures will be realised, and at present there are no signs of consuming centres being hard up for wool. As a matter of fact, there is on all hands big supplies available, but as next December will have to arrive before any weight of new clip merinos are available, we anticipate no difficulty in dealing with the wool on hand and in sight. It is certain that the shortage question has to a large extent dropped into the background during the past month. With a prospect of easier money, and the brighter outlook in the regard to the Balkan difficulty, many believe that after the holidays things will improve. No doubt there is room for some relief, particularly on the financial side of the question, and after the London sales big amounts will have to be found to meet prompts. Although something like eight weeks have to elapse before the next auctions are upon the trade, there are 200,000 bales estimated as the quantity likely to be available, so there is little sign of any shortage. In my past two letters I have emphasised the important part which the home trade was playing in Coleman-street, and for the second time this year they have bought double the quantity taken by the Continent. At the recent auctions 187,000 bales are available, of which 139,000 bales have been sold, the home trade taking 93,000 bales, the Continent 45,000 bales and the United States 1000 bales, leaving 48,000 bales to be carried forward to the next series. Messrs. H. Schwartze and Co. say that the total deliveries to the trade, including transit wools and direct imports up to the end of the recent auctions are as follows:—Home consumption, 735,000 bales; Continent, 1,149,000 bales; America, 39,000 bales; total, 1,923,000 bales.

BRADFORD MARKET STEADY.

Conditions in Bradford did not show a great deal of change compared with a week ago. The finish in London has created a favourable impression, the majority being satisfied with the sound standing of the raw material. It cannot be said that the market is active, though the tone is very good, and in the aggregate an average weight of business is being put through. Still no spinner seems to be disposed to buy largely on forward account, the majority entertaining the opinion that they will do fully as well by waiting. We understand that a good 64's top can to-day be secured at 2s 6d, though we know instances of ½d more being made during the week. Topmakers are prepared to sell, providing they can get anything like these prices, but anything under half a crown is scouted. Most people feel that the situation is sound, although at the moment there is nothing to indicate any higher values. Big deliveries of tops are being made, most combers are very busy, particularly in Botany qualities, and on the whole the market can be called steady and firm without a big weight of new business passing. Crossbred topmakers are doing the most complaining, although here some average sales have been put through during the week, mostly in carded descriptions. It is rather noteworthy that 36's tops are almost as dear as 40's prepared, due mostly to the scarcity of the former.

MEAT EXPORT TRADE.

CONTINENTAL CONSIGNMENTS.

FIGHT IN THE CHILLED BEEF BUSINESS.

LONDON, May 9.

Consignments of some eight to ten thousand carcases of Australian mutton, brought by the Oberhausen, and dressed to comply with the German regulations, have been landed and marketed in Germany with great success. The meat carried in first-class condition, and gave every satisfaction. The bulk came from New South Wales, but about 2500 carcases were from South Australia, half of that number being shipped by the South Australian Government. As to these latter, there is a repeat order, which cannot be complied with for the present. The prices obtained for the mutton were just about London parity; this, of course, makes the business more difficult in view of the extra expense involved in the preparation of the meat. The next shipment is by the Hobart, due at the end of the month. The regularity of these consignments to Germany must depend upon the prices in London, for as long as Australia gets a good market here shippers will feel less inclination to seek others, particularly when extra trouble, and therefore expense, is involved.

A statement has been made that New Zealand meat is going to France.

On the home markets the feature has been the large quantities of South American chilled meat coming in in consequence of the tearing up of the agreement to send regular weekly quantities. The idea seems to be for the American firms to cut out British firms, and the game will go on until everybody gets tired of it. That it cannot last is evident, for there has been a loss of quite £1 on every hindquarter of chilled beef sold this week. It is the Americans who have overshipped; but they, of course, are not the only losers. There has been a fair demand at Smithfield for all descriptions of meat, but the heavy marketings of chilled beef brought about a sharp fall in that class of goods. At the moment, however, sellers find that they have oversold in the case of hindquarters, and so values for these, for the time being, have advanced again. The market is oversupplied with forequarters, and prices for these have reached a very low level. This has had the effect of curtailing the demand for frozen beef to a considerable extent; and here again values have fallen considerably. A continuance of these low levels for chilled beef, and therefore for frozen, is looked for for the next few weeks in consequence of still heavier quantities arriving.

Frozen mutton continues to be of exceptionally slow sale, and it is only in consequence of the comparatively light stocks that recent prices have been able to be maintained. Frozen lambs, however, as is usual during the week preceding Whitsuntide, have met with good inquiry, and it has not been a difficult matter to maintain recent high prices. Chilled beef, hinds are to-day 2/10 to 3/, having been as low as 2/6. Chilled fores are 1/8 to 1/10. It is rather difficult to give a close quotation for frozen beef, in consequence of sellers showing every anxiety to cash their commitments wherever possible. Australian frozen hinds can be bought as low as 1/11 to 2/2, and crops 1/10 to 1/11. Argentine hinds, frozen, are 2/3, and fores 1/11. New Zealand hinds 2/4, and fores 1/11. Argentine mutton is 2/7 to 2/9; New Zealand, 2/7 to 3/, according to weight and quality, and 2/5 to 2/6 for ewes; Australian wethers are 2/6, and 2/5 ewes. Frozen lambs, Canterburys, are 4/8 for under 42lb, and 4/3 for over 42lb. Wellington and ordinary North Islands are ½d to ¾d under the last quotation given. Australian lambs are worth 4/ to 4/2.

The Port of London Authority has completed arrangements with regard to a site for clearing sheds and store for refrigerated meat, the expenditure upon which is estimated at £270,000. The scheme includes the erection of two-storied sheds and a cold store, capable of containing 250,000 carcases of sheep. Meat ordered to be landed is to be taken by the conveyor, direct from the ship's hold to the insulated sorting shed, or cold store, provision being made for the immediate delivery of carcases to craft, road, or rail. It is hoped the new sheds and the cold store will be ready, and equipped, by the end of 1914, and that the remainder of the additional accommodation will be completed by September, 1915.

DAIRYING INDUSTRY.

LONDON BUTTER MARKET.

INCREASING SUPPLIES—LOWER VALUES.

LONDON, May 9.

There has been a general decline in the price of all kinds of butter in every country in Europe, including the United Kingdom. This is due to the coming of spring, and the naturally increasing supplies. Danish and Scandinavian butter, in Manchester, fell on Tuesday, from 5/ to 6/ per cwt, and the market was not cleared at this reduction. Australian and New Zealand butters have not fallen to the same degree up to the present, but ultimately they will have to come down, proportionately, to rates existing for all butters competing with them in the British markets. During the last six weeks, though there have been spells of cold weather, on the whole, it has been a growing time for the pastures; and there is every prospect of large crops of grass as well as hay. In addition to the butter now on the market, the shipments from Australia are increasing. A little time ago it was thought that the shipments would cease. Last week over 40,000 boxes, according to advices, were shipped from Australia alone, while arrivals consisted of over 50,500 boxes. This, in the ordinary course, makes more certain the prediction that much Australian butter will have to be cold-stored until the autumn. Prospects for shippers, therefore, are anything but pleasant. I was told this week of one factory in New South Wales that had cabled stating that their estimate of butter shipments must be doubled.

Agents on this side are talking of reducing their advances against consignments from Australia to 8d per lb for best butter, and it is stated that this is all that Australia can reasonably expect. In addition to the 8d advance c.i.f. London, there is, of course 1/8 per cwt landing charges, from 2/6 to 3/ for commission, and cold storage will probably cost another 2/6 to 3/6 per cwt, while depreciation in quality will reduce the price at which the butter is ultimately sold. Agents here, therefore, are not looking forward with any amount of pleasure to these large supplies coming forward from Australia. A good deal of it, as regards quality, is not of the choicest; there are no signs yet of improvement. New Zealand has practically stopped shipping, and will not commence again until October. There is thus rather a gloomy prospect for the opening of next season for Australian butter, with large stocks in store, and with probably a larger arrival from the Commonwealth.

Prices for choicest Victorian, New South Wales, and Queensland butter are 106/ to 108/, the great bulk being at 106/; this is for salted. For unsalted the prices range from 108/ to 110/, but again the bulk is realising only the lower figure. New Zealand is in very small supply on the market, and is making 112/ for salted and, exceptionally, 114/ for unsalted. Danish and Swedish are down to 110/ to 114/, practically the same price, or nearly the same price, as best New Zealand. Argentine is down to 102/ to 104/ salted, and 104/ to 106/ for unsalted. French has had a big fall.

The cheese market shows no improvement, though white has become much more scarce than coloured. Best white New Zealand cheese is making 59s, while coloured is down to 57s. It is always difficult for makers of cheese to know what proportion should be white and what coloured, and they are now suffering in consequence. The matter is so important that no excuse need be offered for repeating that no more than one-third of coloured cheese to two-thirds white should be shipped to the British market. At the present moment Canada has made the same mistake as New Zealand, and her supplies of coloured cheese are exceeding the proportion previously mentioned. Of Queensland cheese there is nothing on the market at the moment. Stocks are exhausted, but sales are being made at open market prices, and when the Limerick arrives with the last consignment this year the cheese will find a ready market at somewhere about 55s to 56s per cwt. It is gratifying to note that the two previous shipments in the Ayrshire and the Somerset have created a demand for more of the Queensland article, and if the makers in that State are wise, and will improve their quality—though they work under difficult climatic conditions—they will find a good market in this country next year. The price of New Zealand cheese to-day is 59s for white, and 57s for coloured. Canadian is 60s, and occasionally 64s for white and 60s to 63s for coloured.

FRUIT TRADE.

LONDON MARKET REPORT.

LONDON, May 9.

Advices from Germany state that the Australian apples ex Somerset were immature and spotty, and many of them small. Some good prices were realised, however, for some Gravensteiners, 10s 6d being the average. Pears arrived in bad condition, some Vicars only bringing 4s a case. The same remark, as to apples, applies to the consignment ex Oberhausen. Eight cases of plums by the same boat were soft and not of good flavour; they brought 8s 9d per case. Five hundred cases of Western Australian grapes, however, were landed in good condition, Red Prince fetching 14s 3d, Raisin D. Dames 12s 3d, and Flame Tokay 11s 6d per case.

On the London market supplies of apples generally have been rather short for the whole of the past fortnight, but next week larger shipments are expected. Up to the present arrivals have been considerably smaller than they were at this time last season. The following shows the range of average prices at the opening sale of the present month:—Apples: Western Australian Cleopatras 10s to 11s, with up to 16s for exceptionally fine cases; Jonathans, 10s to 10s 6d; Tasmanian and Australian Ribstons, 7s to 8s 3d; French Crabs, 7s 6d to 8s 6d; Alfristons and Alexandras, 6s to 7s; New York Pippins, 7s 6d to 9s; Sturmer Pippins, 7s 2d to 8s 6d; Adam Permains, 7s 3d to 8s; King Pippins, 7s to 7s 6d; Cox's Orange Pippins, 9s to 18s, and up to 32s occasionally; scarlet Permains, 7s 6d to 8s 6d; Rome Beauties, 8s 6d to 10s 6d. Pears: Victorian Vicars, 10s; Josephine, 13s 6d to 17s; Winter Neils, 12s to 15s 6d. These figures show little difference on previous prices for Australian apples, but Tasmanian are slightly firmer. For exceptional lots higher prices were got. In the provinces, Munroe's Favourite apples have brought 8s to 9s 6d; Prince Alfreds 8s to 9s; Mobb's Codlins, 8s 9d; French Crabs, 9s 6d per box of about 40lb. These prices, of course, are higher than rule in London, as railway freight has to be added. About 500 boxes of West Australian grapes were placed on the market last week, and a like quantity this. They again realised high figures. Purple Cornichons brought 12s to 18s; Almerias, 20s; and Gros Colmars, 30s. For one consignment of the last named 36s per 28lb case was obtained last week, the highest figure ever reached then in London for Australian or Spanish grapes. Some few others brought 32s. At the time of writing Australian and Tasmanian apples are decidedly short for the time of the year; as a result, there has been improvement. A good deal of fruit marketed has been of secondary quality, but record prices have been reached for selected apples. And higher prices still have been got by private treaty. To-day, Western Australian grapes again realised high figures; the highest prices this week for them was 37s per box for a small lot of coloured (a new record).

The first lot of N.S.W. apples was only opened out yesterday. They turned out excellently, packing and grading being good. Of 100 cases from the Bathurst Government Farm, 70 were Cleopatras, and the balance Five Crown, Rome Beauty, Jonathan, and Granny Smith. The Five Crowns were inclined to be marked, in places, by the chilling under which they were carried, but, generally speaking, all the lots were in prime condition. It is, of course, too early to give prices.

AUSTRALASIAN PRODUCE.

TALLOW.

LONDON, May 9.

During April the tendency of the tallow market was steadily downwards, previous higher prices ruling having checked business. Supplies were nowhere abundant, but they were in excess of current requirements. The reduction in values did not appear to have prompted buyers to any extent. From April 9 to 23 inclusive 4755 casks Australian were offered at auction, and were only partly sold at declining values. Last week 1382 casks Australasian met a moderate demand at 3d decline; good mutton 37s, dull to fair 34s 3d to 35s 6d, good beef 36s, mixed 32s 3d to 34s 6d. In Australian to arrive a fair business was at first done in near positions, but extreme rates asked for shipment checked sales. Prices afterwards receded, but there has been latterly a better demand locally than for shipment to Europe. This week the market remained in a quiet state. Near parcels afloat were nominal, and unchanged for shipment. At public sale 250 tons of better coloured and 198 tons of inferior were offered; 174 tons of the former and 109 tons of the latter sold at generally 3d decline. Australian mutton, fine 39s, fair to good 36s 6d to 37s, dark to dull 32s to 34s 6d, hard 37s; beef, sweet 38s, fine 37s, fair to good 34s 6d to 36s, dark to dull 32s to 33s 6d.

HIDES.

At the opening auctions this month of hides and skins, and in the Australasian section, wet-salted ox and cow hides did not attract custom. Fair relative value was got for a few wet-salted yearlings and calfskins, but there was no inquiry for the bulk. Business in dry and dry-salted ox and cow hides was unimportant; salted horse hides met with but a limited trade at reduced rates; salted sheep pelts were not represented, and buffalo hides failed to find a market. Of 4893 salted calfskins and yearlings offered 719 sold; Sydney best calf 11½d and seconds 9d per lb. Of 546 dry-salted ox and cow hides offered 96 sold; Queensland, average 21½lb, 8½d per lb c.i.f. Of 2268 salted horse hides offered 367 sold; Adelaide, best 13s, seconds 10s 6d; Sydney, seconds 11s to 11s 9d, thirds 5s 6d to 9s 6d each.

CANNED MEAT.

The approach of summer has made the canned meat market firm, with good demand. This is especially so in regard to corned beef and corned mutton, supplies of both being short. The following quotations rule per dozen for Australian and New Zealand brands:—Corned mutton, 6lb taper tins, 33s to 35s; beef, 29s to 33s; boiled mutton, round tins, 29s to 32s; beef, 23s to 24s; Argentine brands, 6lb taper tins, are 30s to 35s 6d.

ITEMS.

There were 22 tons of Australian raisins in stock in London on April 30. They are worth 28s.

Business has been quiet in Australian merino pelts. Prices are unchanged, and quite firm.

Australasian leather and basils were not represented in commercial quantity at the last sales. Two packages of the former and five bales of the latter were offered; none sold.

South Sea Islands copra, May-June, was last week quoted £27 10s; this week there has been an advance of 2s 6d.

Eucalyptus oil is easier. There are sellers of good "B.P." quality at 1s 3d to 1s 4d per lb. But there is no demand.

Good Australian beeswax is worth about £8 5s per cwt.

CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT.

At the statutory meeting of the shareholders of the Fruitgrowers' Co-operative Association of Australasia the chairman of directors, Mr. Ashley, in moving the adoption of the statutory report, congratulated the shareholders on the formation of the company. It was impressed upon those present that now the company had been successfully floated and in operation, it rested with the shareholders themselves to carry the venture to a successful issue.

The following resolution was carried by a three-fourths majority, subject to being submitted to a further meeting, to be held not more than four weeks after the passing of the resolution:—"That after this date no application be received for any more or any less than ten shares, and that the directors shall have full power to call up further capital when deemed advisable."

The election of directors resulted in the re-election of all the provisional directors, the board being now constituted of the following fruitgrowers:—Messrs. E. Ashley, Goulburn (chairman); H. P. Rumsey, Dundas (vice-chairman); H. C. Swain, Ourimbah (vice-chairman); M. Jasprizza, Young; C. Kaiser, Sackville; O. C. Barberie, Batlow; L. S. Pieremont, Penrose; and A. Campbell, Wamberal.

The delegates attending the conference expressed their determination to do their utmost to further the interests of the association in their respective centres

PASTURES BOARDS.

ARMIDALE.—At the monthly meeting of the Armidale Pastures Protection Board Mr. H. H. Gordon was reappointed secretary, Mr. J. W. Rae rabbit inspector, and Mr. F. L. G. Fielder stock inspector. Mr. A. H. Belfield was re-elected treasurer, and Mr. R. T. Vyner chairman. It was decided to continue paying a bonus on foxes and cubs, and discontinue giving a bonus on wallabies. It was agreed to discontinue paying a bonus on rats, and to pay 2d on hare scalps. One shilling was fixed as a bonus for crows, and £1 for dingoes; pups half-price. The board levied a rate on large stock of 1½d, and 9-32d on sheep. Mr. R. T. Vyner was appointed delegate to the annual p.p. board convention. The board forwarded a resolution for the convention, to the effect that the protection of marsupials be delegated to the board, and not to the police. It was decided to co-operate in approaching the Minister in reference to the Minister's decision to refuse permission to members of local land boards to hold local government positions

DAIRYING.

MURWILLUMBAH.—The 15th half-yearly meeting of the Co-operative Butter Company, Ltd., was held on Saturday. The report showed that during the half-year 838½ tons of butter had been manufactured, an increase over the corresponding period of last year of 258½ tons. As agreed by the Factories' Association, ½d per lb had been deducted from the pay during the export season, totalling £686 18s 4d, and placed to the export reserve fund. But this the board had since decided to pay back to the suppliers. The profit and loss account showed that after all necessary allowances—including depreciation and the amount placed to export reserve—the net profit on the half-year's transactions amounted to £294, and this, added to the amount brought forward from the previous period, showed a credit balance of £522.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

BLACKTOWN.—A large number of blocks of land from 1 to 50 acres each have changed hands at from £20 to £40 per acre between Seven Hills and Wentworthville, adjacent to the railway.

FORBES.—The Forbes district just at present is looking its best. On every side can be seen large tracts of land under cultivation, some just ploughed, others with the wheat well over the ground, and in a few instances vigorous growths of self-sown crop well out in ear. On many holdings considerable areas are lying fallow for next year's crop. The rich, undulating country stretching for miles back on either side of the Lachlan River, where not under cultivation, is showing a fine body of grass, and nearly all classes of stock are fat. A quantity of last season's wheat is still in the hands of the farmers. Last month 44,231 bags of wheat were despatched from the Forbes railway station, and the number of bags now stacked in the railway yards is 101,990. As showing the profits there is in pig-raising, the case of a local farmer might be quoted, who has a sow which in August last, being just 12 months' old, had a litter of nine young ones. Three of these were sold for 24s each, a barrow for £4 10s, and the five sows kept had 40 young ones, which were disposed of for 8s each, being a cash return in all of £24 2s, besides the pigs still on hand have a value of £27 at the present time. At the local police court, Mitchell Brown, of Budgerabong, and H. C. Betts, of Carabollin, were each fined £2 and costs for failing to destroy rabbits on their respective holdings.

GOULBURN.—A beautifully coloured Five Crown apple has been raised in Mr. Best's orchard, Bowning. It is the produce of a seedling of the old Five Crown. The variety is said to be a good bearer, and the flavour is claimed to be superior to that of the parent variety. A specimen of the fruit has been exhibited in Goulburn.

HARDEN.—Farmers are in great spirits at being able to get their crops in under favourable conditions. The area of land under cultivation has doubled in the last four years, and it is anticipated that the present area will be doubled the next five years. The returns from wheat are such that the land is getting too valuable for grazing.

NARROMINE.—Wheat sowing has been rather retarded since seed time commenced, owing to the frequent rains. Farmers are making the most of the fine intervals. Sowing will be completed by the end of the month. The area under wheat will be larger than in any previous year. Some early-sown paddocks already show crops more than a foot high. There is an abundance of feed, both grass and winter herbage.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION LECTURES

THE KILLARA COURSE.

As a result of the success which has attended the University extension lectures during the past six years at Killara another series of lectures will be given this winter in the Killara Hall. The residents of the northern suburbs, Hornsby, Wahroonga, Turramurra, Pymble, Gordon, Killara, Lindfield, Roseville, and Chatswood, have a committee of over 80 members, who have practically ensured the success of the coming course. The trains from Milson's Point and Hornsby reach Killara in time for the lectures.

The first lecture will be delivered to-night, and the complete series is as follows:—

Tuesday, June 10.—"Philosophy of Proverbs," by Professor T. Anderson, M.A.

Tuesday, June 17.—"The Early Christians and the Roman Government," by Assistant-Professor F. A. Todd, B.A., Ph.D.

Tuesday, June 24.—"Science and Everyday Life," by Mr. F. A. Eastaugh, A.R.S.M., F.C.S.

Tuesday, July 1, 8, and 15.—"Elizabethan England," by Rev. L. D. Radford, M.A., D.D

Messrs. G. A. Waterhouse and J. Selkirk are hon. secretaries; the executive consists of Messrs. A. H. Lucas, F. H. Quaife, F. G. Griffiths, and W. A. Gullick; and among the members of the committee are Mr Wade, M.L.A., Mr. R. J. Black, M.L.C., Mr. H. Y. Braddon, Dr. Cecil Purser, Mr. Richard Teece, Mr. Tom Rolin, Prof. Peden, and Mr. A. J. Kilgour.

A LETTER FROM MR. FRED. DIAMOND, J.P., ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR THEATRICAL REPRESENTATIVES IN AUSTRALIA.

It should be convincing to those who may or may not know the curative powers of Clements Tonic.

Mr. Fred. E. Diamond has been for 30 years sole representative and contributor of leading international theatrical newspapers.

He was almost broken down in health, until, as countless others have done, he took this famous medicine, which completely restored him. He writes:—

"CLEMENTS TONIC, LTD.

"From May to the end of October, 1912, I suffered agonies with acute muscular rheumatism. My ankles, knees, and shoulder joints became swollen and painful, and the excruciating pains in my back were almost unbearable. I was in a wretched condition, could scarcely stand; completely lost my appetite; to sleep was out of the question.

"I had the best medical advice, Turkish and salt-water baths out of number, also was massaged three times a week. But all to no purpose.

"I despaired of ever being well again, and, as a last resource, tried Clements Tonic, because I had read so much of what it had done.

"I soon felt its wonderful influence. I rapidly improved. By the time I had finished my second large bottle the swelling of the joints and pains in the back left me, my appetite returned, and I slept well.

"When I was on my fourth bottle I felt as vigorous and strong as ever I did in my life. I can now go about and enjoy myself with renewed energy, that makes life worth living.

"I have only Clements Tonic to thank for coming to my timely assistance, when all other remedies failed to restore me to perfect health.

"I will continue to use this king of all tonics if necessary, and in my home I will always keep it.

(Signed) "FRED. E. DIAMOND, J.P.
"No. 6 Rosedale-street, Petersham."

Business or professional men will find Clements Tonic a blessing. It is a powerful brain and nerve stimulant; it tones the stomach, quickens the action of the liver, regulates the bowels, and purifies the blood. Its benefit is rapid in cases of Insomnia, Nerve Breakdown, Sick Headache, Physical Weakness, Poor Appetite, or Sluggish Liver. It is specially a medicine for weak-nerved women. All Chemists and Stores sell Clements Tonic everywhere. "Get it and Get Well."—Advt.

Lipton's Tea as an Aid to the Digestion

MEDICAL men agree that one of the worst enemies of the digestion is inferior tea—thousands of cases of chronic indigestion are directly attributable to the habit of drinking tea of cheap quality. Many doctors go further than this, and claim that some of the more serious diseases owe their origin to the fact that so much low-grade tea is consumed.

The exceptionally high standard of purity to be found in Lipton's famous tea is the tea-drinker's safeguard against indigestion and other ills. Thousands of sufferers from digestive disorders have found Lipton's the one tea that agrees with them—the one tea they can drink and enjoy without fear of serious after effects.

Lipton's Red, Yellow, Green, and "At Home" Packets do not contain any Java or China Tea, but only Pure Hill-grown Ceylon Tea, procured direct from the Lipton plantations, and carefully-selected Indian Tea. If you haven't tried Lipton's Tea yet, send three penny stamps to-day for a post-free quarter-pound sample packet.

SOLD ONLY IN THE LIPTON PACKETS.

Lipton's are Manufacturers of the choicest ENGLISH JAMS, PICKLES, MANGO CHUTNEY, STRAWBERRY CONSERVE, COCOA ESSENCE, COFFEE ESSENCE, TABLE SALT, and CHOCOLATES—all articles of the highest quality, and guaranteed the "Finest that can be made." ASK your GROCER for ALL "LIPTON'S GOODS."

Lipton's Tea

The World's Cup of Health

In every civilised country in the world, the supremacy of Sanatogen, as a safe and genuine restorative, is now as abundantly recognised and as highly praised as it is in Great Britain.

Sanatogen acts simply as a cell food of unapproached tonic powers, which builds up, strengthens and invigorates the whole system. More than 16,000 physicians have vouched for its efficacy in Nervous and Wasting Diseases, Anæmia and Digestive Disorders, Weakness, Insomnia, etc.

And countless thousands of men and women, including many celebrities of world-wide fame, have also testified in writing to the great benefit which their health has derived from a course of Sanatogen.

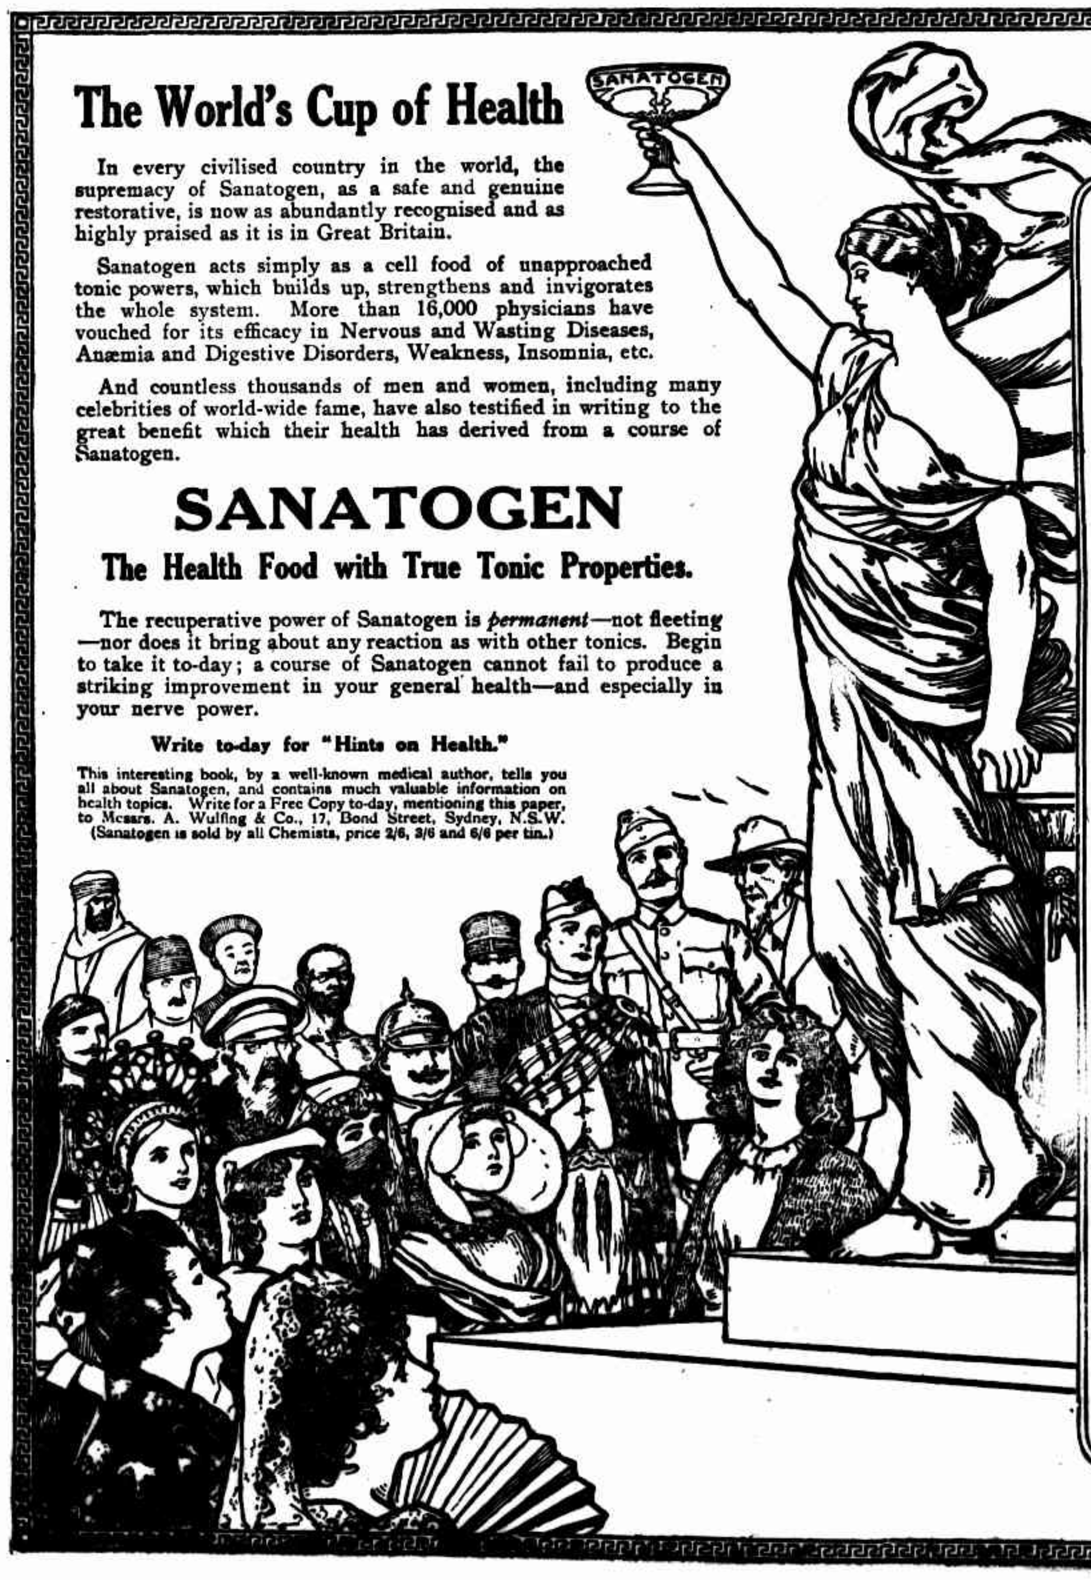
SANATOGEN

The Health Food with True Tonic Properties.

The recuperative power of Sanatogen is permanent—not fleeting—nor does it bring about any reaction as with other tonics. Begin to take it to-day; a course of Sanatogen cannot fail to produce a striking improvement in your general health—and especially in your nerve power.

Write to-day for "Hints on Health."

This interesting book, by a well-known medical author, tells you all about Sanatogen, and contains much valuable information on health topics. Write for a Free Copy to-day, mentioning this paper, to Messrs. A. Wulfing & Co., 17, Bond Street, Sydney, N.S.W. (Sanatogen is sold by all Chemists, price 2/6, 3/6 and 6/6 per tin.)



SOME TYPICAL STATEMENTS.

Sir William Bull, M.P., the leading English Solicitor, writes: "Sceptical as I was, I am bound to say that Sanatogen performs that which it promises to do; it has a wonderfully restorative effect."

Mr. A. G. Hales, the well-known Australian War Correspondent, writes: "My health benefits by every tin of Sanatogen I take. It revitalises a man, and is not a drug."

Sir Charles A. Cameron, C.B., M.D., etc., the great Irish Scientist, writes: "Taking an interest in the assimilation of organic phosphorus in combination with proteid, I have procured samples of Sanatogen and subjected them to experiment. I have arrived at the conclusion that Sanatogen is an excellent nerve food of the highest nutritive value, containing, as it does, a large amount of organic phosphorus which is offered to the tissues in exactly the form in which it can be easily absorbed. It is this organic phosphorus which makes Sanatogen of such value."

Miss Marjorie Bowen, the celebrated Scottish Novelist, writes: "I find Sanatogen excellent, and shall continue to use it."

Mr. Shirley Tremearne, editor of "Capital," Calcutta, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Sanatogen, which I took for some time, and which not only kept me up during a sharp attack of fever, but afterwards restored me once more to full vigour. In fact, I was better and stronger after this course of Sanatogen than before the attack. I can strongly recommend this preparation to anyone whose system is run down. It possesses all the qualities as a nerve tonic and builder up of the bodily system that are claimed for it."

Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P., the famous Canadian novelist, writes: "I have taken Sanatogen with extraordinary benefit. It is a true food tonic, feeding the nerves, increasing the energy, and giving fresh vigour to the overworked body and mind."

Professor C. von Noorden, of Vienna University, writes: "Sanatogen is an excellent preparation, of especial value in general debility and various forms of anæmia."

The following is a letter from London, testifying to the strength of these Suit Cases:—

14, 15, 16, 17 Cow Cross-street, London,
May 1, 1912.

Dear Sirs,—Referring to the case weighing about 4lb which your representative left here, we beg to advise you that we have placed 1½cwt standard weights upon this case, and same showed no signs of giving way.

We then placed 40 56lb standard weights (1 ton) upon the top of the EMPTY Suit Case without any preparation whatever, and it withstood the test for fully ten minutes before giving way, which speaks very highly of the wonderful resisting power of the material of which the case is made, the case itself only being about 4lb in weight.

Yours faithfully,
W. and T. AVERY, LTD.

The "Adjusto"—The Corset for Stout Figures, 18/6.

Consult Our Corsetieres.

Consult our American Corsetieres, Madame Dumas and Madam Hammond, who are always in attendance, and pleased to give any helpful advice. If you desire a fitting, it is necessary to make an appointment beforehand.

Model 568, Royal Worcester Corset, made in White Coutil, with Medium Low Bust, Long Hips and Skirt. Sizes, 18 to 25 inches Waist. Suitable only for slender figures.

Price 6/11

Model 698. The Royal Worcester "Adjusto" is a veritable boon to those whose proportions err on the generous side. The "Adjusto" gently controls the proper distribution of excess flesh, and by means of an ingenious contrivance, which is simplicity itself, and which involves no clumsy belt or heavy fastening, it immediately reduces by some inches the size of the figure below the waist. This contrivance—"The Adjusto Band" as it is called—can be arranged while the Corset is on the figure, to support the abdomen and make the hips less prominent. In this way the "Adjusto" guides the figure of the stout woman into perfect symmetry. Freedom of motion is retained, and comfort is still hers, while a graceful and stylish figure and better health are the splendid results. The Royal Worcester "Adjusto" is made in White or Grey Coutil. In sizes 21 to 36 inches Waist Measure.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

THERE IS MORE TO A PIANO THAN A FINE CASE.

To a great many people a piano means "just a piano." Some will buy without considering the tone, quality, and touch, and the materials of which it is built are an unknown quality. Others, again, will buy the instrument with the most elaborate case designs. To every good player and well-informed buyer, a piano always means full, rich tone, and a sound construction to ensure its durability. You are invited to inspect the handsome pianos in Paling's Show Rooms. There you will see such celebrated instruments as the

SOME IMPORTANT PLAYER PIANO BARGAINS AT PIANOLA HALL.

During a month of unprecedented business, quite a number of well-known and well-represented Player Pianos have been exchanged in part payment on Steinway and Steck Pianola Pianos. The instruments are all in excellent condition, and the lucky purchasers have the option of subscribing to our Circulating Library of Music Rolls; this in itself is a most important advantage. In order to clear these instruments quickly, we are offering them at extraordinary reductions, and while we want to encourage as much as possible the exchanging of such instruments for the genuine Pianola Piano, it is most important that we find a rapid market for them. Therefore, prices must move the following instruments we have pleasure in announcing this week:—

RONISCH CLAVIOLA PIANO.—An excellent production of one of these fine pianos, has installed a Claviola. So sure are we of the quality of this piano, that we give the buyer the option of returning it at its full purchase price within one month, on a Steinway or Steck Pianola Piano, in part payment. There are 30 Claviola Rolls with this instrument.

ANGELUS PLAYER PIANO (Jansen).—This is one of the most modern of these instruments, in Walnut case, containing the 88-note Angelus. This instrument has had less than six months' actual playing.

BROADWOOD PLAYER PIANO.—One of the largest and most handsome Upright Grand models of this eminent English Piano. It has installed a player, which will operate genuine Pianola Rolls. This instrument is in a very excellent condition, and like the Ronisch Claviola and Jansen Angelus looks as though it has very recently come from the factory.

COLLARD and COLLARD PLAYER PIANO was purchased in London last year, has installed a Player action, which plays the Pianola Roll. This piano looks brand new, of very superior tone quality, and superior finish throughout.

AUTO PLAYER PIANO, Kastner and Co., in Rosewood, plays genuine Pianola Rolls.

Space does not permit us to specialise on every instrument, but we are making a special display of such instruments this week at our George-street Showrooms, and they will all be offered at reductions, ranging from 30 per cent. to 50 per cent., under their original cost.

EIGHT GENUINE STECK PIANOLA PIANOS, slightly used, which, after a little used, have been returned to stock again in part payment on the new Steinway, Steck, and Weber Grand Pianola Pianos. The Grand Pianola Piano is the most recent production of the Pianola Company, and is increasing in popularity so rapidly that very slightly-used Genuine Pianola Pianos are now available at considerable reductions.

20 PIANOLAS TO FIT ANY PIANO, ORIGINAL COST £60, at prices from £20 up. Extended terms can be arranged as low as 15s monthly.

We allow the full purchase price on any instrument on this list if exchanged within one month from date of purchase.

FARMERS' PARLIAMENT.

THE COMING CONFERENCE.

222 RESOLUTIONS.

A COUNTRY PARTY.

More interest than ever before centres in the coming conference of the Farmers and Settlers' Association of New South Wales, which will meet in Sydney on July 7.

A few days ago the classification committee of the conference met in Sydney and dealt with the 418 resolutions which had been sent in by the branch associations to the conference. As a result, these have been boiled down to 222 motions, which cover a wide range of subjects affecting the interests of the men on the land. As a result of the increase in the association the conference will be larger than ever before, and the president, Mr. Robt. Patten, the new Federal member for the Hume, and his executive will have a difficult task to dispose of the business of the conference in a reasonable time.

The big question to be decided by conference is the attitude which the association is to adopt with regard to State politics. For years the matter of forming a straight out independent country party has been before the conference, and though a considerable section has fought for the formation of a new farmers' party, the majority has always considered that the best interests of the primary producers would be served by remaining within the ranks of the Liberal party and so presenting a united front to the State Labour party's land policy.

But as an evidence of the new spirit abroad in the country no less than seven branches of the association have sent the following proposal to the conference:—

"That in the opinion of this conference the time has arrived when the Farmers and Settlers' Association of New South Wales should declare for a straight-out political party of their own."

From Nubba comes a compromise proposal to the following effect:—

"That steps be taken at conference to organise a conference between the Country party and Liberal party for the purpose of drawing up a common fighting platform for the forthcoming State elections, as it is impossible for a representative to support two platforms."

Namoi has tabled a motion demanding absolute independence from all branches in political matters, while the Marrar branch suggests the taking of a referendum of the members of the association to decide the question of a new party.

Under the heading "Constitutional" are several motions dealing with the working of the branches and district councils, and the representation at the annual conference.

Some important items are down for discussion under the "industrial" section. One deals with the necessity for encouraging female immigrants from rural England, Scotland, and Ireland; another suggests apprenticing unskilled labourers and youths to farm work owing to the difficulty of getting skilled labour for farms. The need for the instruction of youths in butter, cheese, and bacon factories is emphasised.

The industrial unrest has provoked a protest in the shape of resolutions asking that penalties be enforced and that unions pay certain amounts into a Government fund as a guarantee of good faith, and that with a view to mutual assistance in the case of strikes, a register be kept by each branch of members able and willing to take the place of strikers when delay is likely to cause loss and damage to producers.

The "land" section of the business paper deals with a number of questions regarding closer settlement, freehold, pastures' boards, timber rights, tenants' rights, and similar matters.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

AMATEURS AT PLAY.

APPERLY'S FIREWORKS.

The second round of the amateur golf championship of New South Wales was played on the Royal Sydney Golf Club's links at Rose Bay yesterday. According to the original programme the round was to have been played to-day, but on Saturday night it was agreed that the second of the eliminating rounds should be played yesterday. As things turned out, the choice of days proved disastrous. Saturday was an ideal day for playing, but it would be hard to imagine a more difficult or trying day than yesterday proved. The rain overnight had thoroughly soaked the links, and along some of the fairways there was a succession of puddles, which meant disaster to an inaccurate or unlucky player. Add to this the difficulty of driving into the teeth of a biting southerly, and playing through fierce rain squalls, and there is accumulated a set of conditions which only the most daring golfers would care to face, and through which only those thoroughly acquainted with the niceties of the game could hope to put up good rounds.

The most sensational performance of the day was E. L. Apperly's fine round. He was matched against his clubmate, G. T. Balcombe, whom he completely outclassed. On Saturday, playing under decent conditions, Apperly went round the first 18 holes in 74, but in the afternoon he took 81 to do the journey. Yesterday, when he found himself "up against it," so to speak, he rose to the occasion, and did the eighteen in 80, a remarkable performance when the weather and the state of the links are taken into consideration. Balcombe was completely overwhelmed by Apperly's fireworks, and did not give him a game. He fought hard against the odds, but his luck left him, and when a man's luck is out at golf it is out indeed. At the finish of the 18 holes Balcombe was 9 down. The game did not last much longer, for Apperly won the 10th hole in the second round. The match finished 11 up and 9 to go in the champion's favour.

T. E. Howard, the Bonnie Doon player, met H. Terrey. Howard's short game proved too accurate, and he won 6 up and 4 to play. At the finish of the first 18 holes he was 3 up. In the second round he played very consistently, and showed a great facility for getting out of difficulties.

R. B. Godbolt and H. W. M'Lelland had a very close game. In the first round they won hole for hole, and Godbolt finished the morning 1 up. In the afternoon they had a "battle royal," but M'Lelland reversed the positions, and won his way into the semi-finals by capturing the last hole.

The Dobroyde representative, W. Sturrock, had the satisfaction of downing the only Royal Sydney player left in on his native heath. He was partnered with Ross Gore, and at the finish of the first round Gore was 2 up, and looked like winning. Sturrock's short game was rather indifferent in the morning, but in the afternoon he made amends for the mistakes of the morning, and at the third hole he squared the match. Playing on, the Dobroyde player captured a couple more holes, and ran out a winner on the 17th green, finishing the game 2 up and 1 to play.

The semi-finals will be played off during the week, the players being drawn as follows:—

M'Lelland v Sturrock.

SCOUTCRAFT.

EXHIBITION BY GRANVILLE SCOUTS.

An exhibition of scoutcraft was given by the members of the 1st Granville troop yesterday afternoon, in the presence of the scouts, parents, and friends. The exhibition was opened by Colonel C. Cox, C.B., who remarked that the troop was the largest in New South Wales. He had judged the exhibits, and he especially commended the cooking, which, he said, was most useful. The map-drawing, fancywork, etc., were also of great value. With much pleasure he presented to the Granville troop the league flag they had won for three months for proficiency. The flag was a gift from the Misses Fairfax, who were present at the exhibition. All the exhibits were the unaided work of the scouts.

Under Scoutmaster King and Assistant Scoutmasters Moore and Black, the boys assembled in the open, where they executed a number of manoeuvres and practised bush hut and tent building, and stretcher aid to the wounded.

A complaint from the residents of Point-street, Pyrmont, as to the annoyance and damage caused through blasting operations carried out by the Sydney Harbour Trust workmen along the frontage of Jones Bay was received recently by the Lord Mayor. The latter made representations to the Harbour Trust Commissioners regarding the subject, and has now received a reply from them to the effect that instructions had been issued to use as little explosive as possible, so as to minimise the inconvenience to residents in the vicinity.

BIG FOOTBALL.

THE MAORI PLAYERS.

BEATEN BY N. S. WALES.

GOOD WET-WEATHER GAME.

Notwithstanding the rain and cold biting wind 5000 enthusiasts witnessed the game yesterday at the University Oval between the Maori team and New South Wales. They were rewarded by seeing a scientific and clever display, with the home side showing up more prominently than their opponents, and winning the game by 15 points to 3. Although seven new men were included in the team all the local side acquitted themselves splendidly, and the State representatives compare more than favourably with any past combination.

The ground was treacherous, the ball sodden and heavy, and the players hardly distinguishable, one side from the other, after play had been in progress 15 minutes. Yet the dribbling, combined forward work, and, at times, the dash and surefootedness of the back field were almost equal to fine-weather football. The Maoris were given a great reception when they appeared on the field, and in reply gave their "haka," which goes with more swing than any other football cry previously heard in Sydney. Referee Butt was in his best form, and consequently the game never slackened. At times the ball was sent from one end of the ground and back again with marvellous rapidity. The eight blue forwards, however, showed more pace, and were moving all the time, and the defence of the backs was almost impregnable. The unfortunate accident to Piki, the miniature half-back, made a great difference to the visitors. The weight of their forwards gave their side the ball in almost every scrum, and consequently the loss of their feeder was severely felt. The wings had few chances, but Ryland is a most dangerous player in attack.

For New South Wales the most promising of the younger players was Carr, who scored three tries, and narrowly missed the fourth. He showed more than ordinary dash, and moves very quickly. Cooney's long left foot punts gained considerable ground, and the inside backs played excellently. Fusedale was the only weak point in the home side. All the forwards played well together, and showed better judgment in a game to suit the day.

The teams were:—

Maoris: Full-back, N. Papakura; three-quarters, C. Ryland, H. Grace, Ru Kingi; five-eighths, P. Blake, C. Woods; half-back, S. M. Piki; forwards, J. Hia Hia, T. Tresize, A. Takarangi (captain), H. Tapsell, J. Martin, C. Jacobs, Hikatarewa, S. French.

New South Wales: Full-back, J. M. Cooney; three-quarters, R. D. Fusedale, L. J. Dwyer (captain), L. W. Wogan, E. Carr; five-eighths, W. G. Tasker; half-back, F. Wood; forwards, H. George, R. Tremain, W. T. Watson, E. Fahey, H. Wallach, L. B. Heath, B. D. Hughes, and G. Walters.

Referee, C. C. Butt.

Both teams differed from the original selection, F. Wood taking A. Walker's place in the home side, and C. Woods replacing M. Winiata at five-eighth in the visitors' 15.

THE PLAY.

The light blues at once began a forward movement, by means of loose rushes. With the ball at the toe, the home team were superior, and kept the visitors penned in their own 25 for some time. Hughes and Fahey were always prominent, and, combining well in the vanguard, New South Wales eventually scored. The ball, heeled from a loose ruck, was sent by Wood to Tasker, who missed the greasy ball, and dribbled on past Blake, and across to Dwyer and Wogan, who kicked towards Carr. The wing three-quarter dribbled past Ryland, and dived at the ball over the line, just as Piki kicked, and scored first try. The little Maori half-back fell, and sustained a compound fracture of the leg. He was carried off the field, and subsequently admitted to Prince Alfred Hospital. It was bad luck for the Maoris to lose their only player in that position so soon after the opening of the tour. Fusedale missed the goal from an easy position, and New South Wales led by 3 to nil.

Paki came on in place of Piki, and played full-back, Papakura going into the five-eighth position, and Hikatarewa playing wing. The reverse seemed to stir the visitors to increased efforts, and the burly forwards carried play to their opponents' 25. From there a series of well-sustained attacks were stopped by the excellent defence of Wood, Tasker, and Dwyer. Martin and Tresize were always to the fore, and twice Cooney was compelled to force. Relief came from some clever play by Tasker, who started a passing rush on his own line, and handled and rehandled the ball, finally punting into touch at he half-distance. The next few moments provided a fine rally, the ball travelling up and down the field, with first one then the other side in the ascendant. Wood sent to Tasker, on to Wogan, to Dwyer, who was downed on the line, and the visitors carried the ball at toe to the opposing goal, where Carr forced. Back came the Blues, and Hughes, Wallach, and Heath took the play to within 10 yards of the scoring board corner. Here Tasker picked up in the ruck, and darting through, sent a long pass to Wogan, on to Carr, who grabbed up a very bad transfer and scored his second try. Fahey failed to convert. New South Wales, 6 to nil.

The New Zealanders' made strenuous efforts to overhaul the leaders, and both backs and forwards kept up a strong effort on the home goal. Hia Hia was prominent, and had a chance, when illegally tackled. From the penalty, Martin's kick went wide, although very careful attention was given to the placing. Two more penalties were awarded in quick succession, but although both kicks were in fairly good position no score resulted, and the first half ended with the New South Wales team ahead.

The second spell opened with great dash and brilliancy. The Maoris made strenuous efforts to get their backs moving, and were getting the ball in the scrums. However, the tackling of the New South Wales backs was excellent, and time after time the quick-moving visitors were stopped in the corner. From one of the rushes Dwyer, darting in between Woods and Blake, intercepted, and was through like a flash. At the 25 Ryland brought him down, but Hughes toed the ball on, and kicking hard over the line, gave the backs a chance. Carr narrowly missed another try, and shot by without touching it, but Wood, coming up from behind, scored. Cooney made a poor attempt at goal. New South Wales, 9 to nil.

The new men in the team were playing brilliantly, and Carr was always on the qui vive looking for chances. Cooney, at full-back, was safe, and his long line-kicks gained considerable ground. The Maoris now played splendidly, and several times looked as if they would equalise the scores. Takarangi, Hia Hia, and Tresize led the way at the head of dribbling rushes, which twice were spoilt by kicking too hard. Still they kept up the attacks. The backs also were doing their share, but the greasy ball made accurate passing out of the question. However, the slowness gave the Blues their chance, and every man was taken low and hard. Finally the visitors were rewarded, and Hikatarewa was responsible for beating the field and carrying the ball over, where Ryland dived and scored. The kick missed the goal. New South Wales 9, Maoris 3.

At this stage it seemed certain that the Moaris would score again, and twice their three-quarters were just stopped in time. The absence of Piki was now severely felt, and if he had been on the field another one or two scores would have come to the side. New South Wales repelled all the attempts to cross, and finally Fahey and Walters dribbled out of danger. George and Watson distinguished themselves by some fine footwork, and were stopped at the 25. Here the home team were awarded a penalty, and Wood taking a drop-kick scored a neat goal. New South Wales, 12 to 3.

It was not long before the home side were over once more, and Carr was again the player to have the honour. Picking up in some loose play at the 25, he shook off a couple of tacklers, and outpacing all opposition, scored near the posts. Wood missed the goal. New South Wales, 15 to 3.

The New Zealanders were now tiring, and New South Wales keeping up a persistent attack, penned their opponents in their own territory. The ball was heeled to Wood, to Tasker, on to Wogan, to Dwyer, who, showing great speed, crossed the line, and touched down. The referee, however, ruled that the ball had not been grounded, and the Maoris kicked out at the 25. No further score resulted, and New South Wales won a good game by 15 to 3.

MOVEMENTS OF THE MAORIS.

The Maori team leave this morning for Tamworth, where they will play a combined northern team to-morrow. At the conclusion of the match the visitors will journey to Brisbane, where they will meet Queensland on Saturday next.

The New Era of Musical Enjoyment

FAVOURED indeed was the 17th Century home, that possessed a Clavichord of the period—absurdly limited as these instruments seem to our modern view.

Utterly inadequate likewise was the primitive piano upon which Beethoven composed his early masterworks.

Notwithstanding their imperfections, however, these instruments had to suffice even the wealthiest music-lovers of their day and generation.

Far beyond the most ambitious imaginings of these earlier times is the great musical instrument now available to trained and untrained music-lovers alike—

The

Steinway Pianola Piano

Also the STECK, WEBER, and STROUD, Grand and Upright.

Less that a decade ago wealth untold could not have purchased what this noble instrument provides.

—A pianoforte so developed and refined that the sheer beauty and grandeur of its voice is known and reverenced in every land the sun shines on.

—A marvellous mechanism built into its structure that endows even the veriest novice, with playing ability surpassed only by the great virtuoso's.

What the Steinway Pianola Piano—the famous Steinway and famous Pianola, united in a single instrument—offers, has no equivalent in money.

The ability which this instrument confers on anyone, to play—to lovingly interpret even a dozen masterpieces of musical art, would be worth its price many times over.

Whereas the possessor of the Steinway Pianola Piano has at command all the music of the world—all the old, all the new; all the serious, all the gay—more than 16,000 different compositions, to play and to enjoy.

Let us send you a catalog of the Steinway Pianola Piano.
We will send it free for the asking.
We allow full value for regular Pianos in part payment.

ALL BLACKS AGAIN BEATEN.

31 POINTS TO 12.

The weather yesterday favoured the New Zealanders considerably in the second game of their tour against New South Wales at the Sydney Cricket Ground. A high wind blew, and intermittent sharp showers made the already unfavourable playing area more treacherous and unsuitable for high-class football. In the circumstances it was generally expected that the New Zealanders would repeat the wet weather performance in their second contest with this State's representatives last season. However, the home side rose to the occasion, and, adapting themselves to the conditions, demonstrated their superiority both fore and aft. Their victory of 31 points to 12 truly reflects the difference in the play between the two teams. At one stage only during the game did the Blacks really become dangerous and look like securing victory. This rally occurred immediately after the interval, and was notable both for the number of points scored and the rapidity with which they were gained. During as many minutes 12 points were scored by the All Blacks. However, Messenger and his colleagues pulled themselves together, and again resumed that mastery which they had so amply shown in the early stages of the game; and thereafter the issue was never in doubt.

The personnel of the New Zealand team underwent considerable alterations. Bradley, who performed ably on Saturday at full-back, was an absentee owing to an injured foot, and the services of W. J. Mitchell were brought into requisition. Other notable changes were Proebstel and Duval in the three-quarter line, and Reke replaced Manning at stand-off half, and Jackson worked the scrum in place of Reke. With the exception that Messenger was in Deane's place in the three-quarter line, and the latter filled Norman's position as stand-off half, the team was the same that gained the honours on Saturday.

The teams were:—New Zealand: Full-back, W. J. Mitchell; three-quarters, R. Proebestel, W. Kelly, H. Duval; stand-off halves, K. Ifwerson, R. Reke; half-back, A. Jackson; forwards, H. Hayward (capt.), J. Hogan, C. King, E. Clark, S. Walters, A. Shadbolt. New South Wales: Full-back, H. Hallett; three-quarters, A. Broomham, H. H. Messenger (capt.), J. Devereux, D. Frawley; halves, D. Deane, A. Halloway; forwards, C. Sullivan, E. Courtney, F. Burge, S. Pearce, P. M'Cue, W. A. Cann. Referee, Mr. L. H. Kearney. Touch judges, Messrs. A. Farrow and A. Norton.

THE PLAY.

Fully 24,000 persons, who paid £1300 for admission, witnessed the kick-off. For a time play hovered round neutral territory, until Broomham emerged in possession from a ruck of opponents, and, finding Pearce in attendance, transferred to him. Pearce made goalwards, and on being tackled passed to Messenger, who fooled a couple of opponents, and cleverly dived, grounding the ball, with several opponents hanging on. Messenger failed at goal, and New South Wales led by 3 points to nil after three minutes' play. Pearce was early showing his superiority over his vis-a-vis for possession, and consequently Halloway often found himself serving his third line. The play, in view of the sloppy conditions, was being waged at a pace that would have been creditable on a hard, dry ground. Broomham again thrilled the crowd by sprinting along touch, and when threatened passed to Messenger, who was nearly over, but lost the ball, and a force resulted.

FRAWLEY'S CLEVERNESS.

A sharp shower now set in, during which Frawley was responsible for one of the gems in the day's play. Fielding a badly-placed kick of an opponent, he dashed off in his characteristic style, and, cleverly evading several Blacks short punted, and then regained possession, and, falling over the line, scored amidst tremendous applause. Messenger failed to add the extras. N.S.W., 6 points; N.Z., nil. The pace now became very fast, with the ball traversing from one end of the field to the other with a rapidity that was remarkable, in view of its sodden condition. Kelly broke away at midfield, and, running strongly, passed to Duval, who was upset, and Devereaux, gathering, set the Blues moving in fine style. Burge, Messenger, Deane, and Broomham all handled the ball admirably, and the lastnamed scored amidst a scene of wild excitement. Messenger goaled. N.S.W., 11 points to nil.

SUPERB COMBINATION.

Frawley again figured prominently. Receiving a well-judged pass from Cann, he transferred to M'Cue, who whipped it out to Courtney. The lastnamed shot straight ahead, and, finding Frawley coming up, strongly assisted him, and the speedy Eastern Suburbs three-quarters fairly nonplussed several challengers, and scored. Messenger goaled. N.S.W. led by 16 to nil. The Blues were now dominating the play, both forward and back, giving a most delightful exhibition of all-round concerted play. Their passing was executed with wonderful correctness and precision. Half-time arrived with the scores unaltered.

ILLEGAL PLAY.

On resuming the Blacks rushed play to the New South Wales 25, and Reke toed the ball past Hallett, and Shadbolt coming along fast looked a certain scorer, but close to the line Devereaux glaringly interfered with him, and Mr. Kearney unhesitatingly awarded New Zealand a penalty try, which Ifwerson converted. New South Wales, 16 to 5. The Blacks were now wonderfully aggressive, storming the opposition goal with grim determination to wipe out the deficit.

The South Sydney champion, Hallett, now let New Zealand in as the result of a miss-kick. He miss-kicked towards his own line, and in the scramble Ifwerson kicked over, and in the race for it outpaced Messenger, who came across fast, but was too late. The same player goaled. New South Wales, 16 to 10.

IFWERSON'S FINE GOAL.

After the kick-out Hayward marked cleverly, and the Auckland champion notched a grand goal. New South Wales, 16 to 12.

The position now looked critical for the Blues, but they pulled themselves together grandly, and responding to Messenger's exhortations to be up and doing became aggressive.

MESSENGER CHAMPION GOAL-KICKER.

The play centred in neutral ground for a while, and then the Blacks were penalised for a scrum illegality, and H. H. Messenger kicked a superb goal. New South Wales, 18 to 12. Halloway next delighted the crowd by breaking round the "blind" side and outmanoeuvring several opponents went ahead and scored. Messenger kicked a fine goal from a very difficult angle. New South Wales, 23 to 12.

Courtney, Burge, and McCue now gave a delightful exhibition of footwork. Coming away with ball at toe from centres, they worked play to well within their opponents' 25, where over-anxiety gave the Blacks a penalty. Play now rushed down field, where Cann relieved by a long punt. The Blues again stormed the New Zealand line, and from a scrum Halloway worked the "blind" side and served Deane, who shot over in the corner. Messenger failed from right on touch. New South Wales, 26; New Zealand, 12.

The Blues were fairly outplaying their gallant opponents, both in the scrummages and in the loose, Cann, Sullivan, and Courtney particularly being prominent in the rushes. From midfield Cann picked up, and running straight, whipped the ball to Devereaux, who, veering towards the corner flag, eluded several opponents, and passed to Frawley, who scored. Messenger converted. New South Wales 31, New Zealand 12. The Blacks were attacking, when Devereaux was penalised for off-side. Ifwerson tried at goal, but failed. The "no-side" whistle left New South Wales victorious by 31 points to 12, after a wet weather exhibition that possibly has been equalled but certainly never surpassed.

INCREASED RAILWAY FARES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Seeing that the railways have been run at a loss, and there is a proposal on foot to increase the season tickets by 20 per cent., is it fair to the working man to have to pay full fare while the Government employees travel at half-rates? These employees are granted half-fare to their residing station, and are subject to the same privileges as the full-fare season ticket holders. Why should they benefit any more than the individual outside the Government service? There is also the granting of free passes to these employees to travel over the railways, while the man who can ill-afford it has to pay his way. On a trip from Orange to Sydney, out of eight passengers in a compartment, all except myself were travelling on free passes. Yet the public are called upon to make up a deficit in the revenue by a 20 per cent. increase. Let the Chief Commissioner make the employees pay full fare, the same as anyone else, and abolish free passes, and then, perhaps, the railways might be run at a gain instead of a loss.

I am, etc.,
June 5. SEASON TICKET.

Taxpayers are reminded that Wednesday next, 11th inst., will be the last day for payment of 1913 income-tax without fine.

TRADES AND LABOUR.

TROLLY, DRAYMEN, AND CARTERS' PICNIC.

ARBITRATION METHODS.

The annual picnic of the Trolly, Draymen, and Carters' Union, which had been postponed from the time of the ferry strike, took place yesterday at Clontarf. Despite the boisterous weather, there was a fair attendance. Mr. T. Weir presided at the luncheon.

Mr. T. Miller, secretary of the United Storemen's Union, proposed "The Day We Celebrate." Mr. W. Baldwin, in responding, said that the working class held the strength and power of the whole community. Mr. H. Rock proposed "The Federal Parliament," to which Mr. W. M. Hughes replied.

In proposing the toast of "The Union," Mr. J. Woods, financial secretary of the Wharf Labourers' Union, said he would like to see a federation of the waterside workers brought about. His union was outside the pale of the Arbitration Court or wages boards. In his opinion, the union had done better without arbitration. It had spent thousands of pounds upon arbitration, and had got next to nothing. On the other hand, conferences had been productive of much good.

Mr. M. J. Connington, secretary of the Trolly, Draymen, and Carters' Union, in responding, said he had always favoured arbitration. Advocates of strikes could not expect to bring about results which would be of lasting benefit to the community. The object of the Labour movement was to do things in a constitutional manner, and in an organised form. Strikes very often demoralised and disorganised unionism. His union had, however, found arbitration a beneficial way of adjusting differences.

Mr. H. A. Winter acted as picnic secretary.

BUTCHERS' AWARD.

The Wholesale Butchering Board gave a decision on Friday in regard to a dispute that arose in certain meat canning factories. The men are to work at the hourly rate provided in the award (1s 6d per hour), and at the usual rate of pace generally prevailing before the dispute. If a dispute occurs in the future as to the pace, application may be made to the board, and its decision is to be final, but pending such decision work is to continue as before. The rate of four quarters of beef, irrespective of size, every 2½ hours, is held to be unreasonable, but no definite rate is fixed by the board.

SILVERTON TRAMWAY EMPLOYEES.

BROKEN HILL, Monday.

The Wages Board, Messrs. Butler, Delprat, and Knaust, has delivered its award in the Silverton tramway employees' case. The award was:—Guards, 48 hours to constitute a week's work, wages 12s per day, one uniform per annum to be supplied; weighmen, 48 hours a week, 11s 6d per day; shunters, 48 hours week, 11s 6d per day, half an hour off for breakfast; men relieving in higher positions for a period of one week or over, to receive the pay of the higher position; no extra pay for a shorter period than one week; assistant shunters, 48 hours week, 11s per day; signalmen, 48 hours week, 10s per day; goodshed hands, forwarding men and labourers, 48 hours week, 9s 6d per day. Men working on passenger trains are to be provided with one uniform per annum. Permanent way department, 48 hours week, gangers, 11s per day; all other employees 9s 6d; time to be allowed to bring tools home. All overtime to be paid for at the rate of time and quarter. Holidays, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Christmas Day, Boxing Day, and New Year's Day. This award is to remain in force for three years. It means an increase of 1s a day for guards, 6d for shunters, but nothing extra for labourers. The award does not meet with favour from the officials of the union.

UNEMPLOYED IN THE WEST.

PERTH, Monday.

The Labour Federation has considered the recommendation of the executive that the Government be requested to call together the Cabinet to deal with the unemployed difficulty. The feeling prevailed that the Government had not done much to improve the position. According to the secretary of the federation, Mr. Green, M.L.A., beyond making promises the Government had done little. The recommendation was adopted.

MAORI FOOTBALLER INJURED.

In the course of the Rugby Union match, New South Wales v the Maori team, at the University Oval, yesterday afternoon, Samuel Piki, 27, was badly injured through another player falling on him. He was carried from the ground suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg.

The Civil Ambulance took the Maori half-back to the Royal Prince Alfred Hospital, where he was admitted.

TRAIN KILLS HORSES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

A sensational accident took place near Tallarook on Saturday evening, when the train from Melbourne to Seymour overtook and killed three horses which were running along the track. There were 200 passengers on the train.

When pulled up the train was firmly on the rails, but the animals' bodies and severed limbs were held by the engine cow-catcher and the buffer, the beam of which had been badly damaged by the collision. These parts had to be removed.

LABOUR AND REGISTRY OFFICES

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I notice that Mr. J. J. Morrish, M.L.A., as secretary of a Labour union, introduced a deputation to the Minister for Labour, having for its object restrictive legislation against registry offices. Mr. Morrish said it was an inequitable arrangement to make the employee pay all the fees, and that many of the offices charged exorbitant fees. If Mr. Morrish were not connected with that gigantic registry office, viz., the Trades Hall, one might regard his actions as philanthropic, but seeing that he is secretary of a union, and consequently interested in the Trades Hall, only one conclusion can be drawn, and that is he is taking one step more toward drawing the whole of the employees into the Trades Hall registry organisation. Mr. Morrish's wheeze about the inequitableness of employees paying all the fees sounds very pretty, but what are the arrangements at the Trades Hall office? According to the official returns for 1911 in New South Wales the wage-earners paid to their several unions the sum of £163,488, out of which £146,959 was expended, the management and "other" expenses absorbing no less than £107,773. Yet Mr. Morrish whines about the registry offices charging exorbitant fees. One thing in favour of the free registry offices is that the applicants pay only once, viz., when the situation is obtained for them, while the Trades Hall registry office exacts payment all the time, week after week, year after year, billet or no billet. When I see the sleek and well-cared-for officials of unions around collecting the weekly dues from the workers, whether they be factory girls, laundry girls, shop girls, charwomen, office-cleaners, or what not, I often wonder whether they (the officials, not the workers) regard themselves as doing a philanthropic work, or do they smile because they are on a good wicket. It is quite plain that a big effort is being made to get all sections of workers into the Trades Hall registry office, as by so doing all must become unionists before they could hope to get employment, and the deputation on the 29th was a move in that direction. Mr. Morrish and his confreres' good intentions lie in one direction, not "pro bono publico," but for the consolidation of Trades Hall interests. A case illustrating how "the employee pays all the fees" (which Mr. Morrish reprobates) came under my notice this week: A unionist came from another State to Sydney. He applied at the Trades Hall; but before the officials would speak about employment a fee had to be paid, and though he has been here several weeks he is still among the unemployed. Of course, this is one of the disabilities of being a unionist, as the man, relying upon the Trades Hall, calls at the office twice a day, in the hopes of hearing of a job, whereas if he were free he could apply to a bona-fide registry office such as Mr. Morrish protests against, and the chances are he would be more quickly provided with suitable employment. Mr. Morrish may be a philanthropist, but his latest move does not point beyond Trades Hall.

I am, etc.,
May 9. A. WORKER.

MOUNT VICTORIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In your issue of June 4 I read a letter coming from G. V. F. Mann, wherein he seems to cast a doubt as to the names Mount Victoria and One Tree Hill. One-tree Hill was not what was then, and is still known, as Mount Victoria, but a small place about one mile on the Sydney side. I believe that it received its name from the teamsters, and also from the fact that on the summit there stood one large tree. The place became more noted when the railway was being constructed. A person by the name of George Mathews built an hotel there, and removed from Emu Plains to take possession, in the year 1864, after the construction of the railway. He removed from there to Kelso, and kept an hotel formerly owned by William Cornwall; but the One-Tree Hill was known by that name much earlier than the date I have mentioned.

I am, etc.,
J. D. WAINWRIGHT.
Wallerawang, June 4.

TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1913.

A PROJECT OVERDUE.

It is something that the first sod of the railway from Wyalong to Lake Cudgellico has been turned. The project is such an exceptionally promising one that it is high time that a beginning was made. In recent years many expensive resumptions of private estates have been effected which were successful in spite of the expense. We are certainly not going to say that they were not warranted. But amtit is none too soon that the State has turned its attention to this great expanse of State-owned land, peculiarly fitted for wheat-growing, which for some years—as has been frequently pointed out in the "Herald"—has only needed a railway to make it ready for closer settlement. Three private estates not far from this were resumed some years ago at an average cost of between £3 and £4 per acre. The result was that the cost to the State of providing a farm of 580 acres averaged about £2000. There are 1,500,000 acres of Crown land which, it has been claimed, will be served by the Wyalong-Cudgellico line. The expenditure necessary to bring that area within the range of settlement is the cost of 70 miles of railway—£234,944. That is to say, the proposal to open up Crown lands by a railway will cost the State about as many shillings as the resumption scheme cost pounds. Farms two or three times the size of those on the resumed estate could be provided, each at a tithe of the cost to the country. To put the same thing in another way, the State, by building a railway at a cost of under £250,000, should add £1 an acre on to the value of at least 1,000,000 acres of its own land.

For these reasons it is satisfactory, as far as it goes, that the first sod of this railway has been turned. At the same time, interesting though that ceremony is, it does not of itself enable a sack of wheat to be carried or a single lamb to be trucked. It is to be hoped that the immediate progress of the line will not begin and end with this celebration at its starting point. The railway is long overdue. According to the Public Works Committee, it promises to pay a profit of £8000 a year from the moment it is opened. The Temora-Wyalong railway of which it is the extension, paid its way from the very first. Within eight years of the opening of that line there were 15,000 tons of wheat produced along it. The question is not why the railway is being built now, but why it was not built before. That was the question which Mr. M'Gowen put to Mr. Wade when the latter advocated the building of railways into this area as part of the Liberal programme in 1910. A Labour Government has been in power for two and a half years since then, and the amount of construction for which it is responsible is represented by a turned sod. It must be remembered that the railway thus begun is only one branch of a system of three railways which will be necessary to make full use of the 2,700,000 acres of Crown lands in this district. That system has been advocated in these columns for years. If a real start is now made with the branch from Wyalong to Cudgellico, that is so much to the good. But the railway from Barellan to Gunbar, and thence to Hillston—the first portion of which has already been recommended by the Public Works Committee—is equally necessary; and so, eventually, will be the parallel line from Barmedman to Rankin's Springs. This block of valuable Crown lands needs, as Mr. Wade has said, a gridiron of railways to return its full value to the State. There is no question of that value if the scheme is rightly carried out. Australian farmers have shown what they can do on the Wyalong-Temora line. The district is a wheatfield to-day. But one precaution is necessary. It is clearly advisable that the men who are put on this sort of country should be farmers of Australian experience, and not newcomers. This area calls for good farming along Australian lines. And it will also be inadvisable to make the blocks in this subdivision too small. If a farmer finds himself pinched for land, he is apt to neglect the fallowing which is essential to good farming. The areas should be of such size that farmers will be induced to fallow, if possible, half their cultivated land each season. Only on that system does wheat-farming become a safe occupation in these districts of light rainfall.

PEACE OR WAR?

The one feature of the negotiations for peace in the Balkans on which all critics appear to be agreed, and in which all appear to acquiesce, is the dominant position occupied by Sir Edward Grey. His great reputation was to some extent weakened when, five years ago, he ineffectually protested against the Austrian advance which involved a breach of the Treaty of Berlin. Great Britain, in consequence, lost ground in Turkey, and there seemed some danger lest Russia should be detached from the triple understanding. At the beginning of the war the first place among the statesmen of Europe was assumed by M. Poincare, then Foreign Secretary, and now President, of the French Republic. But M. Poincare's proposed formula of disinterestedness was taken to show a willingness to accept words for things which was hardly likely to ensure peace or to prevent war from spreading. In the conduct of the peace negotiations, Sir Edward Grey, as the representative of the only Power besides France which could claim to be disinterested, has been given control of affairs by common consent. He has had the very difficult task of not only bringing the major and minor statesmen of Europe together, but of preventing them from flying apart as soon as they had met. It is owing to his efforts that peace has been signed between Turkey and the allies, and it will be owing to his efforts if, as now seems probable, the Servians and Bulgarians settle their differences without additional fighting. No doubt the attitude of Germany has greatly contributed to the maintenance of peace. It is generally believed that the Emperor's peremptory veto alone prevented Austria from a declaration of war. But Sir Edward Grey has gained the credit of having kept the concert of Europe together, and of ensuring obedience to its commands. He has had to encounter the traditional Russian policy of saying one thing at St. Petersburg and another at the scene of action; the anxiety of both Austria and Italy to make some profit out of the settlement, as well as the quarrels of the allies.

Sir Edward Grey's work has quite recovered for Great Britain the ground lost five years ago, and restored the reputation of her diplomacy to a position similar to that held by it in the days of Palmerston and Lord John Russell. The immediate danger still lies in the possibility of a war breaking out between Bulgaria and her two allies. It seems obvious that the original treaty cannot be carried out without injustice to Servia, since the Albanian territory has been carved out of that portion of the spoils appropriated by her. But the compensation demanded, with the consent of the Greeks, was altogether beyond what the Bulgarians could be expected to concede. The demand, moreover, appears to have been aggravated by the conduct of Servian soldiers in districts inhabited mainly by men of the Bulgarian race. It is a bad sign that the Cabinet of Dr. Daneff has resigned, and has been succeeded by one less anxious for a peaceful settlement. On the other hand, there are two powerful agents of peace in Sir Edward Grey and the Russian Government. The Balkan States will be forced to realise that another war, besides being a crime against humanity, may lead to their own very severe punishment. The Czar in this matter holds a position different from that of any other European monarch. By the treaty of alliance, it was left to him to name the destination of the very small portion of territory not allotted to either of the allies. Now that the Servians and Greeks wish to ignore the treaty, the Czar acts in the dual capacity of arbitrator and head of the Slav race. For obvious reasons it is to be hoped that peace will be preserved in obedience, rather to the command of the Powers than to the armed intervention of Russia. Even if Russia were to attack only the State clearly in the wrong, there would be the gravest danger of a return to the critical situation of last March.

A COUNTRY PARTY.

This year, when the Farmers and Settlers' Association of New South Wales holds its annual conference, it will have to decide a question more important than any which have hitherto vexed its councils, and a question moreover which will have an immense influence on the political destinies of this State. The principal item on the agenda is the attitude which the association will adopt in the forthcoming State elections. Hitherto the position of the association has been rather intangible. Its platform has been "the land and the interests thereof," an extremely praiseworthy ideal, which either party unites in claiming for its own. But hitherto the farmers and settlers have refrained from committing their future definitely into the care of anyone. It may be that they inspect both; it may be that they prefer to hold their weight in the scale to benefit the one who is prepared to bid frankly for the support of the country versus the town; it may be that they are gathering forces to bring upon the stage a rural as opposed to an urban party. Or (and this is the most reasonable conjecture) they are simply trying at this conference to find out what policy will best make for the wellbeing of the country; and, both as a cause and a consequence, for the wellbeing of the cities, and as a result of the whole for the wellbeing of New South Wales. The conference has several courses open to it. It may ally itself to one of the two principal parties. It may declare itself an independent, which in the present state of politics is as much as to confess oneself without the courage of one's convictions. Or it may endeavour to create a new "country" party, and in such an endeavour fall between two stools.

In New South Wales a party which specifically declares its intention of standing for country interests alone reminds one forcibly of the princess in the nursery story who cut off her nose to spite her face. At the most, what would a country party ask for? A progressive railway policy and a progressive land policy. Each of these belongs to the platforms of the State Government and the State Opposition, though in either case different principles of development have been adopted. The country may object to the prospect of a North Shore bridge, but the country forgets that its existence will provide quicker and cheaper transport to shipboard of the whole of the wool and wheat and ore which now have to reach Circular Quay and Darling Harbour by a circuitous route. The country must realise that it is not merely connected with the State geographically, but intimately involved in the State by economic considerations. It is like the old fable of the body and its members. None can set itself in apposition to the other or all will fail. The country cannot dissociate itself from the party questions which divide the politics of this State. It if tries to do so it will inevitably mean that the towns are given control. The lesson of the past few months is plain to read. The country, which, after all, feeds us and clothes us, and helps the towns to justify their existence, can, if it will, exercise an immense, even a preponderant, voice in the conduct of the State affairs. If it throws in its lot with good government, it can count upon a reasonable prospect of success. If it tries to play a lone hand it courts almost certain failure, and the results of the ambition of a "country" party will be to throw the government of New South Wales into the control of the industrial element which is concerned with the towns.

MARTYRDOM AND MADNESS.

We shall, no doubt, be accused of a cynical bias against the militant suffragists in England when we say that the death of Miss Emily Davison, as a result of injuries received in overthrowing the King's horse at the Derby last Wednesday, is just the event which the leaders of the movement have been hoping for so long. At last a martyr has perished for the cause. At last it will be possible to indict Cabinet Ministers as murderers as well as torturers of women. Compared with this glorious death, this maiming, if not killing, of an innocent racehorse and jockey, the end of the lives of sailors who are drowned in the act of heroic rescue, of firemen suffocated, of soldiers shot, of the Captain Scotts and Lieutenant Oateses, fades into paltry insignificance. Incendiarism in 1831, breaking down of railings in Hyde Park in 1867—they were the puny pinchbeck child's play of brutal man. This is the genuine article. This is not mere satire. We are convinced that the militant suffragists think these thoughts and feel these sentiments. We feel, however, in regard to this woman's death that it is not martyrdom: it is madness. It is not heroism; it is fanaticism. Already the Women's Social and Political Union are arranging to obtain the greatest possible advertisement for the movement out of the funeral of Miss Davison. But there is something revolting in the holding aloft as it were of her dead body as if it were some flaming poster or illuminant sign advertising the cause with which she was associated.

This foolish fanatic was not an ignorant woman; she possessed a University degree and considerable culture and charm of personality. No one can doubt her sincerity or enthusiasm. Yet she was so devoid of commonsense and foresight and practical wisdom that she was unable to see that the very act upon which she risked and actually lost her life was calculated to alienate that sympathy which she sought, and postpone the very end to which she devoted all her energies and abilities. Notoriety may be gained in seizing the horse belonging to the King. But every loyal British subject will consider the act an outrage on his sovereign. Every lover of animals will condemn an attack upon a creature which has certainly not done, and is not in a position to do, harm to the cause of woman's suffrage. Consistency is said not to be a strong point in woman's character. Whatever be the case with the sex, taken as a whole, we confess to bewilderment at all this burning of property, destruction of works of art, and attacks on factories, involving considerable unemployment of work people. If the women of England desire to obtain the franchise they can only secure it by the votes of men in Parliament, who are dependent upon the support of their constituents. Every one of these criminal acts is calculated so to rouse the indignation of the general public as to make it exceedingly difficult for members of Parliament to support the movement, even if they are personally so inclined. Meanwhile the Government must deal with these enemies of society with the utmost vigour.

GREATER SYDNEY.

It is of interest to realise that while we are contemplating widening our municipal powers, in the United States a movement in exactly the opposite direction is taking place. In April last Jersey City, the chief centre in the State of which President Woodrow Wilson was, till lately, the Governor, decided to give a trial to commission government in place of municipal government with aldermanic control. In the State of New York, also, they are making not a little progress in the matter of municipal government. An Act has just passed the State Legislature at Albany giving a larger measure of home rule to the cities of this State somewhat on the lines that have been proposed in connection with the Greater Sydney scheme. These cities are to have complete power to control their waterfronts and waterways, to establish, operate, and regulate docks, piers, wharfs, warehouses, and all adjuncts to, and facilities for, navigation and commerce, also bridges, tunnels, ferries, and approaches thereto, to grant franchises or rights to use the streets, waters, waterfronts, and public ways, to construct and maintain public buildings, with the usual grant of power for the maintenance of order, the protection of life and property, and the preservation of health, comfort, and general welfare of the inhabitants of the city and visitors thereto. There is included a provision empowering the municipality to regulate and license occupations and businesses. The city is given authority to establish and administer hospitals, sanatoriums, dispensaries, public baths, alms-houses, reformatories, gaols, and other charitable and correctional institutions, to relieve, care, and instruct children, poor, sick, infirm, defective, insane, or inebriate persons, to provide for the burial of indigent persons, to supervise and control eleemosynary or reformatory institutions, either wholly or partly under private control, and so forth. We have already directed attention to the fact that in the United States, and, as far as we can judge, more particularly in the western States, the civic spirit has been developed in a way that is quite unknown in Australia. There the work of the civic authorities is not something to be sneered at, as is so often the case here. They have, instead, in some way got right to the hearts of the people, and the result is self-evident to even the most casual visitor.

The Week in London.—Our special correspondent this week has some interesting comment upon aerial defence in his letter from London (page 3). An effort is being made to lift this important question out of the dust of party politics. He has also something to say about old age. The experts are beginning to find that the best work of the world is being done by old men. Cricket and its prospects for the season cover the rest of the ground.

Greater Sydney.—Some authorities have proposed that Greater Sydney should, at the outset, embrace the territory from Parramatta to the ocean, and from Middle Harbour to George's River. Their argument is that it is all one city. In giving evidence on this point before the Greater Sydney Commission, Mr. John Garlick, officer in charge of the local government branch of the Public Works Department, said that while he agreed that the area all belonged to one city, it did not follow that the time was ripe for putting its detail work all under one local governing machine, nor did it follow that they would be able to create suddenly a machine which would at once work efficiently over so vast a territory. Although it was all one city, it had not reached the same degree of development. "If," he said, "there were no other functions for the new city than ordinary municipal work, my view would be that we should incorporate under one city government those parts of the greater city which are about equally densely populated and about equally heavily rated. These are the parts which would feel no violent wrench in the making of the change. Then we might make provision for the gradual growth of the city automatically. As soon as suburbs which adjointed the city grew to a certain standard density of population they should be amalgamated with the city. In the meantime the council of the city should have power to control town-planning for a certain distance outside its boundaries in those districts which must inevitably become part of the city territory in the not too distant future."

Not Afraid of Barry.—Harry Pearce, who is to row Ernest Barry, the holder of the world's sculling championship, on July 21, on the Thames, wrote by yesterday's mail, stating that he was still confining his water practice to one outing a day, but that on May 14 he would commence to do two outings a day. "I was out with Ernie Barry this week," he adds, "and whilst I could not help admiring his skill, I saw nothing in his work of which I should be afraid." Pearce says he is keeping well, and within the requisite weight.

NEW SETTLERS.

PARTY OF EX-SERVICE MEN.

The hon. secretary of the British Immigration League (Mr. Easton) has been notified of the departure by the Beltana for New South Wales of a party of specially-selected ex-service men and reservists, drawn from the Royal Navy, Royal Horse and Field Artillery, 13th Hussars, and 17th Lancers. Their average age is 29 years.

PERSONAL.

VICE-REGAL.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Edeline Strickland gave a dinner party last night at State Government House in honour of the Mayor and Mayoress of Perth. The following were invited, viz., the Mayor and Mayoress of Perth, the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of Sydney, Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Sir Joseph and Lady Carruthers, Mr. and Mrs. Meeks, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Knox, Mr. Kelso King, Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt.

His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by Miss Strickland, and attended by Captain Talbot and Captain Forbes, were present at the races at Randwick yesterday. His Excellency lunched with the president and committee of the A.J.C.

His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by Captain Talbot, A.D.C., presided at the annual central rescue meeting of the Salvation Army at the Town Hall last night.

Mrs. Smith, wife of the Moderator of the Presbyterian Assembly, had tea with Lady Edeline Strickland yesterday.

Mr. Joseph Cook, leader of the Federal Liberal party, left Melbourne by the express yesterday for Sydney. He will return to Melbourne at the end of the week.

The Commonwealth Attorney-General, Mr. W. M. Hughes, left for Melbourne by last night's express.

Mr. G. E. Foster, the Canadian Minister for Trade and Commerce, left Melbourne by the Sydney express yesterday afternoon to catch the Inaba Maru on Wednesday for Hongkong. He intends to make a tour of China and Japan before returning to Vancouver. Prior to his departure from Melbourne, Mr. Foster said that he believed his visit to Australia would be fruitful of good results with regard to establishing better trade relations between the Commonwealth and Canada.

Sir J. Henniker Heaton, who through persistent advocacy was mainly instrumental in bringing about Imperial penny postage, arrived in Melbourne yesterday by the R.M.S. Medina. Lady and Miss Heaton accompany Sir J. Henniker Heaton, who leaves to-day for Sydney.

At a meeting of the parochial council of All Saints' Church, Singleton, the following motion was carried:—"That the parishioners and people of Singleton show their gratitude for the many great and generous gifts made by the late Mr. A. A. Dangar to the church and town, by erecting, in the eastern ambulatory of All Saints' Church, windows to his memory."

Archdeacon White, who was seized with sudden illness at Armidale last week, is still very low. A telegram from Armidale last night states that he was in a critical condition, and very weak.

Mdlle. Adeline Genee, the famous dancer, who arrived from Vancouver by the Makura on Saturday, left last evening for Melbourne.

Mr. W. J. Allen, fruit expert and irrigationist to the New South Wales Department of Agriculture, is leaving at the end of the month for a trip around the world. He will visit California, the United Kingdom, the Continent, and Egypt.

Prior to his departure on a six months' holiday, Mr. Duncan Ross, of the Superintendent of Lines' staff of the Railway Department, was presented by his fellow officers with a camera, the presentation being made by Mr. Blanch.

Miss Zara Wolinski, the Sydney singer who left for London some months ago, states in letters to friends that she is under one of the leading teachers, and is being trained for opera. She mentions that Miss Rosina Buckmann is proving one of the most successful of the Australian singers in England, and that her brother, Mr. Joe Wolinski, has a picture entitled "From Bushranger's Hill" (Newport, N.S.W.) hung on the line in the Royal Academy.

Mr. W. H. Felstead, of Beath, Schiess, and Felstead, warehousemen, of Melbourne, will leave for New Zealand by the Maheno tomorrow. Business and health reasons are responsible for the journey, which will occupy six weeks.

The Rev. Thomas Quinton, Anglican minister at Leopold (Vic.) is to act as locum tenens for the Rev. T. D. Reynolds at Drummoyne for six months.

The Rev. M. Hermann, formerly of St. Luke's, Sydney, and now of Clapton Presbyterian Church, London, according to advices received by yesterday's English mail, has been elected a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.

AN EARLY ELECTION PREDICTED.

ADDRESS BY MR. HUGHES.

FACING THE SITUATION.

The position of Federal politics was briefly reviewed by the Commonwealth Attorney-General, Mr. W. M. Hughes, in a speech which he delivered at Clontarf Pleasure Grounds yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the annual picnic in connection with the Trolley, Draymen, and Carters' Union.

In proposing the toast of the Federal Parliament, Mr. H. Rock (Sawmill Employees' Union) said there would need to be a system of thorough organisation infused into the Labour movement if success could be hoped for at the next elections, and he suggested that this organisation might be entered upon in time for the coming State elections. No one could tell now how things were going, so far as party politics were concerned. But it was quite evident, from the result of the referendum voting, that the Labour party, in piling up the "yesses" to such a tremendous extent as compared with the previous referendum figures, had achieved a great deal against the misrepresentation and the opposition of the press.

Mr. Hughes (who is president of the Trolley, Draymen, and Carters' Union) said he wished things were as satisfactory in the Federal Parliament as they were in the union. That, unfortunately, they could not say. As matters political now stood, it was unwise to say what might happen, or what could happen. These probabilities and possibilities were all locked in the bosom of time. At the elections Labour had, however, done something that it could be proud of, it had shown its virility and power. Faced by most systematic efforts on the part of its opponents (who had on their side everything that money could give and that money could move), it had put up the unique performance of having scored more votes throughout Australia than the Fusion party. It was a party that spoke of Australia rather than for any particular part of it. The majority of votes in Australia was still behind the Labour movement. Nothing gave him personally greater satisfaction than to realise that his party, though not having carried the referendum, had shown that the will of the people of Australia was enormously greater in the affirmative than it was in 1911. The proposal to regulate trusts was only 5000 behind for the whole of the Commonwealth. This worked out at less than 70 votes in each constituency. He mentioned the case of his own electorate, West Sydney, and stated that those known to be Labour voters who did not vote would alone have provided a majority sufficient to have made the vote an affirmative one. About 25,000 votes were polled in this electorate out of 43,000 on the rolls. Those who did not record their votes would have upon their shoulders the onus of what would occur in the next three years. But no Government could do any permanent good for the country without some of these powers being provided. It seemed to him very probable that the Parliament would not last its term. He predicted that the people would have an opportunity very shortly to speak again, perhaps within 12 months.

It was apparent now to all that matters had been taken too easily. Things were not done that should have been done. A very different state of organisation should be in thorough working order before the next appeal was made. Though things looked wet and gloomy one day there would be the sunny side to follow. It would be absolutely necessary at the next appeal to the people for the Labour party to win several seats. There was an abundant reserve of forces which could quite change the present position. Many people did not bother to record their votes because they took the view that their man was "all right." The situation would have to be faced in a determined fashion, and it would be wise to have everything in readiness well inside of the 12 months. Whatever side should be in office meanwhile the will of the people would have to prevail. There was no doubt that the voice of the people for the last 20 years had been in the direction of Labour. No movement had done more for the people, and he had no doubt that when the time came for the public voice to be spoken again through the ballot-box the Labour party would be returned with a working majority. (Applause.)

KING'S BIRTHDAY.

COLD AND WET.

HOW THE DAY WAS SPENT.

The celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the King was not favoured by what was once known as "Queen's weather." Before daylight atmospheric conditions were not promising, for there were intermittent showers, which increased in frequency later on, and a keen south-east wind added to the unpromising state of things out of doors. Indeed, between 8 and 9 o'clock several hail storms passed over the city and suburbs in quick succession, clothing the streets and parks in white.

In such depressing circumstances it was impossible to enjoy outdoor recreation with anything like comfort and cheerfulness unless the citizens were blessed with the disposition of a Mark Tapley. Probably a large percentage of the people, who, under less trying conditions would have swelled the tide of excursionists to the various holiday resorts by sea and river, preferred to remain within doors, and there was an absence of that rush for the steamers which on a fine day renders the scene at Circular Quay so full of animation. The special trains to the country also suffered from restricted patronage.

In the morning there was some doubt whether the Australian Jockey Club would be able to continue its winter meeting, commenced so auspiciously on Saturday, but the managing committee proceeded with the programme in the presence of a considerable number of turf enthusiasts, who, well-wrapped up, braved the biting wind and penetrating rain. There were two events in football circles that attracted much attention from admirers of that form of winter sport. The close finish between the New Zealand thirteen and the New South Wales representatives in the Rugby League on Saturday served to enhance the interest in the return match, and some thousands of spectators assembled on the Sydney Cricket Ground to witness the struggle for supremacy in an arena which was partially flooded. The first appearance of the Maori team this season in competition with the champions of the State at the Rugby Union game took place on the University Oval, and the contest was also watched by a fair crowd.

There were afternoon performances at most of the theatres and other places of entertainment and, notwithstanding the rain, they were well supported by holiday-makers.

TRAFFIC RETURNS.

DECREASE ON RAILWAY AND TRAMS.

The heavy rain that fell yesterday had its reflex in the rail and tramway receipts, for there were 33,708 fewer passengers carried on the railways than there were on the King's Birthday in 1912. The decrease in revenue was £386 17s 4d.

The figures for all railway lines yesterday, as compared with 1912, were as follow:—Last year—Suburban, 66,198 passengers, revenue £681 14s 10d; this year, 56,386 passengers, revenue £446 18s 11d. Last year—Illawarra: 51,391 passengers, revenue £1070 4s 11d; this year, 33,453 passengers, revenue £359 15s. Last year—Northern: 25,050, £494 9s 3d; this year, 22,557, £433 4s 7d. Last year—Western: 6374, £413 10s 2d; this year, 4417, £253 6s 8d. Last year—Southern: 4912, £430 16s 6d; and this year, 3404, £226 12s 2d, giving totals for last year of 153,935 passengers, and revenue £2099 14s 8d, while the figures for this year were 120,217 passengers, and £1712 17s 4d revenue.

"There were no figures on the tramway system to-day," said Mr. J. A. Kneeshaw, the Superintendent of Tramways, last night.

A full holiday service was available for the races and the football matches, but the cars could have carried three or four times the number that patronised them, he said.

Coogee, Bondi, and such resorts were deserted.

A WIDOW'S DISTRESS.

HUSBAND'S MATES ASSIST HER.

BLACKTOWN, Monday.

Mr. Napier, who was injured at Prospect quarry on Monday, has succumbed to his injuries, leaving a wife and eight children, the youngest only six weeks old.

Immediately after the accident all the employees at the quarry promptly agreed to give the widow one day's pay each, which amounted to upwards of £60.

WHEAT HANDLING.

AMERICAN EXPERT'S VIEWS.

STATE'S WASTEFUL SYSTEM.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

LAKE CUDGELLICO, Monday.

Mr. G. T. Burrell, of Chicago, who has been specially commissioned by the State Government to report on the methods in New South Wales of trucking and shipping wheat adopted in New South Wales, has looked into the way the grain is handled in the Wyalong district.

Mr. Burrell, inspecting the central Wyalong station, stated that the method adopted by the farmers and railway authorities was wasteful. "If I told them in America," said Mr. Burrell, pointing to a heap of wheat on the ground, "that that had escaped from a sack; that they spill the grain about like that, and in such a wholesale way, they would say I was exaggerating. But here you see the wheat escaping from all these bags, some of which are rotten through exposure to the elements. It certainly keeps the cattle hereabouts fat."

A horse was breakfasting contentedly on the wheat on the ground that had escaped from the sacks. There was also clear evidence that other stock had been feeding.

PRIMITIVE METHODS.

"If this is the way they do business in this country I don't want to live here," declared the Chicago visitor emphatically, as he pointed to a number of bags stuffed with wheat, the cornsacks being quite flimsy, and full of holes, through rain and frost and heat. At many points the wheat was spilling out. The wheat was actually sprouting through some of the sacks. Mr. Burrell pointed this out. He cut the bags open, and it was seen beyond question that the wheat was germinating and growing through the bags. This was the case with quite a number of bags.

SCATHING CRITICISM.

"What I want to show you is," said Mr. Burrell, "that all this exposure to the weather means loss to the farmer and the miller. Just look at the grain next to these decaying bags." The wheat expert's knife ripped open a sack that was already discharging its contents on to the ground. The wheat at the top of the aperture was dirty and smutty, and the appearance of it prompted the American to observe, "In our country any wheat like that on the outside would disqualify the whole bag. This bag is musty, and the mustiness is caused by the outside kernels in the bag deteriorating, owing to the water finding its way in."

SYSTEM OF STACKING.

Mr. Burrell next directed attention to the way the wheat was stacked alongside the rails in the station yards. The foundations of the stacks were logs of wood laid on the ground. The bags were built to a height of about 20 feet, and were some 20 feet in width. The only protection from the weather consisted of sheets of galvanised iron laid on the top, and held down by logs thrown across them. The sides of the stacks were all exposed to the elements. "The water will run over the sides of the stack," said Mr. Burrell, "and just damage the outside layers of wheat in the bags, and help to rot the covering material; but any rain that finds a hole through the impromptu roof would pollute the stack right through. No wonder that so much of your wheat in New South Wales does not reach the highest standard of excellence."

WASTE BY VIBRATION.

Mr. Burrell, indicating the number of bags that were having the contents squeezed out of them, and others that were just beginning to dribble through minute holes, said: "When these bags are placed on the trucks the vibration of the train journey will shake a good deal more of the wheat out. The aggregate yearly loss from this cause alone must be enormous. The remedy for it is a box car, which will hold some 40 tons, and at the other end the elevator system. I figure it out that in a few years the farmers, by a system of co-operation, could pay for the erection of elevators out of what they would save from the waste that now goes on from the loss of grain and the extra bags required to take the grain to the ship's side. The wheat would also be marketed in better quality."

THE AMERICAN WAY.

Mr. Burrell said that the farmers in the United States and Canada would not dream of sending their wheat to market in the way the New South Wales farmers did. "Cases have come under my notice," he added, "showing that the loss through deterioration and leakage through the weather-worn bags is very heavy. It hurts me to see all this waste."

THE NESTOR.

A MAMMOTH LINER.

COMING TO AUSTRALIA.

The new Blue Funnel liner Nestor, which is at present on her maiden voyage to Australia, carried out her trials in a most satisfactory manner on April 28.

The Nestor will be the largest liner which has ever visited Australia, having a gross tonnage of 14,500 and a loaded displacement of about 26,900 tons. She was built by Messrs. Workman, Clark, and Co., Limited, and has accommodation for 340 first-class passengers, occupying the midship portion of three decks. A large number of cabins have single berths, though the majority of rooms are arranged for two, three, or four persons. The dining saloon on the main deck extends the full width of the vessel, and contains small tables and moveable chairs. A room adjoining the dining-room is provided for children. A broad oak staircase leads from the dining saloon to the entrance hall on the promenade deck. The music saloon opens off the main entrance hall, and has a raised central roof, giving it a lofty appearance. A social lounge and smokeroom are also prominent features. A system of steam heating has been arranged throughout the vessel, and each section is under separate control. The vessel is lighted throughout with electricity, and electric call bells are fitted in all staterooms and public rooms.

There are seven holds for cargo, one of which has been insulated, as are also the after 'tween decks. Each hold is provided with steam winches and special gear for handling cargo. A system of steam pipes for extinguishing fires has been arranged to each hold and 'tween decks. The propelling machinery consists of two independent sets of triple-expansion engines.

SHORT-DATED LOANS.

DISCARDED BY NEW ZEALAND.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Monday.

Speaking at Christchurch, Mr. Fraser, who acted as Minister for Finance during Mr. Allen's absence in England, condemned the system of short-dated debentures.

Borrowing money on a four or five years' term, he said, was not good business. He believed that Mr. Allen had, in spite of difficulties, come back with money available for immediate requirements. The system upon which the Government obtained this money would be continued in future. There would be no more short-dated debentures, so long as the Government remained in office. He hoped that no other Executive would ever again indulge in such bad financial tricks. It was gambling in "futures" and in the hope that the market would become more favourable. But it had never become so in the past.

STATE COAL MINE.

DEADLOCK IN VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The trouble at the State coalmine is still unsettled.

This morning representatives of the union again met Mr. Broome, general manager, on the question of the reinstatement of the two miners who were discharged for ceasing work before the recognised hour. Mr. Broome decided not to reinstate the men.

Subsequently a mass meeting of the men was held, and it was moved that a ballot be taken in the morning to decide what action should be taken. An amendment was moved as follows:—"That a special meeting of the union be called to-morrow to further discuss the matter, and that at the termination of the meeting an open ballot be taken on the question of returning to work."

Both the motion and the amendment were discussed at length, and eventually the meeting adjourned until to-morrow morning. No work will be done at the mine to-morrow.

DEADLOCK.

BALKAN POSITION.

AN ANGRY CONFERENCE.

SERVIAN DELEGATES RECALLED.

LONDON, June 9.

The Servian delegates have been recalled, and it is expected that the peace conference will be dissolved with the outstanding points of difference left unsettled.

There were several angry scenes at Saturday's sitting of the conference.

It transpires that but little progress has been made since May 31, and there were daily wranglings, which worked up to a climax on Saturday.

THE POWERS' DEMAND.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 9.

The Powers' communication to the Balkan allies and Turkey urging them to demobilise three-quarters of their forces is to be delivered to-day or to-morrow.

SERBO-BULGARIAN ANIMOSITY.

SOFIA, June 9.

The "Mir," a semi-official organ, declares that no Bulgarian Government would consent to a revision of the Serbo-Bulgarian Treaty unless the Servians abandoned their "foolish and provocative demands."

No good is expected to come of the proposed conference between the Premiers of the four allied States. This meeting, in any case, has been postponed owing to the Bulgarian Ministerial crisis.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

THE GERMAN STADIUM.

IMPRESSIVE FORMAL OPENING.

BERLIN, June 9.

The Stadium at Grunewald, where the next Olympic Games are to be held, was formally opened by the Emperor yesterday.

It includes the usual arena, with tracks for running and cycling events. There is also ample provision for the holding of football and swimming matches, and other sports. Seating accommodation is provided for 14,400 spectators, besides standing room for 12,470 others.

There were 30,000 spectators, despite the fact that standing room cost 2 marks.

General Podbielski greeted the Emperor and the Empress on behalf of 2,250,000 members of the affiliated sporting and athletic bodies.

Ten thousand military pigeons were released simultaneously, and they bore to all parts of Germany the Emperor's motto: "Ever Ready for the Empire's Glory."

Thirty thousand athletes, carrying 1000 banners, then marched past and saluted the Emperor, crying, "Heil!" First came 10,000 gymnasts, then 2000 cyclists, 4000 footballers, and great squads of lawn tennis players, swimmers, runners, skaters, and other athletes. Finally came 8500 boy scouts and 500 girl scouts. The Emperor stood for two hours returning the salutes.

The march past was followed by various athletic displays.

NAVAL DEFENCE.

THE EXTRA BATTLESHIPS.

A GERMAN VIEW.

BERLIN, June 8.

There has been but little comment on Mr. Winston Churchill's proposal for the acceleration of the building of three extra Dreadnoughts.

Captain Persius, the well-known naval authority, writing in the Berlin "Tageblatt," deplores that Mr. Churchill is grasping the opportunity to give the tax-gatherers' screw another turn. He points out that, as the extra battleships will be available in the North Sea, Germany will demand countervailing measures.

MARCONI CONTRACT.

LIBERALISM SUFFERS.

THE COMMITTEE CRITICISED.

"POLITICAL VENOM."

LONDON, June 9.

Many comments in the Liberal papers indicate that the disclosures in connection with the Marconi contract are adversely affecting Liberalism.

The "Westminster Gazette" deplores the mishandling of the affair, which, it declares, is hanging like a pall over all Government activities.

The "Daily Chronicle" welcomes the result of the "New Witness" libel case, but grumbles at Mr. Asquith's frequent non-attendance at the House of Commons.

The "Daily News" describes the committee which is inquiring into the Marconi contracts as "a discreditable centre of partisan conflict, which is as offensive on one side as on the other."

The paper adds that it is high time Parliament insisted on receiving the report of the committee, and a frank debate in the House would "clear the atmosphere of the poisonous suspicions which political venom has engendered."

Lord Murray of Elibank, ex-Liberal Whip, whose dealings in Marconi shares have led certain newspapers to demand that he should be examined by the committee, is at present in Ecuador negotiating certain oil contracts for the firm of Sweetman, Pearson, and Co., with which he is associated.

THE "NEW WITNESS" CASE.

JUDGE'S SUMMING UP.

In the course of his summing up to the jury in the trial of Cecil Chesterton, editor of the "New Witness," on a charge of libelling Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of the Marconi Company, whom he accused of corruptly conspiring with Sir Rufus Isaacs (Attorney-General) and Mr. Herbert Samuel (Postmaster-General), Judge Phillimore said that the English company might claim against Marconi and Godfrey Isaacs in connection with the profits made through placing the American shares on the market, but that had nothing to do with the libel which Chesterton was alleged to have published.

A SPY STORY.

CLAIM OF ARMGAARD GREAVES.

DISCREDITED IN ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, June 8.

Regarding the story of Armgaard Greaves, the ex-espionage prisoner—that he had secured possession of an agreement between Japan and Germany, whereby the latter was bound not to oppose Japan's colonisation scheme with the Southern hemisphere—the "New York American," which originally published the narrative, now declares that Greaves reiterates his previous statements.

Greaves declares that the dossier was stolen from a man named Schmidt aboard the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm, and that he and his accomplices occupied cabins on either side of that of Schmidt.

LONDON, June 9.

The "Daily Chronicle," after investigating Greaves's story, states that it has ignominiously collapsed. The navy list does not mention the officer whom Greaves states he met, and the alleged offices of the British Secret Service in Fleet-street do not exist, the telephone number mentioned by Greaves being that of a well-known dressmaker.

LABOUR.

RAILWAYMEN'S DEMANDS.

NON-UNIONIST QUESTION.

LONDON, June 9.

At a meeting of railwaymen at Burton-on-Trent last night, a resolution was agreed to in favour of an eight-hour day and a minimum wage.

Mr. Bellamy, the president, declared that the National Union programme would stipulate a general strike in order to compel non-unionists to join the unions.

TROUBLE IN SOUTH AFRICA.

JOHANNESBURG, June 9.

A strike has occurred among the Kleinfontein miners for the recognition of the union, and the trouble threatens to lead to a general strike throughout South Africa.

It is understood that the various trade unions have been instructed to draw up demands for submission to the employers before the declaration of a general strike.

DISASTROUS EXPLOSION.

ON SUBMARINE E5.

LONDON, June 9.

An explosion occurred on board the submarine E5 while running on the surface in the Bristol Channel yesterday.

The explosion destroyed the engines, killed the engineer, and seriously injured four others on board. In addition seven stokers were badly burned.

Engineer-Commander Moore, one of the injured, is in a critical condition. Both his legs were broken, and one of them has had to be amputated.

SLAVERY IN ASSAM.

CHARGES BY A MISSIONARY.

LONDON, June 8.

The "Chronicle" publishes statements from Dr. Fraser, a medical missionary in the Lushai Hills, Assam, accusing the British officials of countenancing slavery.

Families, he says, are ruthlessly sundered and sold to the chiefs.

Dr. Fraser charges the authorities with banning him from interfering with the customs of the country.

DISASTROUS WHIRLWIND.

100 LIVES LOST.

LONDON, June 8.

A whirlwind swept over Macao, a Portuguese settlement on the south coast of China, 40 miles from Hongkong, and as a result of the havoc wrought among the junks in the Canton River estuary 100 people were drowned.

During the storm a number of terrified boatmen fired bombs and crackers to propitiate the supposed anger of the gods.

CAPTURED BY PIRATES.

PARIS, June 8.

Advices from Hongkong state that pirates in the West River captured the steamer Robert Lebaudy, plying between Hongkong and Fuchow, and stole £2400 worth of specie.

A Chinese passenger was shot dead and six of the crew were wounded while defending the ship.

OFFICE BOY'S LUCK.

LONDON, June 8.

A well-known member of the Stock Exchange drew Aboyeur, the winner of the Derby, in a sweepstake. He was so disgusted with his luck that he presented the ticket to his office boy, who won £1875.

"FIRST MARTYR."

SUFFRAGIST'S DEATH.

MISS PANKHURST'S MANIFESTO.

"A PUBLIC FUNERAL."

LONDON, June 8.

Elizabeth Davison, the women's suffragist, who intercepted the King's horse in the race for the Derby, and was severely injured, died yesterday.

She never spoke after the incident on the course.

Her friends draped her bed with green, purple, and white (the suffragist colours) before her death.

An inquest is to be held on Thursday.

Deceased's family do not support the militant suffragists, but they are willing that the Women's Social and Political Union should conduct the funeral.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst has issued a manifesto, in which she states: "Miss Davison died in order to call attention to women's wrongs. Argument has failed to convince Mr. Asquith of the seriousness of the position, but perhaps death may. There will be a public funeral in honour of a soldier who has fallen in the war of freedom."

MORE INCENDIARISM.

Suffragists set fire to the grandstand and stables on the Hurst Park racecourse last night.

The fire was discovered at midnight, and about three-quarters of the grandstand, including the Royal boxes, was speedily destroyed. The outbreak in the stables was extinguished before much damage was done.

The pavilion of the North Middlesex Cricket Club at Crouch End was also burnt last night.

Six incendiary fires took place in Bradford on Saturday night.

The first was discovered in the offices of a firm of wool merchants, and the second in Harrison's printing works, where damage to the extent of £40,000 was done. The third case was in the premises of a firm of box-makers, 50 yards away. Later on a coach-builder's factory was discovered to be on fire, then the council's school burst into flame. Lastly, the premises of a packing case manufacturer were found to be alight, and in this case £10,000 damage was done before the flames were extinguished. The total damage is estimated at £80,000, and 400 hands have been thrown out of work in consequence of the fires.

During the fortnight a dozen outbreaks have occurred within 100 yards of Saturday's conflagrations. Women's suffragists are blamed for the incendiarism, but there is no direct evidence against them.

MRS. PANKHURST.

The license issued to Mrs. Pankhurst, on which she was released from prison, has expired. She is still very weak and confined to her bed, and it is believed that no attempt will be made to re-arrest her this week unless she attempts to leave her house.

THE ST. JAMES'S INCIDENT.

The three suffragists who were arrested while haranguing a crowd outside St. James's during the Balkan peace conference were brought before the Court this morning, and fined for obstruction.

CROWD V. SUFFRAGISTS.

Disorderly scenes were enacted in Hyde Park on Sunday when a meeting of militant suffragists was broken up by the crowd.

BANDITS' CRIME.

WARSAW, June 8.

Bandits robbed the passengers in a motor omnibus at Plock, a town 60 miles W.N.W. of Warsaw, and then took a steamer to Warsaw, where the detectives awaited them and captured two. These men were locked in a storehouse, while a third was being arrested.

When the storehouse was reopened to admit the third prisoner, the bandits fired Browning pistols, and killed five of the police. All the bandits escaped.

AUSTRALIAN LABOUR MARKET.

LONDON, June 9.

Mr. G. Prendergast, of Victoria, has handed to the "Daily Citizen" a warning from the Glass Bottlemakers' Union that there is no room for additional bottlemakers in Australia. Mr. Prendergast adds that the State Governments, who are encouraging immigrants, are not Labour Governments. Furthermore, they are not acting as philanthropists, but merely wish to keep down wages.

The departmental committee which has inquired into the conduct of the reformatory schools has recommended that conviction should not be essential for the reception of boys and girls into the schools. They suggest the abolition of punishment cells, no deprivation of meals, less rough work and drudgery, and more teaching of trades. They also suggest that girls should receive some corporal punishment, because the mere loss of marks and being "sent to bed" afford inadequate penalties.

Replying to a pamphlet in favour of federalism by consent, which has been issued by a number of Liberal members of the House of Commons, Earl Grey states that the first essential is the withdrawal of Home Rule, which reduces Ulster to an intolerable subserviency, and, if persisted in, must lead to bloodshed and civil war, as the Ulstermen will be robbed of autonomous rights and a just share of the representation in the Imperial Parliament.

BUENOS AYRES, June 9.

In regard to the representations made to the Government by six large Anglo-Argentine frozen meat firms to the effect that they would be compelled to close their factories if the conditions under which they were now working continued, it is stated that the Government is inclined to grant them protection against the American beef trust competition.

HARASSED ENTERPRISE.

THE HOSKINS CONTRACTS.

SUPPLIES FROM GERMANY.

The experiences of Messrs. G. and C. Hoskins ever since they took over the Lithgow ironworks some years ago have not been of a character likely to encourage others to embark on great industrial enterprises in this State. They have been harried and harassed by the Government, and have been stuck up time after time by labour unions. For a long time a sword of Damocles has been kept suspended over their heads by the Minister in the shape of a threat to establish State works in opposition to theirs, and as the Government are practically Messrs. Hoskins's only customers for cast-iron pipes, it follows that such a step would mean the virtual extinction of the costly enterprise they have established. The latest proposal of the Minister, it is stated, is to import steel pipes from Germany. The matter is to be discussed at a meeting of the Cabinet to-day.

Messrs. Hoskins's works at Rhodes, where a hundred men were employed, and where the services of about 200 would have been utilised, the firm states, if the contract had been secured by them, have been shut down for five months, in consequence of the action of the Minister in refusing to confirm the acceptance of the tender for the pipes required by the Water and Sewerage Board, and, in addition, the pipe-making department at their Wattle-street works is absolutely deserted, the latter situation arising from the want of pig-iron, the Lithgow furnace having been put out of action owing to failure to obtain coke from the South Coast, in consequence of the recent strike there. Altogether some hundreds of men are affected, and some of the families are in a state of distress.

In order to assist Messrs. Hoskins to take over the Lithgow works, Mr. Griffith's predecessor (Mr. Lee) agreed to extend their then existing contracts for supplies to the Works Department and the Water and Sewerage Board, the arrangement being for ten years in the case of the Works Department. This has not proved a good bargain for Messrs. Hoskins, who have to supply all requirements at the old rates, notwithstanding the fact that the wages have in the interim gone up about 25 per cent. In the case of the Water Board contract there was a maximum clause, which, when reached, was to terminate the arrangement. The firm, however, did not take advantage of this, but over-delivered pipes to the extent of 15,000 tons at the old rates. As to continue to supply pipes at these prices would involve more and more loss, the Water Board was approached, and fresh tenders were called for alternate contracts of two and four years, and Messrs. Hoskins' tender, at an advance of about 10 per cent., being the lowest, was recommended to the Minister for acceptance. The Minister, however, refused to confirm the acceptance, and set about making inquiries as to the price at which pipes were turned out at the Government works at Adelaide. These, he claimed, showed that Messrs. Hoskins' quotations were too high; but they, on their part, pointed out that the comparison was not a fair one, and, moreover, that the class of manufacture was different. At this stage a deputation, representative of various business interests, waited on the Minister in favour of coming to some arrangements with Messrs. Hoskins; but the Minister was adamant, and made a threat to establish State works. "And where will you be then, since we are practically your only customers?" he asked Mr. Hoskins.

Again, the Water Board called for tenders again that of Messrs. Hoskins was recommended for acceptance, and again the Minister has declined to confirm the recommendation. That is how the matter stands to-day. Now the Minister is said to be contemplating obtaining the supplies required from Germany.

Messrs. Hoskins spent considerably more than £100,000 in equipping their establishments with machinery for pipe making, the machinery at the Rhodes factory alone having cost over £40,000. That machinery is useless for any other purpose than the making of pipes. If the supplies are to be obtained from foreign sources, a death blow will be dealt to their enterprise.

SHIPPING DISPUTE.

FIRST OBJECTION SETTLED.

COMPANIES OVERRULED.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The second case in connection with the Merchant Service Guild affecting the jurisdiction of the Arbitration Court in regard to certain New South Wales shipping companies was before the High Court to-day.

Mr. Starke, who appeared for the North Coast Steam Navigation Company and seven other New South Wales shipping companies, raised the point that Mr. Justice Higgins had no power to state a case, because it was not within section 31 of the Arbitration Act.

Mr. Justice Isaacs said that whether there was an industrial dispute was primarily a question of fact, and whether there was evidence upon which the fact could properly be found was only a question of law, to be decided by the Court.

Mr. Starke said that a second question put to the Court was purely hypothetical, and did not arise in the proceedings. Mr. Justice Higgins had found that there was a dispute. It might be that it was only a threatened or pending dispute. The section required something definite to be stated.

Mr. Justice Duffy: Is it not something definite, even although it may be called by the wrong name?

Mr. Justice Higgins: I called a conference and it appeared to me there was an actual dispute. But, supposing the Court says there is no such dispute? Am I to go to arbitration with a threatened or probable dispute?

Mr. Starke: The difficulty is in the wording of the section.

Mr. Justice Higgins: No matter what I say your clients will not be pleased, Mr. Starke. They are not pleased at being brought to court. (Laughter.) The question is: Am I justified in going on with this matter if it has not reached the stage of an actual dispute?

Mr. Starke: If there is an actual dispute there cannot be a threatened dispute, and the President has said that there is an actual dispute.

Mr. Justice Higgins: If it is admitted that there is an actual dispute I can withdraw the second question.

Mr. Starke said he would ask the Court to say that this second question should not be answered.

Mr. Justice Duffy: Mr. Justice Higgins calls it an existing dispute. But he thinks it may be only a threatened dispute.

Mr. Starke submitted that the question No. 2 itself showed that it had nothing to do with the case. The idea of his Honor was to secure guidance for his mind for all time in all cases, and it did not particularly relate to the present case.

Mr. Bavin contended that the President of the Arbitration Court had to decide whether there was a dispute between the parties in the proceedings that were brought before his Court. He had to make up his mind whether he would go on with the hearing, or whether the Court would merely be wasting time in the matter.

Mr. Justice Barton said that during the hearing in the Court below the question arose whether there was a dispute in existence. It was incumbent upon the President of the Arbitration Court not to accept jurisdiction without some inquiry. The President had to assure himself that he was not proceeding on a futile hearing. He (Mr. Justice Barton) therefore held that the question arose during the course of the proceedings. On the other question, the President had said it appeared there was an actual dispute, or there was approximately a dispute. The preliminary objection of Mr. Starke failed. The other objection, that the High Court had no power to answer the questions submitted by Mr. Justice Higgins, had yet to be argued.

The other five Judges concurred in the decision, and the hearing of the main reference was then proceeded with.

The case stands part heard.

FIGHT WITH SAILORS.

TWO MEN STABBED.

SENSATIONAL ARRESTS.

NEWCASTLE, Monday.

At about 5.30 this afternoon a disturbance broke out among a number of sailors who had been drinking at an hotel at Stockton. Two men were stabbed, but the injuries were not serious.

The trouble broke out in the hotel, when it is alleged that a young man named Niel Petersen was struck with a stick by one of several Italian sailors who were drinking at the time. To prevent the trouble from extending in the hotel one person obtained a revolver and requested the sailors to leave the hotel at once. A crowd had assembled outside, and when the sailors came out the fight was continued.

It is said that two of the sailors drew knives. Petersen was stabbed in the back, and another young man named Ernest Peters was also stabbed. Sergeant Toohey arrived on the scene, and was successful in arresting one of the sailors. Later he attempted to go aboard the ship Australia with Constable Hogan and several civilians. The captain was not on the ship at the time, and some of the sailors placed the Italian flag across the gangway in order to prevent the police from coming aboard. Sergeant Toohey went aboard with the others, and arrested one of the sailors.

As the sergeant was taking his man down the gangway he was assaulted by other sailors. Reinforcements had been sent for, and two of the Newcastle police arrived on the scene. After a delay of about an hour on the ship 13 sailors were taken to the police station at Newcastle, but only three of them were charged. The others were sent to their ship.

One of the men who was stabbed was able to proceed home after being treated, but the other had to be taken to the hospital.

DISMISSED.

CHARGE AGAINST CONSTABLE.

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Considerable excitement was occasioned at Russell-street Police Barracks on Sunday night.

At about 20 minutes to 8 o'clock an altercation occurred amongst some of the men waiting to go on duty. Heated words passed between Constable George Lewis Colwell and Constable Edward Giddens with the result that the former is alleged to have threatened to blow Giddens's brains out, at the same time producing his revolver. Giddens states that when he saw the revolver pointed straight at him he grappled with Colwell, and called for assistance, and that Constable M'Cann then joined in the affray to assist Giddens.

M'Cann affirms that as he pulled Colwell's arm down the revolver went off. The bullet struck an iron post in the room, and glancing off embedded itself in the floor.

Giddens, who was greatly excited, decided not to report the matter until he came off duty this morning. Colwell was then dismissed from the force, and arrested on a charge of having shot at Edward Giddens with intent to murder.

PRIZE FIGHTING.

PROTEST AT BRISBANE.

A LIVELY DEPUTATION.

BRISBANE, Monday.

A large body of the ratepayers of South Brisbane, including ministers of religion, waited upon the South Brisbane City Council to protest against a boxing stadium being established in the city.

Canon Hay said that he objected neither to boxing nor to any other clean sport, but he objected to sport being made pure business.

The Rev Mr. Dunstan contended that boxing as conducted at stadiums was brutalising, and introduced the gambling element.

Mr. J. Gore said that he considered a boxing stadium was a upas tree which would blight the city.

Alderman Burke said that he thoroughly believed in boxing. Some members of the deputation had talked rot. He had a perfect right to see a boxing contest, and it was like the impudence of the deputation to tell him what he should do. He was willing to be judged by the ratepayers.

Voices: Will you resign and test the feeling of the ratepayers?

Alderman Burke: I will if you pay my expenses.

The Mayor said that in his opinion there was not much brutality attending boxing. He would not give a definite answer until the matter had been before the council again.

CHILD MURDERED.

CLOSE TO HER HOME.

BRISBANE, Monday.

A terrible tragedy is reported to have taken place last night at Samford, a few miles from the metropolis, the victim being a girl named Ivy Alexander, aged about 12 years.

The child was visiting some friends during the day, and left for home at about 4 o'clock. As she did not reach home by dark her father went in search, and found her lying dead with her throat cut. The body was a short distance from Parker State School.

A force of detectives and police proceeded to the scene, accompanied by a tracker. The police, it is believed, made an arrest at about 10 o'clock this morning.

ASYLUM INMATE KILLED.

SEVERAL OTHERS INJURED.

SENSATIONAL OCCURRENCE.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

On Wednesday an inmate of the Yarra Bend Asylum inflicted with an axe handle such serious injuries on another inmate that he died about midnight on Saturday.

Several of the inmates were engaged in milking in the cow yard, when the assailant suddenly jumped from his stool, caught up an axe handle, and began to belabour fiercely everybody within his reach. Most of those present were fortunate enough to get clear of the infuriated man after receiving some vigorous blows about the body; but the deceased was struck heavily across the head. He fell to the ground, where he lay until picked up by attendants.

The demented man next turned his attention to the carter, who received the axe handle on one of his elbows. There being nobody else to attack, he endeavoured to escape, but was captured by the attendants.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

Messrs. Edward Lucas and Co.'s premises at Balaclava were entered on Sunday at 3 a.m. The safe was blown open and £100 taken. The police have arrested three suspected persons.

ENGINEDRIVERS AND FIREMEN.

AGREEMENT FILED.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

As the result of a voluntary conference, held some time ago between the shipowners' representatives and the officials of the Federated Enginedrivers and Firemen's Association, an agreement was arrived at, and it came into operation on November 20 last. It was finally signed and filed in the Arbitration Court on Friday.

THE WHEAT BELT.

WYALONG TO CUDGELLICO.

ROUTE TRAVERSED.

CHANCES FOR SETTLEMENT.

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

WEST WYALONG, Monday.

With certain reservation, the Wyalong-Lake Cudgellico district may be pronounced a sound wheat-growing proposition.

The average rainfall is some inches under 20 a year, and before to-day grim drought has stalked through the region and made things so desolate that the district was, unfortunately, libelled by being officially designated "desert." It is on record that when the first telegraph line was put into this territory the drought had played such havoc that there was not a blade of grass to be seen, and it was with great astonishment that within quite recent years the official mind became enlightened. It became apparent that under modern methods this so-called desert could be made to blossom as the rose. One of the State's best wheat experts, when he came here and saw the grass growing shoulder-high, declared that there was hardly an acre that would not grow the money-making cereal.

THE SOIL'S CAPACITY.

The well-wisher of the State of New South Wales receives cheering evidence throughout the 75 miles lying between Wyalong and Lake Cudgellico of the but little advertised potentialities that it possesses there in parts. The Parliamentary party who assisted at the ceremony of turning the first sod of the railway between these points motored on Sunday from Wyalong to the famous lake. The party consisted of the Premier, who was accompanied by Mrs. M'Gowen, and members of both sides of the House. A string of speedy cars took the visitors over the route from Wyalong to Cudgellico, the transport arrangements being in the hands of Mr. A. G. Manning and Mr. D. N. Johns, officials of the local railway league.

The stock route which the party travelled over is some five miles longer than the railway route, and at no point more than three miles away from it, so that one gleaned a fair idea of the class of country that the line is to pass through. At Wyalong the visitors saw how wheat-growing was developing apace, and the cars and automobiles whirled them through country just as good as is to be seen around Wyalong. The proof of the agricultural pudding is in the eating. The soil is of a nice loamy character in the main, the preponderating looser kinds alternating with stiffer soils, and the colour changing from light red to deep red-brown and chocolate. Hardly a patch of poor land was to be seen, and one was reminded of Douglas Jerrold's apt description of Australia:—"The earth is so kindly there that tickle her with a hoe and she laughs with a harvest."

"NOT A BAD ACRE."

All the members of the Parliamentary party were most favourably impressed with the class of country they saw. "It is wonderful to think," remarked one country member, "that we have been over 75 miles of country with not a bad acre in the whole of it." It really is a revelation that along this 75 miles of railway now about to be built there are 2,000100 acres of land held by the Crown under improvement or other leases and privately, which, with railroad facilities, is fit for the plough. This area alone represents about two-thirds of the whole wheat area in the State now under crop. Under leases that are not convertible, and are resumable, the Crown holds 1,200,000 acres within the influence of the line. Moreover, the dividing line between the central and western divisions runs through this country, and Mr. Beeby, M.L.A., is one of those who think that there is something like 5,000,000 acres in all on which wheat can be profitably grown. It would, of course, require other railways. At present wheat-growing in the vicinity of Lake Cudgellico is not attempted, because of transport difficulty, but one selector living 45 miles from Wyalong is growing it and carrying it to Wyalong. He has his own bullock team, and the help of several strapping lads, otherwise he could not make it pay.

DURING A DROUGHT.

Some say, "But closer settlement here will not pay during a drought." One local landholder replies to this by saying, "the country looks no worse during a drought than the black soil plains." This line of argument may be all right, but the best warrant for the future of closer settlement hereabouts is that it is a success around Wyalong, and the conditions of soil and climate are the same between that centre and Lake Cudgellico. The 56 blocks recently balloted for at Lake Cowal will be served by the Wyalong Cudgellico line. The sheep and cattle along the route traversed by the eight motor cars all looked in good condition, and the herbage was plentiful.

AT CUDGELLICO.

There was a large gathering of townspeople at Lake Cudgellico awaiting the arrival of Mr. M'Gowen and the Parliamentary party, who were treated with real country hospitality. Since £35,000 has been spent on damming and locking the waters of Lake Cudgellico it has never been dry, though old residents recount that some 30 years ago in a dry spell a race meeting was held on the bed of the lake. In the same year one man states that he saw a sailing race held on the lake; so that in those days the lake was a disappearing one, as it was described in Parliament by Mr. Gormly. Now that money has been expended on its banks and outlet, it covers an expanse of about eight square miles. Thousands of wild ducks sport upon this picturesque lake, and fish are abundant. Although ducks and swans are numerous, the visitors did not see more than an odd pelican. Residents, however, say that it is no uncommon thing to see hundreds of pelicans fishing in the lake.

Lake Cudgellico is a pleasant holiday resort.

OUR FIRST LADY SCULPTOR.

MISS COWAN'S RETURN.

Australia's first lady sculptor, Miss Theo Cowan, after a sojourn of ten years in the art centres of Europe, returned to Sydney yesterday by the Miltiades.

From time to time the art journals of London have published appreciative notices of Miss Cowan's work, and artists on this side have followed with interest her career. Already she is recognised as one of the leading artists in her own particular line, which is portrait work, and among the celebrities who have honoured her with commissions are the Bishop of London, Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P., Mrs. Campbell Praed, Professor Flinders Petrie, and Miss Mortimer Mempis. She won the gold medal at the Franco-British Exhibition for a bust of Marmaduke Strickland Constable, and secured the first prize at the Women Artists' Exhibition for an artistic study called "Will o' the Wisp." This represents a mischievous little elf with a lantern, and quite suggests the title.

Although Miss Cowan confines her art chiefly to portraits, she has not ignored imagery entirely. Her latest work, exhibited at the Chenil Gallery, in London, is called "The Problem," and represents a young girl lying on a grassy bank, gazing into a bowl, held up by a faun, the problem being the maiden's choice of good or evil.

Another symbolical work is "The Call of Australia," a piece of statuary typifying the youth of the continent, with its ambition and struggle for higher things and future success.

Miss Cowan, who studied at Florence under Professor Rivalta, will be remembered by many as the author of the three busts in the National Art Gallery, of Sir Edmund Barton, Mr. Du Faur, and Mr. Montefiore. She is glad to be back again in Sydney, and grateful to think that so many people here should have remembered her.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

CAFE PORTER HELD UP.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

An attempt at robbery under arms in one of the principal thoroughfares of the city was reported to the police this morning.

The complainant was James Wood, a night porter at Parer Bros.' Crystal Cafe, in Bourke-street. He stated that at about 20 minutes past 2 o'clock this morning two elderly men entered the cafe and asked for beds. Almost before he had time to reply the taller of the two men produced a revolver, and, pointing it at Woods's head, demanded the keys of the safe.

The porter replied that the manager of the cafe always kept the keys in his own possession. But this evidently did not satisfy the men. The man with the revolver merely answered, "Out with them," and when Wood affirmed that he had not got the keys instructed his confederate to search him.

A small key was taken from Woods's pocket, and with this the two men attempted to open the safe, but without result. Finding that their effort had been futile the strangers decamped without making any further attempt to secure booty.

THE ELECTIONS.

NO MATERIAL CHANGE.

SEVEN LIBERAL SENATORS.

The only change in the electoral position, as disclosed by the latest figures, is that Mr. M'Coll is now second among the candidates for the Senate, in Victoria, and, if he maintains his position, the number of Liberals in the Senate will be seven instead of six. A Victorian will join his colleagues from New South Wales and Tasmania.

The negative vote against the referendums in New South Wales still continues to increase, and there are majorities of nearly 40,000 against some of the proposed laws. There are still majorities against all the six referendums in the Commonwealth as a whole, and in three of the States.

The latest figures from Ballarat give the Labour candidate a majority of 159, three less than yesterday. There are no further returns from Illawarra. The Liberal majority, is, therefore, still one.

VICTORIAN SENATORS.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

To-day's Senate returns completely altered the position. Senator M'Coll, who last night was 1488 behind Mr. Barnes (Labour), and 314 behind Mr. M'Kissock (Labour), is now second on the list to Senator Russell (Labour). He is leading Mr. Barnes by 78, and Mr. M'Kissock by 583.

The Ballarat contest is still exciting. The returns made available this afternoon gave Mr. M'Grath, the Labour candidate, a majority of 198, but when the counting ceased to-night Mr. M'Kay had reduced that number to 159.

There are still about 1000 votes to be counted.

POSTPONED POLL.

WINGHAM, Monday.

Owing to the flooded state of the creeks on Federal polling day, polling for Wherrol Flat, Cundle Flat, and Cedar Grove, situate in Wingham subdivision, Cowper electorate, was postponed till last Saturday. The results were:—Thomson, 114; Hogan, 3; informal, 2.

QUEENSLAND FIGURES.

BRISBANE, Monday.

There was no material alteration in the election figures to-day.

LIBERAL DEMONSTRATION AT WAGGA.

WAGGA, Monday.

A united Liberal demonstration of Hume and Riverina electors is to be held at Wagga on Friday.

It was announced that it will be attended by Mr. Cook (leader of the Federal Liberals), Mr. R. Patten, and Mr. F. B. Falkiner, Mr. Wade (leader of the State Liberals), and Messrs. Gould, Millen, and Oakes. In the morning there will be a short conference.

ANALYSIS OF THE VOTING.

REVIEW BY MR. HUGHES.

REPRESENTATION IN THE SENATE.

"The simple statement of the present political situation, as set out by me in the press last week, has disturbed some of my critics very considerably," said Mr. W. M. Hughes yesterday. "I pointed out a self-evident fact, viz., that the same electors at the same election had given one party a majority of one in a House of 75, and at the same time had given to the opponents of that party a majority of 23 or 24 in a House of 36. It is now contended that we ought not to consider the Senate at all, because it is not elected on the same basis as the other House. If it were, things would be different, and democracy would not be stifled. That is the argument of my critics in a nutshell. It is a very poor argument. It is based upon a position that is quite untenable. It is inconsistent with the general attitude of our opponents. And it is a complete exposure of the hollowness of the State rights cry which has lately deafened the electors.

"Let me state the position. We enjoy democratic government in this Commonwealth. The people can make what laws they please. About that there is no doubt whatever. But they cannot do so directly or immediately, either in the Federal or any of the State Parliaments. In every Parliament, State and Federal, there are two Houses. Broadly, each of these has, except in regard to money bills, concurrent powers of legislation. Before the people's will can be given effect to, every measure of projected legislation must be agreed to by both Houses and by the representative of the Crown. This is the only way the will of the people, no matter how strongly evidenced, can prevail. In no other way can the voice of the people be heard. In each Parliament of the States, and also the Federal Parliament the voice of the people has to filter through the two Houses of Parliament.

"In the case of the Federal Parliament, both Houses are elected on the freest, the widest basis in the world—the basis of adult suffrage. It is the only Parliament in Australia where this is so. The Legislative Councils of the States are either nominated or elected on a property franchise. In neither of these cases can it be contended for one moment that the Legislative Councils represent democracy. They represent privilege. They protect the interests of the classes against those of the masses. So much is beyond question. So that, when we are told that democracy is being stifled by the Federal Senate, which is elected on the freest and widest franchise in the world, we have a right to ask whether those who raise this cry are champions of the Legislative Councils of the States, which are not elected by the people at all. And in every case we find them to be so. So much for their consistency. Now for their arguments.

"The Senate does not represent democracy, they say. Well, then, what does it represent? It certainly does not represent anything else. It does not, for example, represent the class interests as the Legislative Councils do. The Federal Senate does represent the people, as voting as States. The Legislative Councils do not represent the people at all. Will my critics deny that? But it is urged that, because the Senate is not elected on a population basis, therefore it does not represent the people. And one critic says that if the Senate had been elected on the same basis as the House of Representatives, New South Wales would have sent 12 to the Senate at this election instead of three, and 24 if the whole Senate had been elected. Let us look at the position a little more closely. This is a federal form of Government. Two Houses are considered essential to give expression to the Federal idea. All existing federations have two Houses. In one House the people as such are represented. In the other the States as such are represented. There must be, then, two Houses in a federal form of government.

"Now, as to representation in the Senate, in most federations the principle of equal representation of the States has been conceded. In America, whose Constitution we have copied—to our sorrow—it exists, but there the people themselves do not elect the Senators. When the Federal Constitution Bill was before the people, I opposed equal representation. But even in New South Wales the principle was approved. In every other State it was hardly in question. Whatever may be said against it, no one can doubt that Federation could not have been established without it. The smaller States would not have entered the Federation upon any other terms. And having been adopted, it remains a permanent feature of the Constitution. For, as my critic points out, equal representation in the Senate cannot be altered without the consent of each State. To rail against equal representation, then, is, in view of these facts, puerile. The Senate is there. It is as much there as the House of Representatives, and has as much power. To complain that if the Senate was not there his party would have won, is for my critic to repeat the wail of the disconsolate sports, wheeling home their dead dog in a barrow, 'He'd a won if it hadn't been for the other dawg.'

"The Senate was deliberately given what amounts to co-ordinate powers with the House of Representatives. Without this the smaller States would not have come in. It was one of the essentials of the compact. It is not less an essential than the House of Representatives itself. Democracy, then, under the Federal Constitution, can only express herself through these two Houses. To say that the Senate has not the right to veto any and every measure sent up by the House of Representatives, is to grossly misstate the position. That very power was deliberately given to it. Federation would have been impossible without it. The Senate has—except with regard to initiating money bills—precisely the same rights as the House of Representatives. The people of Australia deliberately gave it those rights. If the people wish, they can take those rights away. But in the present state of public opinion, to take away equal representation would destroy Federation. Will my critic deny that? Mind, I do not for a moment say that equal representation is right. I never thought so, I do not now. I simply point to the undeniable facts. Federation is here; and equal representation is the price we pay for it. It may be that this price is too heavy. Very good; let my critic say so. These things being so, how can any man say that, under a Constitution which deliberately gave the Senate an equal voice with the House of Representatives, an election which gives a majority of 12 to 6 for Labour, in the Senate, is not to count as against a majority of 1 out of 75 in the House of Representatives? Why have any Senators at all, if they are not to have any power? Why did the Constitution deliberately clothe the Senate with great powers, and provide a special method for its election, if it was merely to bow to the will of the House of Representatives?

"The Senate is there. It has co-ordinate powers with the House of Representatives. It may be that this is incompatible with responsible government. I long ago pointed out that this was so. In a little brochure published in 1898, from which my opponents have quoted very extensively, I emphasise that very point. But the people thought otherwise, and gave it equal powers with the House of Representatives. Equal powers—I emphasise this fact. The Senate majority can no more be ignored than the House of Representatives' majority. Both are facts. Both have arisen constitutionally. So much for the constitutional position as it affects the contention of my critics. It leaves them not a feather to fly with.

"But let us now turn to the actual results of the election. One critic talks about the voice of the people being stifled. He pretends that the people have cried aloud with a firm, strong voice for the Union, but that

BALKAN POSITION.

AN ANGRY CONFERENCE.

SERVIAN DELEGATES RECALLED

LONDON, June 9.

The Servian delegates have been recalled, and it is expected that the peace conference will be dissolved with the outstanding points of difference left unsettled.

There were several angry scenes at Saturday's sitting of the conference.

It transpires that but little progress has been made since May 30, and there were daily wranglings, which worked up to a climax on Saturday.

THE POWERS' DEMAND.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 9.

The Powers' communication to the Balkan Allies and Turkey urging them to demobilise three-quarters of their forces is to be delivered to-day or to-morrow.

SERBO-BULGARIAN ANIMOSITY.

SOFIA, June 9.

The "Mir," a semi-official organ, declares that no Bulgarian Government would consent to a revision of the Serbo-Bulgarian Treaty unless the Servians abandoned their "foolish and provocative demands."

No good is expected to come of the proposed conference between the Premiers of the four allied States. This meeting, in any case, has been postponed owing to the Bulgarian Ministerial crisis.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

THE GERMAN STADIUM.

BERLIN, June 9.

The Stadium at Grunewald, where the next Olympic Games are to be held, was formally opened by the Emperor yesterday.

There were 30,000 spectators, despite the fact that standing room cost 2 marks.

General Podbielski greeted the Emperor and the Empress on behalf of [illegible] members of the affiliated sporting and athletic bodies.

Ten thousand military pigeons were released simultaneously, and they bore to all parts of Germany the Emperor's motto: "Ever Ready for the Empire's Glory."

Thirty thousand athletes, carrying [illegible] banners, then marched past and saluted the Emperor, crying "Heil!" First came [illegible] gymnasts, then [illegible] cyclists, [illegible] footballers, and great squads of lawn tennis players, swimmers, runners, skaters, and other athletes. Finally came [illegible] boy scouts and [illegible] girl scouts. The Emperor stood for two hours returning the salutes.

The march past was followed by various athletic displays.

MARCONI CONTRACT.

"POLITICAL VENOM."

LONDON, June 9.

Many comments in the Liberal papers indicate that the disclosures in connection with the Marconi contract are adversely affecting Liberalism.

The "Westminster Gazette" deplores the withholding of the affair, which, it declares, is hanging like a pall over all Government activities.

The "Daily Chronicle" welcomes the result of the "New Witness" libel case, but grumbles at Mr. Asquith's frequent non-attendance at the House of Commons.

The "Daily News" describes the committee which is inquiring into the Marconi contracts as "a discreditable source of partisan conflict, which is as offensive on one side as on the other."

The paper adds that it is high time Parliament insisted on receiving the report of the committee, and a frank debate in the House would "clear the atmosphere of the poisonous suspicions which political venom has engendered."

Lord Murray of Elibank, ex-Liberal Whip, whose dealings in Marconi shares have led certain newspapers to demand that he should be examined by the committee, is at present in Ecuador negotiating certain oil contracts for the firm of Weetman, Pearson, and Co., with which he is associated.

LABOUR.

RAILWAYMEN'S DEMANDS

LONDON, June 9.

At a meeting of railwaymen at Burton-on-Trent last night, a resolution was agreed to in favour of an eight-hour day and a minimum wage.

Mr. Bellamy, the president, declared that the National Union programme would stipulate a general strike in order to compel non-unionists to join the unions.

TROUBLE IN SOUTH AFRICA.

JOHANNESBURG, June 9.

A strike has occurred among the Kleinfontein miners for the recognition of the union, and the trouble threatens to lead to a general strike throughout South Africa.

It is understood that the various trade unions have been instructed to draw up demands for submission to the employers before the declaration of a general strike.

OBITUARY.

MR. GEORGE WYNDHAM, M.P.

LONDON, June 9, 12.40 p.m.

Mr. George Wyndham died suddenly from heart failure in Paris this morning.

The late Mr. Wyndham was born in 1863. After passing through Sandhurst he joined the Coldstream Guards in 1883, and he saw service in the Suakin campaign and Cyprus. He represented Dover in the Conservative interest from 1889 till his death. He was private secretary to Mr. A. J. Balfour from 1887 till 1892, and from 1898 till 1900 he was Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State for War. He was Chief Secretary for Ireland 1900-5.

"FIRST MARTYR."

SUFFRAGIST'S DEATH.

MISS PANKHURST'S MANIFESTO.

"A PUBLIC FUNERAL."

LONDON, June 8.

Elizabeth Davison, the women's suffragist, who interrupted the King's horse in the race for the Derby, and was severely injured, died yesterday.

She never spoke after the incident on the course.

Her friends draped her bed with green, purple, and white (the suffragist colours) before her death.

An inquest is to be held on Thursday.

Deceased's family do not support the militant suffragists, but they are willing that the Women's Social and Political Union should conduct the funeral.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst has issued a manifesto, in which she states: "Miss Davison died in order to call attention to women's wrongs. Argument has failed to convince Mr. Asquith of the seriousness of the position, but perhaps death may. There will be a public funeral in honour of a soldier who has fallen in the war of freedom."

MORE INCENDIARISM.

Suffragists set fire to the grandstand and stables on the Hurst Park racecourse last night.

The fire was discovered at midnight, and about three-quarters of the grandstand, including the Royal boxes, was speedily destroyed. The outbreak in the stables was extinguished before much damage was done.

Six incendiary fires took place in Bradford on Saturday night.

The first was discovered in the offices of a firm of wool merchants, and the second in Harrison's printing works, where damage to the extent of £40,000 was done. The third case was in the premises of a firm of box-makers, [illegible] yards away. Later on a coach-builder's factory was discovered to be on fire, then the council's school burst into flame. Lastly, the premises of a packing case manufacturer were found to be alight, and in this case £10,000 damage was done before the flames were extinguished. The total damage is estimated at £80,000, and 400 hands have been thrown out of work in consequence of the fires.

During the fortnight a dozen outbreaks have occurred within 100 yards of Saturday's conflagrations. Women's suffragists are blamed for the incendiarism, but there is no direct evidence against them.

CROWD V. SUFFRAGISTS.

Disorderly scenes were started in Hyde Park on Sunday when a meeting of militant suffragists was broken up by the crowd.

A SPY STORY.

CLAIM OF ARMGAARD GREAVES.

DISCREDITED IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 8.

Regarding the story of Armgaard Greaves, the ex-espionage prisoner—that he had secured possession of an agreement between Japan and Germany, whereby the latter was bound not to oppose Japan's colonisation scheme with the Southern hemisphere—the "Daily Chronicle," after investigating, states that it has ignominiously collapsed. The navy list does not mention the officer whom Greaves states he met, and the alleged offices of the British Secret Service in Fleet-street do not exist, the telephone number mentioned by Greaves being that of a well-known dressmaker.

AUSTRALIAN LABOUR MARKET.

LONDON, June 8.

Mr. G. Prendergast, of Victoria, has handed to the "Daily Citizen" a warning from the Glass Bottlemakers' Union that there is no room for additional bottlemakers in Australia. Mr. Prendergast adds that the State Governments, who are encouraging immigrants, are not Labour Governments. Furthermore, they are not acting as philanthropists, but merely wish to keep down wages.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, June 8.

The death is announced of Dr. L. Forbes Winslow, the celebrated alienist, aged [illegible] years.

The departmental committee which has inquired into the conduct of the reformatory schools has recommended that conviction should not be essential for the reception of boys and girls into the schools. They suggest the abolition of punishment cells, no deprivation of meals, less rough work and drudgery, and more teaching of trades. They also suggest that girls should receive some corporal punishment, because the mere loss of marks and being "sent to bed" afford inadequate penalties.

The Lord Mayor has received £[illegible] from the Lord Mayor of Sydney, the amount being ear-marked for the widows and families of the victims of the [illegible] disaster.

Replying to a pamphlet in favour of federalism by consent, which has been issued by a number of Liberal members of the House of Commons, Earl Grey states that the first essential is the withdrawal of Home Rule, which reduces Ulster to an intolerable subservience, and, if persisted in, must lead to bloodshed and civil war, as the Ulstermen will be robbed of autonomous rights and a just share of the representation in the Imperial Parliament.

BUENOS AYRES, June 8.

In regard to the representations made to the Government by six large Anglo-Argentine frozen meat firms to the effect that they would be compelled to close their factories if the conditions under which they were now working continued, it is stated that the Government is inclined to grant them protection against the American beef trust competition.

FIGHT WITH SAILORS.

SENSATIONAL ARRESTS.

NEWCASTLE, Monday.

At about 2.30 this afternoon a disturbance broke out among a number of sailors who had been drinking at an hotel at Stockton. Two men were stabbed, but the injuries were not serious.

The trouble broke out in the hotel, when it is alleged that a young man named Niel Petersen was struck with a stick by one of several Italian sailors who were drinking at the time. To prevent the trouble from extending in the hotel one person obtained a revolver and requested the sailors to leave the hotel at once. A crowd had assembled outside, and when the sailors came out the fight was continued.

It is said that two of the sailors drew knives. Petersen was stabbed in the back, and another young man named Ernest Peters was also stabbed. Sergeant Toohey arrived on the scene, and was successful in arresting one of the sailors. Later he attempted to go aboard the ship Australia with Constable Hogan and several civilians. The captain was not on the ship at the time, and some of the sailors placed the Italian flag across the gangway in order to prevent the police from coming aboard. Sergeant Toohey went aboard with the others, and arrested one of the sailors.

As the sergeant was taking his man down the gangway he was assaulted by other sailors. Reinforcements had been sent for, and two of the Newcastle police arrived on the scene. After a delay of about an hour on the ship 12 sailors were taken to the police station at Newcastle, but only three of them were charged. The others were sent to their ship.

One of the men who was stabbed was able to proceed home after being treated, but the other had to be taken to the hospital.

DISMISSED.

CHARGE AGAINST CONSTABLE.

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Considerable excitement was occasioned at Russell-street Police Barracks on Sunday night.

At about 20 minutes to 8 o'clock an altercation occurred amongst some of the men waiting to go on duty. Heated words passed between Constable George Lewis Colwell and Constable Edward Giddens, with the result that the former is alleged to have threatened to blow Giddens's brains out, at the same time producing his revolver. Giddens states that when he saw the revolver pointed straight at him he grappled with Colwell, and called for assistance, and that Constable M'Cann then joined in the affray to assist Giddens.

M'Cann affirms that as he pulled Colwell's arm down the revolver went off. The bullet struck an iron post in the room, and glancing off embedded itself in the floor.

Giddens, who was greatly excited, decided not to report the matter until he came off duty this morning. Colwell was then dismissed from the force, and arrested on a charge of having shot at Edward Giddens with intent to murder.

SHIPPING DISPUTE.

FIRST OBJECTION SETTLED.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The second case in connection with the Merchant Service Guild affecting the jurisdiction of the Arbitration Court in regard to certain New South Wales shipping companies was before the High Court to-day.

Mr. Starke, who appeared for the North Coast Steam Navigation Company and seven other New South Wales shipping companies, raised the point that Mr. Justice Higgins had no power to state a case, because it was not within section 31 of the Arbitration Act.

The other five judges concurred in the decision, and the hearing of the main reference was then proceeded with.

THE ELECTIONS.

NO MATERIAL CHANGE.

SEVEN LIBERAL SENATORS.

The only change in the electoral position, as disclosed by the latest figures, is that Mr. M'Coll is now second among the candidates for the Senate in Victoria, and, if he maintains his position, the number of Liberals in the Senate will be seven instead of six. A Victorian will join his colleagues from New South Wales and Tasmania.

The negative vote against the referendums in New South Wales still continues to increase, and there are majorities of nearly 40,000 against some of the proposed laws. There are still majorities against all the six referendums in the Commonwealth as a whole, and in three of the States.

The latest figures from Ballarat give the Labour candidate a majority of 152, three less than yesterday. There are no further returns from Illawarra. The Liberal majority is, therefore, still one.

VICTORIAN SENATORS.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

To-day's Senate returns completely altered the position. Senator M'Coll, who last night was 1288 behind Mr. Barnes (Labour), and 514 behind Mr. M'Kissock (Labour), is now second on the list to Senator Russell (Labour). He is leading Mr. Barnes by 38, and Mr. M'Kissock by 182.

The Ballarat contest is still exciting. The returns made available this afternoon gave Mr. M'Grath, the Labour candidate, a majority of 158, but when the counting ceased to-night Mr. M'Kay had reduced that number to 152.

There are still about 3000 votes to be counted.

LIBERAL DEMONSTRATION AT WAGGA.

WAGGA, Monday.

A united Liberal demonstration of Hume and Riverina electors is to be held at Wagga on Friday.

It was announced that it will be attended by Mr. Cook (leader of the Federal Liberals), Mr. B. Patten, and Mr. F. B. Falkiner, Mr. Wade (leader of the State Liberals), and Messrs. Gould, Millen, and Oakes. In the morning there will be a short conference.

ANALYSIS OF THE VOTING.

REPRESENTATION IN THE SENATE.

"The simple statement of the present political situation, as set out by me in the press last week, has disturbed some of my critics very considerably," said Mr. W. M. Hughes yesterday. "I pointed out a self-evident fact, viz., that the same electors at the same election had given one party a majority of one in a House of 75, and at the same time had given to the opponents of that party a majority of 22 or 24 in a House of 36. It is now contended that we ought not to consider the Senate at all, because it is not elected on the same basis as the other House. If it were, things would be different, and democracy would not be stifled. That is the argument of my critics in a nutshell. It is a very poor argument. [illegible]

"Let me state the position. We enjoy democratic government in this Commonwealth. [illegible]

A.J.C. WINTER MEETING.

The worst possible day for racing, and some good races in spite of it.

Many people were doubtful yesterday morning whether the second day of the A.J.C. Winter Meeting would not be postponed. During the night and morning torrent after torrent descended. The turf was sodden, and the roads a quagmire. But on the strength of a break in the weather at about 10 o'clock the committee decided to go on with the programme.

As it turned out, the sunny intervals happened to coincide with most of the afternoon's events. Only one race had to be run in a downpour. This was the Second Steeplechase. At the time when this race started a rainstorm could be seen coming up from the direction of the sea. It soon became clear that it would reach the racecourse before the Steeplechase was finished. The second time up the hill the horses ran into it almost as into a wall. The torrent moved across the course like an oncoming cloud, so thick that, going across the hill, the horses could at times barely be seen through it.

But the finish of this race was so good that the spectators did not notice their discomfort. Hautapu was leading the favourite, as he had done from the start, when, close to the finish, something went wrong with his girths, and the saddle slipped back towards the crupper. It seemed only a question of seconds and the saddle must go. But Hanslow, sitting almost on the horse's tail, managed to hold it there to the end, and won the race. The crowd was not worrying itself about rainstorms during a finish like that.

There were 15,000 people present. On such a day, this was not a bad attendance; but had the weather been fine there would have been 30,000 or 40,000. So fierce was the wind that the rain at times reached right to the back rows of some of the stands. It poured off the roof in cascades. The crowd on the flat squeezed itself under every possible shelter, and camped there till the showers were over. The dripping bookmakers, surrounded by a half-drowned multitude, were driven under the lee of the stands or beneath the trees. But, whatever happened to their clothes, people did not let the rain damp their spirits. The moment a shower passed they were out on the lawn again. Naturally, there was no display of fashion. The spectators came dressed as for a football match rather than a race meeting. They were prepared to be cheerful in spite of the rain. The New Zealand horse, Oliver Twist, which started for the second steeplechase, in spite of his very slow performance on Saturday, came in for a good deal of chaff from the crowd. "No fear of the old grey catching cold through all that wool," said one onlooker. "Be a lark if the old cove won," remarked another. However, the lark did not come off. Oliver Twist lived to earn the good-humoured applause of the crowd as he came home even a longer last than before.

It was a bad day for favourites; and something of a scene occurred during the afternoon when Electrakoff won the Winter Stakes. This horse had received a fair backing on Saturday when he ran in the Ellesmere Stakes. In that race he finished sixth. Yesterday, when, over a different distance, and with the track in a different condition, he came home first in the Winter Stakes, a section of the crowd on the flat began to hoot. The demonstration spread to other enclosures, and as the horse was ridden into the weighing-in yard the crowd made its dissatisfaction evident by shouting and booing. Some cheers were raised as a counter demonstration.

DRESSES AND ATTENDANCE.

The inclemency of the weather and the bitterly cold wind which prevailed throughout the day interfered in no small degree with the attendance at the races. For many years so few visitors have rarely been seen at Randwick, and the grand stands and paddocks looked quite deserted. The showers which fell early in the morning were succeeded by short intervals of sunshine, but they were all too short, and the driving rain and piercing wind prevented thousands from attending. During the brief glimpses of sunshine the course presented a beautiful appearance, the lawns and the surrounding hills looking delightfully green, and the lights and shadows formed a picturesque scene; but the frequent squalls of rain sent everyone under what shelter was to be obtained, and only a sea of mushroom-like tops of umbrellas could then be seen. It goes without saying that it was a typical "coat and skirt" day, and the happy possessors of the long musquash, Coney seal, black rabbit, and other fur coats were those who looked most warm and comfortable. Everyone came out prepared for rain, and those who had not fur coats wore their fur stoles and wraps, raincoats, or "Barberys." Small hats were sensibly worn, wings, quills, ospreys, or "choux" of ribbon forming the principal trimming.

His Excellency the Governor drove out before luncheon, accompanied by Miss Strickland, and during the afternoon the vice-regal visitors occupied seats in the members' stand.

Miss Strickland wore a dark blue coat and skirt and white beaver hat with black osprey. Lady Cullen's dark violet cloth coat and skirt was worn beneath a grey overcoat, with black fox fur stole, and dark amethyst velvet hat with long amethyst-coloured feathers. Mrs. Forbes wore a cerise cloth coat and skirt and long sable coat and cerise suede hat. Mrs. Adrian Knox was in a cinnamon brown tweed coat and skirt and black velvet hat, with natural coloured feather, and sable furs. Mrs. Finn, dark blue cloth coat and skirt, and long black astrachan fur stole, and a black hat with natural shaded feathers. The Misses Finn wore dark blue coats and skirts and fur stoles, with black hats and shaded heliotrope flowers. Miss Birch, long grey coloured coat, and black and green toque. Mrs. Edward Knox wore long musquash coat over her grey dress, and a black velvet toque with white osprey. Mrs. R. Horsfall, dark blue and white striped coat and skirt, and small dark blue satin hat with paisley bow; musquash furs. Mrs. Perkins (N.Z.), dark blue and white striped coat and skirt and long overcoat of brown tweed; black fox fur and small black toque. Mrs. Arthur Lassetter, dark blue coat and skirt braided with black, and a small dark blue hat with vieux rose pink wings. Mrs. Warry, covert cloth coat and skirt, with black fox fur, and small black satin hat with black choux. Mrs. T. F. Knox, long black fur coat, and fur toque. The Misses Moore (W.A.) wore coats and skirts, and small toques. Miss Dangar, black coat and skirt with white pipings, and white hat with touches of black. Mrs. A. Turnbull, long musquash coat, and dark blue hat swathed with lime-coloured ribbon and pale blue. The Misses Knox wore long fur coats and small black hats. Miss Neville (England), dark cinnamon brown striped coat and skirt, and black hat with white wings. Mrs. R. Allen wore a dark blue coat and skirt with sable furs, and black hat with white osprey. Miss Grubb (Tas.), dark blue coat and skirt, and small black velvet hat trimmed with nattier blue and small tangerine-coloured wings. Mrs. Floyd wore a rough tweed coat and skirt, with brown velvet hat and brown fur stole. Miss Crace, a dark blue coat and skirt, and brown velvet hat trimmed with black, and a black fur stole. Mrs. Kenna, in black, with cherry-coloured toque. Miss Waterhouse (Tas.) was in grey tweed, with grey overcoat and squirrel fur stole, and a black hat with white feathers. Miss Enid Bayly wore a long grey coat, and a purple felt hat.

Amongst others present were noticed Sir William Cullen, Mr. Adrian Knox, Sir Alexander M'Cormick, Mr. Colin Stephen, Dr. Clubbe, Mr. Warry, Mr. Turnbull, Mr. R. Dangar, Colonel Perkins (India), Mr. F. H. Moore, Mr. R. Horsfall, Mr. Long, Mr. W. Cope, Mr. Theo. Marks, Mr. L. Lamb, Mr. C. E. W. Bean, Dr. Mark Sheldon, Mr. Arthur Lassetter, Mr. P. H. Morton, Mr. H. C. Piper, Mr. A. Hooke, Mr. J. Shaw, Mr. V. Osborne, Mr. J. B. N. Osborne, Mr. B. MacArthur, Mr. H. Chisholm, and Mr. C. Pilcher. His Excellency, who was attended by Captain Forbes and Captain Talbot, lunched with the chairman of the committee (Mr. Adrian Knox), and Miss Strickland entertained a few ladies at luncheon, the guests including Lady Cullen, Mrs. Finn, Mrs. Adrian Knox, Mrs. E. W. Knox, Mrs. T. F. Knox, Mrs. Luscombe, Mrs. Forbes, Miss Birch, Miss Dangar, the Misses Finn, and the Misses Knox.

THE RACING.

The bitterly cold weather and the state of the track after the heavy rainfall of the early morning were in all probability responsible for the moderate fields that competed in the different events, and speculation was also adversely affected. Backers of favourites had quite a bad time, for not one of the best-backed horses troubled the judge during the afternoon, though four well-supported second favourites were successful; but the success of Loughrea in the Second Hurdle Race helped to ease the liabilities of the ringmen, a big proportion of whom had a losing day. Though the track was heavy and the times very slow, the going was sound, and, with the exception of three harmless falls in the Second Hurdle Race, the card was run through without serious accident or unpleasantness.

The candidates for the Second Hurdle Race were reduced to half a score, and again the Victorian mare, Powerful, was so solidly supported that she left the paddock a pronounced favourite, while Hallmark, Foothold, Ennisbelle, and Gumin were next fancied in order, and, at expansive odds, some business was done on Gorlias and Loughrea. When they had fairly settled into their strides, Hallmark and Ennisbelle went to the front, and carried the field along the first round of the track; then Hallmark drifted out of it, and Gorlias was pulled up. Gumin, who was next the leader, came to grass at the mile post, and a couple of furlongs further on Hallmark fell. Racing along the back, Loughrea improved his position, and was upsides with Ennisbelle three furlongs from home, whence the pair had the finish to themselves. They flew the final obstacle together, and a most exciting engagement from that point resulted in a head win for Loughrea, while Foothold was a poor third. The favourite again ran disappointingly, but the winner showed great improvement on recent performances.

There was a big clearing of the candidates for the Flying Handicap, only 15 of the 33 listed surviving the assaults of the scratching pen. The Senaria gelding, Brave Heart, who hails from the Forbes district, was installed favourite, Barley Water, Relievo, and Cool Air being next fancied in that order, while half a dozen others were marketable at extended prices. The favourite never gave his numerous supporters much hope, while Barley Water, who was first to show out, was not afterwards headed, though the outsider, Kinetic, threatened danger at the distance, where Relievo, Multum in Parvo, and Tipple were also handy. Relievo was beaten out of a place by Multum in Parvo, while the favourite finished alongside of the Newmarket Handicap winner.

The field for the Second Nursery Handicap was reduced to seven, and the Flavus filly Estaffe, who ran third in the juvenile event on Saturday, was the popular selection, while Doreen G. and Gold Gift were the most stanchly supported of the others. Doreen G., Best Scot, and Lord Earlston formed the leading division in the early stages, and Best Scot and Lord Earlston turned into the straight together; but the latter swung out wide, as did Estaffe, while Doreen G., slipping up on the rails, was fighting it out at the distance with Gold Gift and Estaffe. From that point the issue lay between Doreen G. and Gold Gift, who, right clear from their followers, fought out a bitter battle, the result of which was in doubt until a few strides from the post, where Doreen G. prevailed by a very slight margin, while Lord Earlston cut the favourite out of third money. The winner is by the much-travelled and well-performed Newhaven, from Aurigena, by imported Hindoo from Aureoline, by Abercorn from Aurelia, by Musket (imp.), and was bred at the Bowylie stud by Mr. J. B. N. Osborne, and cost his owner 47½gns as a yearling.

Only four were stripped for the Second Steeplechase, the malcontents including Scrutineer, Busra, Wadden, and Pilot, and, despite his extra burden, incurred by his success over the big fences on Saturday, the Victorian, Kororite, met with such strong support that even money was the best offer at any time, and he left the paddock at a shade of odds on; while old Hautapu was next in demand, but only half a point in advance of Acute Angle. Hautapu went off with the lead, and in the first couple of furlongs established a commanding advantage from the favourite, and, fencing in fine style, carried his field along until about five furlongs from home; then the favourite reduced the gap of daylight to a couple of lengths, but after crossing the double near the half-mile post, the ancient son of Mitiora drew away again, and scored with the greatest ease from Acute Angle, who changed places with the favourite after the final obstacle had been negotiated, and finished a dozen lengths ahead of the son of Killarney. The last mile was run in a heavy rain-squall, which quite obscured the horses as they crossed the hill for the second time, and, practically, until they cleared the last fence. It was a good exhibition of cross-country racing on the part of both horses and riders, and especially on the part of J. Hanslow, who had the mount on the winner, for in the latter part of the trip the saddle slipped back to the crupper, but Hanslow stuck gamely to his task, and got home in safety. Both rider and horse were accorded a great ovation as they passed the post, which was renewed when they returned to the weighing enclosure. Hautapu is now rising 16 years old, and his performance yesterday fully demonstrates that he is yet a long way from being a back number.

Evidently there was not much sweep money for the candidates for the Winter Stakes, inasmuch as only nine of the 24 coloured in the book were stripped for the fray. There was most money for Alured and Zens, who, at the last moment, disputed favouritism; Sir Vive was next in request by the speculative public, and sound support was accorded to Electrakoff; but the others did not command much attention in the market. Offa was badly served by the start, and after Electrakoff had set the pace for a couple of furlongs he was steadied, and Alured took up the running. Midge B. joined Alured as they raced along the back stretch, and, with Zens and Electrakoff in their wake, they cut out the work until nearing the five-furlong post, where Midge B. took sole control, with Zens and Alured at her heels, and Electrakoff a length away. Midge B. began to tire at the half-mile post, and as she beat a retreat Alured joined issue with Zens, and the pair swept into the straight, with Wool at their heels, and Electrakoff next, putting in some fast work. Ere they reached the distance Electrakoff had the strength of the opposition, and, cutting down Alured and Zens inside that point, came home a very easy winner from Alured; while Offa, who made up his leeway in fine style from the bend, filled the other situation. With a section of the spectators the success of Electrakoff was decidedly unpopular, and a hostile demonstration was made as the horse returned to the weighing enclosure. A counter demonstration followed, and hooting and cheering alternated for some time. Electrakoff is a New Zealand-bred gelding, by Menschikoff from Electra, by Castor (imp.) from Welcome Katie, by Musket (imp.). His only success last season in his native land was under 7st 12lb in the Grand Stand Handicap at the summer meeting of the Auckland Racing Club, in which he was escorted home by Masterpiece.

A most disagreeable outing was brought to a close with the Exeter Handicap, for which nine took the track, with Orama at the head of the quotations, but he was closely run in the market by Warradonga, while Leta and Sweet Malt were the only others backed with any degree of confidence. Sweet Malt essayed to win from end to end, and, with Warradonga and Miss Langton as escort, carried the field along until fairly in line for home. Leta and the favourite occupied forward positions all the way, and the latter headed Sweet Malt ere the distance was reached; but from that point Warradonga and Leta came at a great bat, and, heading Orama ere the half-distance was reached, the pair were fighting it out on terms at that point. A little further on Warradonga got his head in front, and scored in good style, while the favourite filled the other situation. The winner is a Hobartville-bred colt, by imported Simmer from Tea Rose, by Martini-Henry (son of Musket) from Lily Hawthorn, by Knight of the Crescent, and is three-quarter brother to Scorn, Scornful, Niphetos, and Velox, all good winners.

The details of the racing are appended:—

SECOND HURDLE RACE, a handicap sweepstakes of 1 sov each, with 300 sovs added; second horse 60 sovs, and third horse 30 sovs from the prize. About 2¼m.

Mr. J. F. Hesslett's b g Loughrea, by War God—Fawn, aged, 10st 11lb (F. Moore) 1
Mr. J. Corrigan's ch g Ennisbelle, by Ennistymon—Belle, aged, 12st (M'Gee) 2
Mr. "Russell Arthur's" ch g Foothold, by Footbolt—Hurrah, 5yrs, 9st 7lb (J. M'Gowan) 3

Other starters: Zocholme, 11st 5lb (J. Freeland); Gorlias, 10st 11lb (E. Murtagh); Busra, 10st 9lb (J. Cruteo); Gumin, 10st 1lb (G. Woodburn); Hallmark, 9st 9lb (G. Phillips); Powerful, 9st 7lb, including 2lb over (H. J. Morgany); Ennislock, 9st (C. Flanagan).

Betting: 5 to 2 v Powerful, 6 to 1 v Hallmark, 7 to 1 v Foothold, 8 to 1 each v Ennisbelle and Gumin, 12 to 1 each v Gorlias and Loughrea, 14 to 1 v Busra, 20 to 1 each v Zocholme and Ennislock.

Zocholme and Gumin made play, but nearing the mile post Hallmark took charge, passing that point, with Zocholme and Ennisbelle at his heels. Gumin was a length away, and a couple in advance of Busra, Foothold, and Powerful. Racing along the back Ennisbelle moved up to the girths of Hallmark, who was four lengths clear from Gumin, after whom came Zocholme and Powerful, four lengths from Foothold and Busra, with Gorlias last. When they reached the six furlongs post Ennisbelle moved up level with Hallmark, the pair being six lengths from Powerful and Gumin, with Zocholme six lengths away at the head of the others. Without material change they came past the half-mile post and into the straight, and Ennisbelle and Hallmark passed the judge's box for the first time half a dozen lengths from Gumin, who was three lengths in advance of Powerful, Loughrea was four lengths further back, and eight in front of Foothold, after whom at lengthy intervals came Zocholme and Busra, with Gorlias pulling up. Turning out of the straight Ennisbelle shook off the fast-tiring Hallmark, and the son of Ennistymon, drawing out, passed the mile post five lengths from Hallmark, Loughrea moved up into third place, then, after a gap of five lengths, came Powerful and Foothold, while Gumin fell. Ennisbelle increased his lead to six lengths as he rattled along the back, where Loughrea ran into second place, and was succeeded by Hallmark, Foothold, and Powerful at intervals of two lengths, while the others were strung out. Hallmark fell at the obstacle near the six furlongs post, where Ennisbelle was four lengths in advance of Loughrea, Powerful was nearly half a dozen lengths away, and a similar distance in front of Foothold. In that order they came past the half-mile post, but rounding the bend Loughrea ranged up alongside Ennisbelle, and the former came into the straight with a slight advantage. The pair flew the final obstacle together, but on landing Loughrea got his head in front, and, holding that advantage in a well-fought-out finish, won from Ennisbelle, who was 15 lengths in advance of Foothold. Powerful was 15 lengths off fourth, and eight in front of Zocholme, while Busra was 20 lengths away last. Time, 5m 9¾s.

FLYING HANDICAP, a handicap sweepstakes of 4 sovs each, with 200 sovs added; second horse 40 sovs and third horse 20 sovs from the prize. 6f.

Mr. J. Lloyd's br g Barley Water, by Malster—Dinah, aged, 8st 7lb (S. Lamond) 1
Mr. J. S. Johnston's ch g Kinetic, by Merv (imp.)—Kotiro, 6yrs, 6st 7lb (J. Reynolds) 2
Mr. A. Shannon's b f Multum in Parvo, by Murillo (imp.)—Pride, 3yrs, 6st 13lb, alld. 6lb and inc. 1lb over, carried 6st 9lb (B. Dickson) 3

Other starters: Malt Mary, 9st 10lb (P. Maher); Relievo, 8st 7lb (W. Barnett); Blast, alld. 7lb, carried 7st 12lb (A. Callinan); Hot Air, 8st 5lb (W. Lillyman); Salarino, 8st 4lb (J. Lightfoot); Cool Air, 8st 4lb (J. Townsend); Mulford, 8st 4lb, inc. 2lb over (W. M'Lachlan); Brave Heart, 7st 7lb (W. Swanson); Miocene, alld. 7lb and 1lb over, carried 6st 11lb (C. Gallegos); St. Moritz, alld. 5lb and 2lb over, carried 6st 10lb (A. Thomas); Hair Net, 6st 13lb (G. Pinn); Tipple, 6st 10lb.

Betting: 4 to 1 v Brave Heart, 6 to 1 v Barley Water, 7 to 1 v Relievo, 8 to 1 v Cool Air, 10 to 1 each v Mulford and Hair Net, 12 to 1 each v Malt Mary and Hot Air, 14 to 1 each v Blast and Tipple.

Barley Water was smartest off the mark, and led past the five furlongs post, followed by Hair Net, St. Moritz, Hot Air, and Kinetic. When they reached the half-mile post Hair Net and Hot Air drew up level with Barley Water, and the trio were succeeded by Kinetic, Malt Mary, Relievo, and Tipple, with Multum in Parvo at the head of the others. Rounding the bend Barley Water again took charge from Kinetic, Relievo, Multum in Parvo, and Tipple, and so they entered the home stretch. At the distance Barley Water was showing slightly in advance of Relievo, Tipple, and Kinetic, and coming on Barley Water won by three-parts of a length from Kinetic, who had Multum in Parvo at his girths. Relievo was a length away fourth, closely followed by Brave Heart, Cool Air, and Miocene, while the others were whipped in by St. Moritz and Blast. Time, 1m 18s.

SECOND NURSERY HANDICAP, a handicap sweepstakes of 4 sovs each, with 200 sovs added. For two-year-olds. Second horse 40 sovs and third horse 20 sovs from the prize. 6f.

Mr. N. H. Gibbs's b f Doreen G., by Newhaven—Aurigena, 7st 2lb (G. Pinn) 1
Mr. E. Keys's b c Gold Gift, by Grafton (imp.)—Auntie, alld. 5lb, carried 7st (M. Kenny) 2
Mr. W. J. Day's b c Lord Earlston, by Earlston (imp.)—Natalina (imp.), 7st 2lb (J. Williams) 3

Other starters: Estaffe, 8st 10lb (J. Lightfoot); Best Scot, alld. 7lb, carried 7st (R. Bloomfield); Sylvatic 7st, inc. 2lb over (C. Bolton); Collarall, alld. 7lb, carried 6st 9lb (A. Callinan).

Betting: 2 to 1 v Estaffe, 7 to 2 v Doreen G., 4 to 1 v Gold Gift, 8 to 1 each v Sylvatic and Best Scot, 20 to 1 each v others.

Collarall was the first to show out, but he was quickly headed by Doreen G., who passed the five furlongs post followed by Best Scot, Lord Earlston, and a clustered lot. Best Scot and Lord Earlston ran past Doreen G. at the half-mile post, and they came round the bend with Estaffe and Gold Gift in their wake. Best Scot and Lord Earlston swung into the straight, with Doreen G., Estaffe, and Gold Gift in pursuit, but Estaffe and Lord Earlston lost ground by running out wide, and Doreen G., coming through on the rails at the distance, was closely pressed by Gold Gift, Best Scot, and Estaffe. The finish from the half-distance was fought out between Doreen G. and Gold Gift, and the former scored by half a head at the close of an exciting encounter. Lord Earlston was a couple of lengths off third, and at half-length intervals succeeded Estaffe, Best Scot, and Sylvatic, while Collarall was the last to pass the post. Time, 1m 20¾s.

SECOND STEEPLECHASE, a handicap sweepstakes of 1 sov each, with 400 sovs added; second horse 80 sovs, and third horse 40 sovs from the prize. About 3m.

Mrs. R. Phillips' b g Hautapu, by Mitiora—Lady Sarah, aged, 10st (J. Hanslow) 1
Mrs. H. F. Mitchell's b g Acute Angle, by Angle—Gazelle, aged, 9st 12lb (F. M'Cabe) 2
Mr. "L. Hawthorn's" b g Kororite, by Killarney—dam unknown, aged, 12st (H. Morgan) 3

Other starter: Oliver Twist (N.Z.), 9st (G. Phillips).

Betting: 10 to 9 on Kororite, 3 to 1 v Hautapu, 7 to 2 v Acute Angle, 20 to 1 v Oliver Twist.

Hautapu sailed off in front, and flew the first obstacle four lengths from Oliver Twist, who was a couple in advance of Acute Angle, with Kororite four lengths away. Drawing right away, Hautapu crossed the fences in front of the stands a dozen lengths from Kororite, while Acute Angle and Oliver Twist changed places over the last set. There was no change of positions as they raced along the side and across the hill at the back for the first time, and passing Kensington Hautapu had increased his lead to 30 lengths, but it was again reduced to half a score as they cleared the fences in front of the stands for the second time, the other positions being unchanged, though Oliver Twist was half a furlong in the rear. Kororite reduced Hautapu's advantage to four lengths as they reached the foot of the hill for the second time, and just then a heavy rainfall set in, and almost obscured the field as they crossed the rising ground. Kororite ran up within a couple of lengths of Hautapu as they passed Kensington, but after flying the half-mile double the ex-New Zealander again drew away, and won easily by about 15 lengths from Acute Angle, who passed Kororite after crossing the last obstacle; Kororite was a dozen lengths off third, and a furlong and a half in front of Oliver Twist. Time, 7m 10s.

WINTER STAKES, a handicap sweepstakes of 10 sovs each, with 500 sovs added; second horse 100 sovs and third horse 50 sovs from the prize. 1m 2f.

Mr. A. A. Donald's b g Electrakoff, by Menschikoff—Electra, 6yrs, 8st (H. Curran) 1
Mr. "J. Northern's" br h Alured, by Flavus (imp.)—Aline, 4yrs, 8st 4lb (W. M'Lachlan) 2
Mr. R. B. Hogue's b g Offa, by Duke of Melton (imp.)—Ceres, 5yrs, 8st 10lb (S. Lamond) 3

Other starters: Wool, 9st (W. Lillyman); Sandbath (imp.), 8st 4lb (G. Meddick); Zens, 8st (G. Pinn), Midge B., 7st 9lb (J. Lightfoot); Sir Vive, 7st 8lb (J. Hadlow); Necktie, 6st 7lb (J. Reynolds).

Betting: 7 to 2 each v Alured and Zens, 5 to 1 v Sir Vive, 13 to 2 v Electrakoff, 12 to 1 each v Midge B., Wool, and Offa, 15 to 1 v Necktie, 20 to 1 v Sandbath, 25 to 1 each v others.

Electrakoff moved off in front, while Offa, on the outside, was the last to get going. Electrakoff turned out of the straight with a slight advantage from Alured, after whom came Midge B, Zens, and Wool, followed by Necktie, Sir Vive, and Sandbath, with Offa still in the rear. After the nine furlongs post had been cast behind Alured ran past Electrakoff and rattled past the mile post a length and a half from Midge B, who was a couple of lengths in front of Zens; then in close company succeeded Electrakoff, Wool, Necktie, and Sir Vive, with Sandbath three lengths away, and Offa half a dozen lengths off last. Racing along the back stretch Midge B ranged up alongside Alured, and passing the seven furlongs post the pair were two lengths in advance of Zens, after whom came Electrakoff, Wool, Necktie, and Sir Vive. That order was preserved past the six furlongs post, but as they neared the end of the next furlong Midge B took charge, and Zens moved up alongside of Alured, the pair being succeeded by Electrakoff, Wool, Sir Vive, and Necktie. Midge B retired a little farther on, leaving Zens to show the way past the half mile post by a head from Alured, who was upsides with Zens as they came round the bend, with Electrakoff and Midge B in pursuit. Alured and Zens swept into the straight on terms, with Wool and Electrakoff at their heels, and Offa working his way towards the leading division. Approaching the distance Electrakoff threw out a bold challenge to the leaders, passed them inside that point, and coming on at his ease won by three and a half lengths from Alured, who beat Offa by four lengths for second place. Zens, Sir Vive, and Wool were a neck away, and eight lengths clear from Midge B, with Sandbath 15 lengths off last. Time, 2m 34½s.

EXETER HANDICAP, a handicap sweepstakes of 4 sovs each, with 200 sovs added. Second horse 40 sovs and third horse 20 sovs from the prize. 1m.

Mr. H. Nicholl's br c Warradonga, by Simmer (imp.)—Tea Rose, 3yrs, 8st 7lb (W. Lillyman) 1
Mr. C. Hebden's br f Leta, by Ayr Laddie (imp.)—Leading Lady, 3yrs, 8st 5lb (J. Lightfoot) .. 2
Mr. J. L. Brown's br g Orama, by Orzil (imp.)—Carrageen, 4yrs, 9st 3lb (W. M'Lachlan) 3

Other starters: Sweet Malt, all. 7lb, carried 8st 12lb (M. Kenny); Elfbolt, all. 7lb, carried 8st 9lb (R. Smith); War Star, 8st 10lb (W. Barnett); Miss Langton, 8st 2lb (J. Williams); Hot Cake, all. 7lb, carried 7st 7lb (R. Bloomfield); Grail, all. 5lb, carried 7st 9lb (J. Hadlow).

Betting: 5 to 2 v Orama, 3 to 1 v Warradonga, 8 to 1 each v Leta and Sweet Malt, 12 to 1 each v Grail and War Star, 14 to 1 v Miss Langton, 20 to 1 v Elfbolt, 25 to 1 each v the others.

Sweet Malt and Warradonga were first to find their legs, and the former passed the seven furlongs post with Warradonga and Miss Langton at her heels, followed by Leta, Elfbolt, and Orama. Sweet Malt increased her advantage to three lengths in the next furlong from Warradonga and Miss Langton, who were four lengths in front of Leta and Orama, with Elfbolt five lengths away at the head of the others. Without material change they raced past the half-mile post, round the bend, and into the straight, where Orama came through, and, at the distance, was showing slightly in advance of Sweet Malt, Miss Langton, Warradonga, and Leta; but inside that point Warradonga and Leta ran past Orama, and the first-named, coming on, beat Leta by three parts of a length, with Orama half a length away third. Then, after a gap of four lengths, came Sweet Malt a couple of lengths in advance of Miss Langton. War Star was ten lengths further off, and a couple in front of Elfbolt and Grail, while Hot Cake was the last to pass the post. Time, 1m 49½s.

FINISH OF THE WINTER STAKES.

Knight, 6-6; totals, Croydon, 8 sets 59 games; Bowral, 4 sets 51 games.

GOULBURN, Monday.

The local lawn tennis association has been very shabbily treated in the matter of the visit of a Sydney team for the holiday. Amongst the metropolitan teams selected for country visits was one for Goulburn. The names were published, and it was concluded that all preliminaries were complete. The local association therefore made arrangements for accommodation for the visiting players, for a dinner, and for afternoon tea on the courts. However, no team arrived at Goulburn.

WINGHAM, Monday.

A team of A and B grade tennis players played a match at Wingham on Saturday against a local combined team. The visitors won by 4 sets 4 games. At night the visitors were entertained at dinner.

WESTERN SUBURBS CHURCHES UNION.

The fifth round produced some very good games, several teams winning on the post.

A GRADE.

St. Peter's defeated St. Clement's by 22-3. St. Clement's being a young team got a little excited, otherwise they would have had a good chance of winning. All Saints' defeated Marrickville Congregational 17-15, the winners were two behind at the eighth innings, but came with a great finish, and pulled the game out of the fire. Holy Trinity defeated Tempe Park Methodist by 22-3, the same score as the St. Peters match, and Petersham Congregational defeated Stanmore Baptist by 33-3.

B GRADE.

All Saints' B defeated Campsie Methodist by 18-17; the winners were 4 behind in the eighth innings, but managed to get sufficient runs in their last time at bat to put them in front. St. Enoch's defeated Leichhardt Presbyterian by 22-17; the losers played a good game, and held the winners well through the greater part of the contest, until they let 14 home in one innings. Newtown Baptist scored their first win at the expense of Annandale Methodist, the scores being 12-11 after a good game.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

Victoria Park will be the sporting rendezvous this afternoon, when the Australian Trotting Club holds its meeting, and the programme for the occasion foreshadows interesting contests. Large entries have been received, and the entrants include some of the best trotting performers in the State. The track is reported to be excellent going, and the first event is timed to start at 2.15 p.m. A special tram service lands visitors at the racecourse gates, while the ordinary traffic to Zetland will also be available.

The programme for the Prince of Wales Birthday meeting of the Rosehill Racing Club on the 21st and 23rd instant demands the attention of owners and trainers to-day, for at 4 p.m. entries close with the secretary, Mr. Geo. W. S. Rowe. The dozen events on the card carry 1350 sovs., of which 150 sovs. goes to the Flying Handicap; there are four races endowed with 125 sovs. each, and seven with 100 sovs. each.

The weights for the Warwick Farm June meeting on Saturday next should see the light this forenoon.

Entries close at 8 p.m. to-day with the secretary, Mr. R. C. Hungerford, for the five events on the card for the meeting to be held under the auspices of the New South Wales Trotting Club next Saturday. The prize-money totals 200 sovs., of which 50 sovs. goes to the Epping Handicap, 1¼m.

Mr. G. Dyson-Holland, secretary, invites nominations up to 4 p.m. to-day for the futurities (for now yearlings) in connection with the Queensland Turf Club. The items that need attention are the Hopeful Stakes (1913), Autumn Stakes, Queensland Guineas and Derby, 1914, and St. Leger, 1915. Entries can also be lodged at the office of the A.J.C., Sydney.

Entries close to-day with the secretary, Mr. A. J. Gray, 161 Russell-street, Melbourne, for the "Ascot Thousand" (of £1000), to be run under the auspices of the Ascot Racing Club, Melbourne, on Thursday, September 25, to be followed four days later by the Ascot Five Hundred (of £500). Both events are for horses 14.2 a.u., two years old and upwards, and now yearlings are eligible for nomination. Local entries can be lodged at the office of the Associated Racing Clubs, Elizabeth-street, city.

An application was made yesterday to the A.J.C. stipendiary stewards on behalf of the owners of Renkerna and Miss Latem, who on Saturday were fined £10 each for neglecting to scratch for the Novice and Nursery Handicaps respectively, for a remission or reduction of the fines. A telegram authorising the withdrawals, addressed to the secretary of the A.J.C., Randwick Racecourse, was left at the office of the club, Bligh-street, city, after the office was closed on Saturday, and, under the circumstances, the stewards consented to make a reduction of the fines from £10 to £2 each.

The June meeting of the Newcastle Jockey Club was postponed from yesterday till Monday next, owing to the wet weather.

The Wollongong Jockey Club's June meeting has been postponed till Thursday week, owing to the wet weather.

The programme for the Canterbury Park June meeting on the 28th inst. is announced, with 600 sovs prize money equally distributed over half-a-dozen events, which includes a hurdle race and a race for two-year-olds. Entries will be received up to 4 p.m. on Monday, the 16th inst., by the secretary, Mr. W. L. Davis.

Messrs. William Inglis and Son announce that they will offer for sale at their bazaar, Pitt-street, at noon to-day, the racehorses St. Antoine, Volplane, Velitation, Typhoon, Merrie Lad, and others.

VICTORIA RACING CLUB.

SAFRANO WINS BIRTHDAY HANDICAP.

PECK O' MAUT CORNWALL HANDICAP.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The V.R.C. King's Birthday meeting was concluded to-day in bright and crisp weather, and the attendance was a very large one.

The racing commenced with the Marlborough Hurdle Race. Only seven of the 15 figuring on the card did duty, and three of them, Clontaft, Bill Taft, and Light Ballast, were solidly backed. Light Ballast practically led all the way, and won easily from Bill Taft, who jumped indifferently. Wangarara fell, and Clontaft came down over him. Wangarara's rider (J. O'Connell) appeared to be seriously hurt but he escaped with a few cuts and bruises. The stipendiary stewards inquired into the running of Stern Anchor, and severely cautioned the trainer (A. Williamson), and rider (R. Koops).

The Rothsay Trial Stakes brought out a field of 14, with Coolamatong favourite at the opening of the betting, at 5 to 2, but before the barrier rose, there was a complete change in the situation. Flora was backed down to 6 to 4, while odds of 7 to 1 were offered bar one. Coolamatong made the running, but Averse caught her after passing the distance, and won by half a length, while Flora, who was very slow to find her length, was third, six lengths further back. This was Averse's maiden victory. The stipendiary stewards held an inquiry into the bumping between Averse and Coolamatong in the straight, and decided that it was accidental.

There were 18 starters in the Cornwall Handicap. Sconner started favourite with Peck-o'-maut next in demand. The pair fought out the finish, Peck-o'-maut winning by a short neck. North Woodleigh, who carried 11st 6lb, finished well under his big weight, and was only three-quarters of a length further back.

Magas was raised to 9st for the Birthday Handicap, but still went out favourite, others well backed being Durdans, Slipper, and Sabrano. There was no pace on in the early part of the race, Lornes being in front, pulling double, with Magas in the rear. Sabrano took the lead at the distance, and stalling off Magas, who was ridden with no particular judgment in being kept so far out of his ground, won by a neck. The way the race was run was all in Sabrano's favour.

There were only six starters for the Steeplechase, and Guncap was favourite, with Statecraft next fancied. They were the only two to stand up, and Guncap won by 10 lengths.

The meeting was brought to a close with the Corinthian Handicap, which attracted 14 runners. Monody, whose form of late has been anything but encouraging, was unexpectedly made favourite, but missed a place. The race, after an exciting finish, went to Elvanite, who beat Caius by a head, with the top weight Valedo (13st), a similar distance away third.

MARLBOROUGH HURDLE—2¼m.

Messrs. Wood Bros.' Light Ballast, by Ballistite—Neerlight, 10st 3lb (W. H. Hall) 1
Messrs. Whitty and Quinlan's Bill Taft, 10st 2lb (G. M'Taggart) 2
Mr. W. Stewart's Stern Anchor, 9st 12lb (R. Koops) 3

Other starters: Wingarara, 11st 7lb (O'Connell); The Miser, 10st 3lb (Robertson); Clontaft, 10st 1lb (M'Gregor); Dukery, 9st 6lb (Nicholls).

Betting: 9 to 4 v Clontaft, 5 to 2 v Bill Taft, 5 to 1 v Light Ballast, 12 to 1 v The Miser, 20 to 1 v Stern Anchor.

Dukery led The Miser and Light Ballast over the first hurdle. At the hurdle in front of the judge's box Light Ballast, Dukery, and Wingara was the order, but the lastnamed fell, and brought down Clontaft. Light Ballast continued to lead, and was never afterwards headed, and won, pulling up, by six lengths from Bill Taft, who beat Stern Anchor by 20 lengths. Dukery fell. Time, 4m 22½s.

ROTHSAY TRIAL STAKES.—7f.

Mr. Math's Averse (imp.), by Orme—April Princess, 7st 5lb, carried 7st 6lb (E. Turner) 1
Mr. W. E. Mitchell's Coolamatong, 7st 5lb (K. Bracken) 2
Mr. L. Robertson's Flora, 7st 6lb (J. Accola) 3

Other starters: Shockaroo, 8st 4lb (J. Cain); Willeners, 8st 2lb (Black); Cheyenne, 8st 1lb (Kelly); Fighting Bob, 7st 11lb (Lane); Master Bobby, 7st 5lb (Morgan); Capricious, 7st 5lb (Hingston); Dame Alys 7st 5lb (Bell); Field General, 6st 12lb (Leonard); Maloja, 6st 10lb (Jas. Higgins); Winnipeg, 6st 9lb, inc. 4lb over (M'Cloud); Clumettes, 6st 3lb (B. Cain).

Betting: 6 to 4 v Flora, 7 to 1 v Coolamatong, 8 to 1 each v Averse and Maloja, 10 to 1 v Fighting Bob, 12 to 1 each v Willeners and Shockaroo.

Coolamatong was the quickest away, from Averse, Winnipeg, Shockaroo, and Field General, and passing the abattoirs Coolamatong was still in front from Shockaroo, Averse, and Winnipeg, with the favourite second last. Coolamatong led into the straight from Averse and Shockaroo, with Flora coming fast. Averse joined Coolamatong outside the distance, the latter boring Averse, but Averse more than held her own, and won comfortably by half a length, with Flora six lengths off third. Clumettes, Willeners, and Dame Alys were next, and Cheyenne last. Time, 1m 28¾s.

BIRTHDAY HANDICAP.—1¼m.

Mr. J. Hayward's Safrano, by Flavus—Volox, 8st 12lb (P. Kelly) 1
Mr. T. Dearth's Magas, 9st (W. Black) 2
Mr. J. A. Wallace's Durdans, all. 3lb, carried 7st 5lb (K. Bracken) 3

Other starters: Pearl King, all. 5lb, carried 8st 3lb (Morgan); Slipper, 8st (Turner); Riffian, 7st 8lb (Potter); Nari, all. 3lb, carried 7st 5lb (J. Higgins); Few, 7st 6lb (Jordan); Black Pan, 7st (Lane); Lornes, 7st 7lb (Jackson).

Betting: 9 to 4 v Magas, 5 to 1 v Durdans, 6 to 1 v Slipper, 7 to 1 v Safrano, 10 to 1 v Nari, 12 to 1 each v Pearl King and Few, 20 to 1 v Lornes.

Lornes made play along the riverside from Black Pan, Riffian, and Safrano, with Magas last. Passing the bridge the order was Lornes, Riffian, Black Pan, and Safrano, but at the back of the course Lornes had Riffian, Few, Black Pan, and Safrano as her nearest attendants, with Magas still last. Few ran to the front as they came round the turn into the straight, with Safrano, Lornes, and Black Pan next. Few gave place to Safrano just before the distance was reached, Durdans, Nari, and Magas being close up. The lastnamed made a fast run just inside the distance, but failed to catch Safrano by a neck, who beat Durdans by a length. Then came Few, Slipper, and Nari, with Lornes last. Time, 2m 38½s.

PRINCE OF WALES' STEEPLECHASE.—About 2½m.

Mr. P. E. Kean's Guncap, by Carbinier—Benzine, 11st 9lb (A. Christie) 1
Mr. J. Miller's Statecraft, 10st 1lb (S. Hayboe) 2

Other starters: Pinpress, 10st 12lb (M'Gregor); Brownie, 10st 7lb (Cosgrove); Expiation, 9st 7lb (Leahy); Kornang, 9st 5lb (Edwards).

Betting: 5 to 2 v Guncap, 3 to 1 v Statecraft, 7 to 2 v Kornang, 12 to 1 each v others.

Guncap and Statecraft made joint running from Brownie, Kornang having stopped, and Pinpress having fallen over the fence in the straight. Passing the bridge Guncap took the lead from Statecraft and Brownie. The lastnamed fell at the back of the course, and Expiation also came down. Guncap continued to lead, and won pulling up by five lengths from Statecraft.

CORNWALL HANDICAP.—1m.

Mr. S. D. Brunton's Peck o' Maut, by Malster—Lovetoe, all. 3lb, carried 8st 2lb (K. Bracken).. 1
Mr. J. Meagher's Sconser, 9st 5lb (R. Cameron) .. 2
Mr. J. Fidler's North Woodleigh, 11st 6lb (P. Kelly) 3

Other starters: Loru, 11st 4lb (Minter); Lord Dudley, 10st 6lb (N. D. Godby); Prince Aurate, 10st (Lotuman); Kingling, 9st 9lb (Jordan); Earl Godwin, 9st 9lb (Potter); Viadan, 9st 1lb (Rowe); Walter Tyrell, 9st 1lb (Leck); Avenger, all. 5lb, carried 8st 10lb (Healy); Lord Tuck, 8st 9lb (Lane); Dunfries, 8st 9lb (Thomas); Lazy Lad, 8st 7lb (Fisher); Flinch, 8st 2lb, inc. 2lb over (Black); Columbiad, 8st (Thornhill); Ethel Buckley, 8st (J. Cain); Lady Longulac, 8st 1lb, inc. 1lb over (Lowry); Bell, 9st 2lb (Scouser).

Betting: 5 to 1 against Peck o' Maut, 6 to 1 v Dumfries, 8 to 1 each v North Woodleigh and Earl Godwin, 10 to 1 v Loru, 12 to 1 v Flinch.

Peck o' Maut and Sconser were the quickest to get going, but after going a furlong the former was just in front of Avenger, Kingling, Loru, and Sconser. Peck o'Maut carried on the running from Avenger, Loru, and Kingling round the turn out of the straight, where Sconser made a forward move, and at the distance Sconser and Peck o' Maut were together, and in a hard finish Peck o' Maut won by a short neck from Sconser, with North Woodleigh three-quarters of a length off third. Then followed Loru, Flinch, Prince Aurate, and Lord Tuck, with Ethel Buckley last. Time, 1m 43½s.

CORINTHIAN HANDICAP, 7f.

Mr. J. G. Robertson's Elvanite, by Sylvanite—Yashmak, 10st 4lb (Mr. J. Hinchcliffe) 1
Mr. G. E. Minter's Caius, 10st 6lb (Mr. E. Baker).. 2
Mr. A. B. Cooper's Valido, 13st (Mr. G. Grice) 3

Other starters: Heathergo, 11st 4lb (Mr. J. M'Guinness); Monody, 10st 13lb (Mr. R. Hayes); Blakeney, 10st 11lb (Mr. C. Gove); Cheyenne, 10st 10lb (Mr. C. Wakefield); Gold Braid, all. 7lb, carried 9st 13lb (Mr. E. Read); Quoit, 10st 1lb (Mr. J. Laidlaw); First Aurate, all. 7lb, carried 9st 2lb (Mr. C. Morton); Arcadius, 9st 9lb (Mr. A. Boardman); Iser, 9st 6lb (Mr. V. Cochrane); Breach, 9st (Mr. M. Dean); Dunkerry, 9st (Mr. W. Everest).

Betting: 3 to 1 v Monody, 6 to 1 each v Valido, Caius, and Elvanite, 8 to 1 v Gold Braid, 10 to 1 each v Heather Go and Blakeney, 12 to 1 v Gold Braid, 15 to 1 v First Aurate.

Elvanite, Heather Go, and First Aurate made the running to the home turn, where Elvanite had First Aurate, Heather Go, and Valido as his attendants. The order was much the same into the straight, but at the distance Valido and Caius closed on Elvanite, but the last-named just held his own, and beat Caius by a head, with Valido a similar trifle off third. Monody, First Aurate, and Breach were next, with Blakeney last. Time, 1m 31½s.

ADELAIDE RACING CLUB.

AURIFER WINS ALDERMAN CUP.

GREEK FIRE MARRYATVILLE HANDICAP.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

The Adelaide Racing Club's Birthday meeting was concluded to-day. Results:—

[illegible] Welter, [illegible]—Mr. H. Mallan's Prince Malt, by Malster—[illegible], 8st 7lb (Ramson), 1; Mr. S. A. Rawdon's Charlatan, 7st 4lb (Bennett), 2; Mr. G. Gillen's [illegible], 7st 4lb (Marshall), 3. Other starters: Takapuna, 8st 7lb (Lambert); Uncle Malt, 9st 2lb (Lewis); Common King, 8st 7lb (Clarke); Lord Edward, 8st 4lb (E. Andrews); Sir Vincent, 8st 2lb (Lowe); Mambray Star, 7st 11lb (Smart); Fleurus, 7st 9lb (Barker); Luger, 7st 10lb (Virtue); Cypria, 7st 9lb (G. Bax); Auraria's Daughter, 7st 8lb (W. H. Smith); Ethel Maude, 7st 7lb (Ringer); Lady Hazel, 7st 7lb (Harris); Soultberg, 7st 7lb (Fraser). Divs., Prince Malt, £2 8s; Charlatan, £18 10s. Charlatan made the pace over the hill from Auraria's Daughter, Common King, Takapuna, Fleurus, and Prince Malt. Auraria's Daughter and Charlatan were the first into the straight, but at the distance Prince Malt ran to the front, and won, hard held, by four lengths, with one and a half length between second and third. Auraria's Daughter, Common King, and Uncle Malt were next, with Soultberg last. Time, 1m 2s.

Dulwich Hurdle, 2m.—Mr. R. T. Agg's Master Miller, by Lord Grenville—Midnight mare, 9st 3lb (H. H. Campbell), 1; Mr. A. P. Bowman's Katingawa, 11st (H. Butler), 2; Mr. W. T. Mortlock's Yudnapinna, 11st 11lb (J. H. Neal), 3. Other starters: Lochiel, 11st (Mason); Eighteen Carat, 11st 1lb (R. Bracegirdle); Royal Malton, 10st 6lb (P. Bracegirdle); Moslem, 9st 10lb (Wilson); Kaliroota, 9st 3lb (King); Lady Prior, 9st (Titus); Sir Foam, 9st (Hale). Divs., Master Miller, £4 1s; Katingawa, 19s. Yudnapinna, Master Miller, and Katingawa took up the running over the initial hurdle. It was the same passing the stand, where Eighteen Carat nearly fell. Yudnapinna clouted at the sheds, but along the back still kept company with Katingawa, being followed at an interval of three or four lengths by Master Miller, Royal Malton, Lochiel, and Kaliroota, with Eighteen Carat hopelessly last. On the hill Katingawa, Yudnapinna, and Master Miller were together, but at the top of the straight Yudnapinna had given place to his stable companion, Kaliroota. Master Miller and Katingawa jumped the last obstacle together, and the former, coming away, won nicely by four lengths, with Yudnapinna five lengths away third. Kaliroota, Moslem, and Lochiel were next, with Eighteen Carat, Lady Prior, and Sir Foam tailed off. Time, 3m 47½s.

Marryatville Handicap, 1m.—Mr. K. D. Bowman's Greek Fire, by Pistol—Grecian King, 8st 8lb (Clarke), 1; Mr. J. James's Musket Belle, 8st 11lb (J. D. Campbell), and Mr. J. V. Smith's Orvieto, 8st (Lewis), dead-heat, 2. Other starters: Broadsword, 9st 9lb (Smart); Wheat King, 8st 8lb (G. Bax); Sanskrit, 8st 2lb (J. E. O'Brien); Valia, 8st 5lb (Killorn); Eager, 8st 2lb (Lambert); Master Koran, 8st (Matthews); Penza, 7st 10lb (R. H. Smith); Monte Matto, 7st 10lb (Krogdahl); Bective, 7st (Bissett); Iliad, 6st 9lb (Barker); Lanna, 6st 7lb (Ringer). Dividends: Greek Fire, £3/17/; Musket Belle, £2/16/; Orvieto, 8/. Wheat King, Valia, Orvieto, and Master Koran were first away. At the six-furlongs post Valia led Master Koran, Wheat King, Bective, Orvieto, Greek Fire, and Penza. Bective had supplanted Valia at the half-mile; but dropped back, leaving Valia to lead Wheat King, Bective, Orvieto, and Broadsword into the straight. At the distance Orvieto showed in front, but was immediately challenged by Greek Fire and Sanskrit, while a few yards further on Musket Belle emerged from the ruck. The four travelled the last 100yds to the judge's box practically together. Greek Fire was placed first by half a head, with Musket Belle and Orvieto a dead-heat for second place, and Sanskrit a nose away fourth. Then came Broadsword, Penza, and Valia, the last two being Monte Matto and Master Koran. Time, 1m 42½s.

Victoria Park Steeplechase, 3m.—Mr. T. Keely's Quickshot, by Snapshot—Miss Tulker, 12st (N. Butler), 1; Mr. H. E. Gregory's Everard, 10st 7lb (Wright), 2; Miss S. J. Feast's S.J.K., 9st 5lb (Mason), 3. Other starters: Lockwing, 11st 10lb (Hale); Kanmantoo, 10st 12lb (Black); Barossa, 10st 10lb (King); Auckland, 9st 5lb (Bowen); Coralite, 9st 4lb (Kemp); The Swell, 9st 2lb (Fraser). Dividend: Quickshot, £3/11/. Auckland and Coralite took up the running, but the former fell at the stone wall. Along the back Barossa and Coralite were well clear of Lockwing, S.J.K., and The Swell. Coralite fell at the back double, leaving Barossa with a long lead from The Swell. Passing the stand the second time, the nearest of the others were Everard, Quickshot, and Lockwing, with S.J.K. and Kanmantoo in the rear. The Swell fell at the back, and before reaching the last fence Everard had overhauled the leader and led into the straight, but Quickshot came with a fast run, and won by four lengths, with S.J.K. half a head away third. Then came Kanmantoo, Lockwing, and Barossa. Time, 6m 17½s.

ALDERMAN CUP—1½m.

Mr. F. Morton's Aurifer, by Flavus—Queenbird, 8st 12lb (W. H. Smith) 1
Mr. H. Mostyn Owen's Wassail, 8st 9lb (G. Lambert) 2
Mr. C. E. Kellow's Radiator, 7st 6lb (R. W. Harris) 3

Other starters: Mountain Princess, 8st 2lb (Harrison); Lord Alwyne, 8st 12lb (Lowe); Pistol King, 7st 9lb (Kelly); Hamburg, 6st 7lb (Fraser).

Dividend: Aurifer, £4 7s.

Aurifer, Wassail, and Radiator broke the line with Lord Alwyne last. Passing the stand at a slow pace Hamburg and Radiator had charge from Pistol King and Aurifer, with Lord Alwyne and Wassail last. Hamburg and Radiator were well clear along the back from Mountain Princess and Pistol King. At the seven-furlong post Hamburg and Radiator were a length from Pistol King, Aurifer, and Mountain Princess, with Wassail last, and the same order was maintained round the turn, where Lord Alwyne dropped back last. Two furlongs from home Mountain Princess and Radiator held sway, but Aurifer was soon coming fast, and got up in time to win by a long neck from Wassail, with Radiator third a length and a quarter away. Mountain Princess and Hamburg were next, and Pistol King last. Time, 2m 12¾s.

Coalbrook Stakes, 5f.—Mr. H. Mallan's Arndel, by Ibex—Iodine, 9st 10lb (J. Killorn), 1; Mr. J. James' River Prince, 7st 7lb (Harris), 2; Mr. J. James' Murillo Rose, 8st 2lb (Nerine), 3. Other starters: Tarangat, 9st 8lb (O'Brien); Carisbrook, 8st 7lb (Marshall); Great Shot, 8st 7lb (G. Bax); Sandy Douglas, 7st 11lb (Mathews); Chica, 7st 8lb (Sing); Jetking, 7st 8lb (Lowe); Bonaventure, 7st 7lb (Biglands); Gambett, 7st 7lb (Cody); Arachne, 7st 6lb (J. Bax); Merlinell, 7st 6lb (Bennett); Run True, 7st 5lb (Power); Bridgewater, 7st 5lb (Harmer); Marooned, 7st 2lb (Ringer); Alegra, 6st 10lb (Barker); Mulwa, 6st 10lb (Whelan); Redcloud, 6st 9lb (Virtue); Konzo, 6st 7lb (Lockmann), Poppeia, 6st 7lb (Sedden); Miss Aymer, 6st 7lb (Fraser). Dividends, Arndel, £4 17s; River Prince, £1 14s. Great Shot, Arndel, River Prince, Murillo Rose, and Carisbrook were among the first to move off. At the turn Murillo Rose led Carisbrook, Arndel, River Prince, and Great Shot. Murillo Rose was well clear at the two-furlong post from River Prince and Arndel, but the lastnamed came away and won easily by two and a half lengths, with Murillo Rose one and a half length away third. Then came Gambetto, Great Shot, Carisbrooke, and Poppeia, the last two being Sandy Douglas and Merlinelle. Time, 1m 2¼s.

Rose Park Handicap, 5f.—Mr. A. T. Creswick's Yarrien, by Pistol—Chausonnette, 8st 2lb (Barker), 1; Mr. B. Chaffey's Upright, 7st 9lb (Love), 2; Mr. W. Falkiner's Widgiewa, 9st 7lb (Killorn), 3. Other starters: Iownit, 9st 9lb (G. Bax); First Shot, 8st 13lb (Smart); Takipono, 8st 9lb (Lambert); Bedlowe, 8st 4lb (O'Brien); Pride of Murillo, 8st 5lb (Lewis); Scottish Boy, 8st (Marshall); Boniface, 7st 5lb (Power); Understudy, 7st 2lb (Harris); Dryope, 6st 12lb (J. Bax); Lontar, 6st 11lb (Singer); La Reville, 6st 10lb (Bissett); No Lady, 6st 8lb (Nackmann); Charlatan, 6st 8lb (Good); Netherton, 6st 7lb (Redden); Alkitah, 6st 7lb (Harmer); Tremellen, 6st 7lb (Bennett); Prince Traquair, 6st 7lb (Kelly). Dividends, Yarrien £7 19s, Upright £1 4s. Pride of Murillo, First Shot, Charlatan, and Widgiewa were first away. Widgiewa led round the turn from First Shot, Charlatan, Upright, Netherton, and Yarrien, but at the two furlongs post the lastnamed had run up to the leaders, and eventually won by a length and a quarter from Upright, who was a length in advance of Widgiewa. Bedlowe, Understudy, Boniface, Iownit, and Scottish Boy were next, with Pride of Murillo last. Time, 1m 2s.

POLO.

YERONG CREEK CARNIVAL.

WAGGA, Monday.

A polo carnival was held at Yerong Creek on Saturday, when teams representing Yerong, The Rock, Henty, and Big Springs competed. The secretary of the Yerong Club, Mr. G. F. Plunkett, had all the arrangements in order, and with the president, Mr. G. F. Hutchings, and other local enthusiasts, did everything possible to make the game pleasant for the visiting teams. At an interval in the play afternoon tea was served by the lady friends of the Yerong players, in a marquee. Visitors were present from The Rock, Henty, Culcairn, Albury, Pulletop, and Wagga.

The first teams to meet were Big Springs and Yerong. The teams were:—Yerong: Messrs. G. F. Plunkett (captain), S. Kelly, J. Kelly, and R. Armstrong, but in the fourth period G. Kelly arrived and took R. Armstrong's place in the field. Big Springs: Messrs. G. Paterson, G. P. Wilson (captain), E. H. Wilson, S. Jackson, and C. M'Micking. Mr. J. E. Breffler acted as umpire, and Mr. Elkington as boundary umpire and timekeeper. Six periods of eight minutes were played, and an exciting game was still undecided when time was called. An additional five minutes were allowed, in which Yerong, through the agency of the captain, scored a goal, and won the match.

The second game commenced at 4.30. The teams were:—Henty: Messrs. K. M'Donald (captain), T. Montague, F. Watts, and A. Bunyan. The Rock: Messrs. W. West (captain), J. Cox, J. Montague, and A. Montague. After a good game, The Rock won by 3 goals to 2.

THE "BAD COLD" SEASON.

INTERESTING FACTS BY A WELL-KNOWN SCIENTIST.

This is the time of the year when coughs and colds are rife. Any helpful information on the subject from an authoritative source will, therefore, be welcome. On this point Dr. Gordon Stables writes:—

"The advantages of the treatment of a common cold by Peps are manifold, but marvellously simple. We cannot imagine a more simple and agreeable remedy, for as soon as divested of its preserving wrapper the Peps tablet is placed on the tongue, the palate first, the throat and lungs immediately after, become sensible to its delightful action. The pure, rich essences of the pine forest are liberated, and as they are slowly inhaled, bathe and soothe the irritated membrane of every portion of the air-passage, mouth, nostrils, windpipe, larynx, bronchi, and the lungs themselves.

"In these grateful and soothing pine odours and essences, moreover, you have chest strengthening qualities of the very highest order.

"By the use of Peps the inflamed throat and irritated air-passages and lining membranes of the lungs receive, by inhalation, mind you, a softening, yet invigorating and germ-killing bath of certain essences of the pine. The soothing effects of Peps are instantaneous, and benefit commences at once. If you wish, therefore, to ease and end a cough right off the reel, if you desire to loosen tickling phlegm, and clear the throat and the breathing tubes, use Peps."

You can get a 1/6 or 3/- box from your chemists; avoid substitutes, as there is nothing "just as good."—Advt.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

METROPOLITAN POLICE v BURNS CLUB.

Played at Bourke-street Depot, and won by Burns Club 4 to 1.

The game opened spiritedly, and Burns soon assumed [illegible] lead, and through the Police fouling first score came [illegible] M'Kenzie. Still pressing, Smith put the second [illegible] by the leaders, and prior to the interval Johansen [illegible] for Police. Good play was shown in the second [illegible], but Burns were too good, goals being added by [illegible] and Cox.

LITHGOW THISTLE v GOULBURN ROVERS.

Played at Epping, and won by Lithgow Thistle 5 to 0. Lithgow were the superior team, but Bartlett, Kennedy, and Prevett served Goulburn well. Winter opened the scores, and a rebound from the same player [illegible] Green the second goal. Before the interval, [illegible] and Winter had added two more. Lithgow's [illegible] kept their vanguard in an attacking position all [illegible] second half, Valentine, Glendenning, and Patterson [illegible] prominent; and Edwards, Day, and Prevett tried [illegible] for Goulburn. Goals were added by Watt (from [illegible]), M'Indoe, Lowe, and Winter.

NEWTOWN v MINMI.

Played at Epping, and won by Newtown 1 to 0. [illegible] was a very even and interesting game, and at [illegible] times interesting, the miners showing exceptional [illegible]. Blake scored the only goal after a fine sprint, [illegible] were well served by Williams, Fleming, and Archibald. No score was registered in the second [illegible], the attacks by either side being splendidly checked.

RAWSON CUP.

GLEBE v BALMAIN.

Played at Epping, and resulted in a one goal draw. [illegible] stopped a Balmain rush, and Stone went forward, but his shot was wild. Glebe kept up the [illegible], but Smith, Rose, and Hughes defended soundly. [illegible] were forced to concede a corner, which was [illegible] centred by O'Hehir, and Charlton being [illegible] to receive made Balmain 1 goal to nil at [illegible]time. The red forwards were conspicuous in a [illegible], which Lamb spoiled by kicking behind. Moore [illegible] made good attempts, both hitting the bar. [illegible] sent across field, and, amidst a scramble, [illegible] sent the ball past Hughes. One goal each. [illegible] play was all in Balmain's favour, but off-side [illegible] the defenders on several occasions. Storey, ably [illegible] by Hall and Santry, managed to keep the [illegible] level to full-time.

JUNIOR COMPETITIONS.

[illegible] Kia Ora beat Pyrmont Rangers at Epping by [illegible]. Glebe United beat Victoria Park, 2 to 0, at [illegible] Reserve. St. Paul's beat Pyrmont Royals [illegible] Birchgrove 3 goals to 2.

BROKEN HILL, Monday.

On Saturday North Broken Hill beat Y.M.C.A. by 3 goals to nil.

COUNTRY MATCHES.

BATHURST, Sunday.

The combined metropolitan second team grade easily [illegible] Bathurst League's second 13 this afternoon by [illegible].

In the Rugby Union game, St. Leonards defeated All Saints' College by 6 points to nil. Norrie and [illegible] scored tries for the winners.

During the progress of the League game Sylvester [illegible], one of the visiting backs, received slight [illegible] of the brain, as the result of a blow on the [illegible]. He was conveyed to the hospital, where he was [illegible] in an unconscious condition. However, the [illegible] player recovered sufficiently to be allowed to [illegible] the institution to-night, and it is not anticipated [illegible] will suffer any serious effects.

BATHURST, Monday.

Under League football rules to-day Newtown first [illegible] defeated Western, 6 to 0; Newtown Second defeated Combined Bathurst Juniors by 8 to 0. [illegible] Union rules Balmain defeated Western by 8 [illegible] to 3; St. Leonards (Sydney) defeated Experiment [illegible] by 33 to 3.

BOMBALA, Monday.

On Saturday a well-contested football match between [illegible] and Bombala teams for a challenge [illegible] was played on the latter's ground, resulting in a win for Bombala by 8 points to 3.

BOWRAL, Monday.

In the Rugby football competition on Saturday Bowral and Mittagong played a draw, scoring eight points each.

COOMA, Monday.

A football match, Manly Surf Club against Cooma [illegible], was won by Manly by 21 to 5 points.

DUBBO, Monday.

Dubbo B defeated Newtown by 13 to 8; Dubbo A defeated Redfern by 17 to 15.

QUIRINDI, Monday.

Quirindi Second played a tie with Scone—3 points [illegible].

Quirindi First defeated Glenwood (Glebe) by 11 to 9.

WEST MAITLAND, Monday.

Football matches were played on the park this afternoon. [illegible] (Sydney) defeated Maitland by 8 points [illegible]; Cambridge team beat Ryde, 5 to 3, on the Albion [illegible]. A League match was played between Metropolitan and Hunter teams, resulting in a win for the [illegible] by 23 to 5.

INDUSTRIAL COURT.

CHIEF INDUSTRIAL MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

SOME RARE SNAPS IN COUNTRY HOTELS, EVERY ONE OF WHICH I CAN RECOMMEND.

HOTEL, principal town North-western line, fine position, building all brick, only been built two years, lease 9 years, rent £5 week, beautifully furnished, good stables, well patronised, takings average £90 per week, stock at valuation. Price £1500. Good man could get into this house for £800. A rare chance.

HOTEL, situated in the best pastoral town in North-west, unique position, commanding of necessity extensive trade, lease 9½ years, license £25 per year, rent £5 per wk., with set-off bringing down to £3 10s. Well furnished, good stables, stock at valuation, building contains 30 rooms, all outhouses, takings £120 per wk., every investigation. Price £2650. Buyer can get into this for £2000. A fine opportunity.

HOTEL, fine town, main Northern line, north of Armidale, very little opposition, building 47 rooms, leading squatting and commercial house in town, lease 10 years, set off of £2 5s per wk., furniture valued at £1300. Nelson carbonating plant installed recently, stock about £250, takings average £100 per wk., doing easily the leading business in town. Price £2450. Horses, cows, 'bus, sociable, and cart given in. An opportunity to get into a really first-class house.

HOTEL, situated 12 miles from Inverell, on main road leading to three big towns, one without railway communication, heavy traffic all day long, building new wooden one, 22 rooms, all well furnished, large stables and good yards, full up every night, water well and mill, lease 8 years, takings £50 per week. Price for lease, license, goodwill, furniture, and effects, £900. Looked upon as the best country hotel in district.

HOTEL, in largest town in North, 39 bedrooms, all other rooms, furnished in regal style, leading hotel in town, lighted with electricity, 2 pianos, lease 10 years, extension will be granted, rent £9 per wk., Nelson carbonating plant installed, latest model, stock at landed cost, tariff 10s and 5s per day, takings £150 per week, Every investigation asked. Working expenses £12 per week. Price £4500.

HOTEL, grand town, North-western line, situated next big railway works, commanding large trade, lighted by air gas, trade principally bar, can refer to Tooth's for trade done, lease 10 years, rental £4 10s per week, good stables, takings average £100 per wk., year in year out, furniture all new, district pastoral, dairying and agricultural, hotel well patronised by farmers, stock given in. Price £2000. A really first-class business, and one that I can well recommend.

HERE'S A CHANCE FOR THE SMALL MAN.
HOTEL, South from Goondiwindi, building wood, 10 bedrooms, 2 dining rooms, parlour, bar parlour, and all necessary outbuildings, good stables, always full up, lease 5 years, rent £2 per wk., hall in this lot used for dances, etc., large pastoral district, no opposition, takings £30 per wk., could be improved considerably, stock at cost price. PUBLIC NOTICES.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.
In order that the New South Wales Department of Public Health may recommend the Governor-in-Council to rescind the existing prohibition against Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, it is necessary that all old formula stock be recalled.
If you have stock that does not bear label reading:
"CONTAINS NEITHER OPIUM OR MORPHINE.
PURELY VEGETABLE. NOT NARCOTIC.
Guaranteed by Anglo-American Drug Co., under the U.S.A. Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906.
Serial No. 1056."
Return it immediately, charges prepaid, to your Wholesale Supplier; send us a post-card, and we will remit charges incurred and see that you get new stock (in accordance with Board of Health requirements) for the old, as soon as the prohibition is removed.

MACHINERY.

SAVE MONEY ON PULLEYS BY COMING TO THE PULLEY PEOPLE.

Danks are the Sydney pulley people, as they are the agents of Reeves, the American pulley people. Reeves are the modern split wood pulleys, with segmental rims, as used in the foremost American Mills. Any Reeves' Pulley can be taken off the shaft in a few moments, thus obviating the vexatious and costly delays caused by the non-split pulley, to get which off means unshipping others if the one you wish to remove is not the nearest to the end of the shaft. Reeves' are perfect productions, unaffected by weather or factory temperatures, costing less than steel pulleys, and costing less to run, and at the same time giving greater satisfaction.

We sell these pulleys at agents' money-saving prices. Get them for your factory.

FILLINGS FREE FROM PAIN.

Think what it means to be able to submit your most sensitive tooth to the Dentist without fearing any pain. It means more than that, you will experience no hurt—it means that knowing the treatment is quite painless you will go willingly to the Dentist's chair.

And this will mean that many an excellent tooth —one that should last a lifetime if satisfactorily filled—will be saved. You will not "put it off," and so by continued neglect allow the tooth to go beyond reclaim.

The method of painless filling has been discovered. I possess an apparatus—the only one in Sydney—by means of which I can drill the most sensitive tooth quite painlessly. And, in addition to painlessness, my fillings are satisfactory and permanent. I guarantee each filling—in writing—for five years.

My special method of extraction is guaranteed absolutely painless. I forfeit £5 to you if you feel even a twinge of pain. No pain, no swelling, no painful pricking, nothing to fear even where an abscessed tooth is to be removed.

OPEN TILL 6 P.M. DAILY (Sats. included).

HINTS UPON THE SKIN.
(By Chlorine Foveaux.)

This is the season when women folk may lay the foundation of a perfect complexion, and of all ideas and schemes none is so unquestionably swift, satisfactory, lasting, easy, simple, and inexpensive as the Thermol Absorption method of renewing the skin. No skin is too freckled, too tanned, too brown, too smudgy, too sallow, too sun-stained for this system of skin culture to make it clear and fresh and beautiful in just a few weeks. As any medical man will tell you, freckles and tan, and such worries are only just the depth of tissue paper, and, although they are so shallow, it's just perfectly useless trying to mend matters by the use of beauty creams and skin foods and lotions, and such like. We must have a really different method altogether. Well, now, under this Thermol Absorption idea you just rub a little of the Thermol on the parts for a few weeks, and during that time you have got a new skin—it sounds some quaint, but that is so—a new skin, I said, because the Thermol has ABSORBED the outer fine film of skin, leaving the clear, fresh, sweet, winning one underneath. Hands, arms, shoulders, face—everywhere will be made beautifully clear and normal by this method. Thermol is sold in white jars at 3/9 (post free 4/1), by DURNO, LTD., Chemists, Pitt-street, Sydney; and FIRKIN and DALBY, Chemists, Newcastle. It is an easy and pleasant way to acquire

A NEW SKIN FOR 3/9.

YOU WHO GET HUNGRY BETWEEN MEALS

Don't deny yourself food till meal time. When that mid-morning hunger approaches satisfy it with Arnott's Shredded Wheatmeal Biscuits. These Biscuits are little nuggets of nutrition.

SHREDDED
BISCUITS.

Many business men eat them at 11 in the morning. So do children in recess. They are more nutritious than bread.
You can eat them with butter or hot milk; but however you eat them they're always crisp and fresh, and thoroughly satisfying.

MAZARA SKIN FOOD.

The week-end at the Mountains or by the Sea will have benefited your complexion wonderfully, provided you have cared for it by using some Skin Food. A little irritation, a slight roughness, show the effect of nipping air and bleak winds on the skin, and in all such cases Mazara Skin Food is indispensable to the complexion of the woman who cares. Freedom from greasy substances and purity of ingredients are fast making MAZARA the most favoured Skin Food on the market. Massage a little into the complexion, and experience its delightfully refreshing effects. Your complexion will glow and tingle with life and colour.

MAZARA IS ONLY 2/6 AND 4/6 JAR. Its invaluable qualities make it important that you procure a jar from Farmer's to-day.

FAULDING'S SOLYPTOL—
THE BEST TOILET SOAP.

Faulding's Solyptol Soap gained the Gold Medal in competition with all other soaps at the Franco-British Exhibition in 1908.

This is striking endorsement of our contention that it is absolutely the finest toilet antiseptic preparation yet known to science, being soothing, healing, stimulating, and nourishing to the skin. Its regular use ensures a perfect complexion.

Ask for Solyptol (pronounced So-lyp-tol) Soap. If your chemist or storekeeper does not stock it send us his name and address, and your own, and we will forward you a free sample to test at our expense.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIRS DESTROYED BY DANNEBROG.

A BLESSING TO WOMAN KIND.

There is only one opinion about Dannebrog, and this is that it is an Incomparable remedy for Superfluous Hairs. There are Dannebrog Institutes in Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Ballarat, Bendigo, Geelong. Dannebrog is a Danish remedy, brought to Australia by Madame Frokjaer, Graduate of the Royal Massage College, Copenhagen. Sydney Institute, late 105 Pitt-street, has been removed to larger and commodious premises at TEMPLE COURT (5th Floor), KING and ELIZABETH STREETS. 'Phone, 3473 City.

Success of DANNEBROG is shown before payment. One fee only. Country clients treated by post. Inspection invited.

FOOD CHOPPING DEMONSTRATION.
WINDOLENE DEMONSTRATION.
SEWING MACHINE DEMONSTRATION.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT OF THE LADIES' VENETIAN ORCHESTRA.

Commencing this morning, and continuing for a fortnight, we propose to hold a number of free Demonstrations of Labour-saving Devices and other Articles of our own manufacture.

At 11 o'clock this morning we shall hold a practical Demonstration of THE MODEL STORE MINCERS and FOOD CHOPPERS, at which our demonstrator will thoroughly explain the advantages and simplicity of these Labour-saving Machines.

In the afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, the merits of THE GRACE Drophead Sewing Machine will be fully explained, and the number of tests to which this Machine will be subjected should not be missed by all intending purchasers.

Both these Demonstrations will be held in our Household Ironmongery Department, Second Floor, BROADWAY BUILDING.

At 4 p.m. we shall give a Demonstration of "WINDOLENE," a preparation for cleaning Glass, Pictures, Windows, etc.

Windolene is in liquid form, and possesses many advantages over any other cleanser. These advantages will be brought out by our demonstrator, and all who wish to see Windolene applied can do so by visiting our Brushware Department on the Second Floor of our BROADWAY BUILDING.

In our Refreshment Rooms we have arranged to give a Demonstration of Kohler's Cocoa, and visitors are specially invited to come and partake of a delicious cup of Cocoa which will be served every day during Demonstration Fortnight.

Our Refreshment Rooms have recently been enlarged, and we are now able to give better service and attention to patrons.

In our Crockery Department a special feature is being made of some beautiful examples of Royal Devon Ware, and those who wish to see exclusiveness in Crockery should not fail to see this display.

During the morning and afternoon the Ladies' Venetian Orchestra will render the following programme of Select Music in our Refreshment Rooms:—

THE A B C OF BUYING A SMART
EVENING DRESS.

A. Decide on the material.
B. And the price you would like to pay.
C. Then come to Snows. The material and trimmings will probably come cheaper than you expect.

"What will you advertise for Tuesday?" the Manager of Snows' Specialty Dress Goods Shop was asked.

"Why, Evening Wear, of course," came back the answer. "Every other night during June there is to be a Ball—and we have a big plenty of the Fabrics young women will want for their dresses."

"If I were planning an Evening Frock I think I should prefer one of these

BROCHES.

They are the last word of Fashion, either for Evening Wear, Day Wear, Summer Wear, or Winter Wear. "Crepe Faconne" is the trade name for them. The best description for advertising purposes is a Crepe De Chine, with Silk Embossed effects. Out of these Sun-kissed Apricots, Moonlight Blues, Pastel Lemons, and Tans and Pinks and Greys, it is hard to say which are the prettiest. Then there are Champigneys, Whites, and Blacks.
WIDTH 40 INCHES. SNOWS' PRICE, 5/11 YD.
"Satins are good for Evening Frocks. Here is a 40-inch Satin at 4/6 yard, in White, Ivory, Cream, or Black—also Royal, Saxe, Nattier, Purple, French Grey, Mole, Apricot, Putty, Coral Pink, Brown, Flame, Scarlet."
"Other Satins at 3/11, 3/6, and 2/6½ yd, in all the wanted shades, besides Ivory, White, Cream, and Black."
"A 5/11 CASHMERE DE SOIE is AT

SNOWS

FOR 4/11 YARD.
"It is 40 inches wide, and may be had in White, Ivory, or Black; also Tan, Brown, Cerise, Light Grey, Mole, Light Navy, Dark Navy, Champagne, and Biscuit."

"BREAKING AWAY FROM
TO THE DRESSES."

"Snows offer Pastel Amazons at 3/4½ yard. The shades include: Emerald, Saxe, Rose, Helio., Sky, Champagne, Honey, Cerise, Shell Pink, Rose Pink, Cornflower, Canary, Fawn, Champignon, Scarlet, Cerise, Lavender, Grey."
"Cream Pastel Cloths, 42 to 46 inches wide, from 3/6, 3/11, 4/4½, to 4/11 yd. Other Pastel Venetians include two shades of Emerald, Sky, Cornflower, Nil, Apricot, Cherry, Tangerine, Cardinal, Champeigne, French Grey, Salmon Pink, Shell Pink, and Cream."
"40-INCH CHARMEUSETTE.
SNOW'S PRICE, 2/11."
"In Pink, Coral, French Grey, Grey, Maize, Sky."
The oft-repeated phrase "Snows' Price" has a significance. It means that the same goods are bringing more money elsewhere, and that the price quoted is the lowest for that quality in the city. Mark our words and compare.

C. G. HATTE

has been favourably known for many years as a Great Price Reducer and a determined enemy of High-price Drapers. He has supplied thousands of the present generation with school frocks and pants, made them feel a bit smarter during their courting days, and had something to do with their weddings, and when the little troubles came along he always had something for them. C. G. HATTE would like to meet many of his old and young friends again to say good-bye.

COSTUME SECTION.

Ladies, we are desirous of selling

TWO THOUSAND COATS

during this week. To accomplish this object we have selected six "Special Numbers" and ranked them at an exceedingly low figure. If you require a coat this week visit Foy's Showrooms.

Table containing two hundred Ladies' Navy and Tweed Full-length Coats—some with plain collars, some with deep rounded collars, others with plain coloured Cloth Collars. Ladies, these are beautiful Coats, and they are sacrificed at 9/11 each.

To Our Country Clients.—We advise to write at once, leaving the selection of the coat to the manager of the dept. You are sure to be delighted.

Some very smart styles in Ladies' Full-length Tweed Coats, in Dark Steel Grey Mixtures, deep spade collars of Saxe French Face Cloth. A very attractive coat at a very reasonable price. Other styles as well. Foy's Special Price, 14/11.

Some excellent value we are offering for this item in Full-length Navy and Tweed Coats. These comprise the very latest and most up-to-date styles in these particular coats. They are smart, very cosy, and warm, but bear in mind they are very moderate in price.
17/11.

Ladies, Foy's have made themselves famous this season for the Wonderful Value we offer in Ladies' Coats at 21/ EACH.

Coats that you would have to pay 42/ elsewhere Foy's sell you for 21/. This is no exaggeration—ask your friend to show you hers. Now for this price we have some wonderful coats to offer you. They are in Navys, Fancy Coloured Tweeds, deep spade collars, trimmed with fringe, etc., suitable for street or evening wear. The wholesale price of some of these Coats was 45/ each. Ladies, there is bound to be a big rush to secure the best, so come early. All one price, and the greatest bargain we have ever offered—

Table containing three very smart styles in Reversible Tweed Coats, with broad lapels and deep spade collars, finished with smart buttons, in a great variety of materials. Foy's Special Price, 26/11.

Some very Smart Coats for this item in very superior quality Navy Coats, also some reversible Tweed. The Navy Coats have deep fancy rounded collars, piped with Plain Cloth, finished with two-tone buttons. Coat rounded off at foot. The very latest shape, in all sizes.
29/11.

Foy's have just received further shipments of those new ¾-length Fashionable Sports Coats. They are showing in all the very latest colouring, such as Cerise, Mustard, Greys, Moles, Canary, etc., at the following prices:—
14/11, 19/11, 21/.

At present we have a very Choice Collection of Ladies' ½, ¾, ⅞, and Full Length Knitted Wool Coats in any colour you can mention. A big variety of styles, at the following prices:—
9/11, 14/11, 19/11, 24/11, 29/11.

Ladies' Fur Coats.—"Ladies, are you interested?" If so, read this carefully through. This week we are offering Real Skin Coats in Coney Seal, etc., for about half their usual value. There are some very choice Coney Seal Coats to be had for £7 15s. These are lined throughout with silk, deep collars, and lapels. They are honestly worth Fifteen Guineas, but Foy's Special Price is £7 15/.
Other Prices, £9 9/6, £12 12/, £15 15/.

We are showing some very smart Tailor-made Coats and Skirts at very reasonable prices, in Serge, Tweeds, Cloths, etc. You can select a very nice Costume for 23/11 or 29/11, whilst for 39/11 and 49/11 there are some lovely Costumes to be had, and from 59/6 up to £5 5/ you can depend on being shown something exceptionally smart and stylish. So if you require a Costume, or if you don't, come and have a look through our present collection.

THE FASHION OF THE MOMENT IS BLANKETS!

For, after all, what's the good of anything IF YOU ARE NOT COMFORTABLE?

PITT-STREET HORDERNS

have been talking of WHITE AUSTRALIAN BLANKETS, full Double Bed size, at 16/6, 18/6, and 20/ per pair, until they are selling in hundreds. So now for a word or two about a BETTER BLANKET.

It's a better Blanket, even by comparison with the truly remarkable values offered at the lower prices we mentioned. Of course, it is made of AUSTRALIAN WOOL, of a finer quality and longer staple than usual. It is a heavier weight, too, glossy and soft to the touch, gloriously warm and cosy to handle. To use it is just "Comfort" woven in Wool. These Blankets are Liverpool made, of the best produced by the big factory on the George's River.
THE DOUBLE BED BLANKETS measure 78 x 92 inch, weight 9lb. PRICE, 28/6 PER PAIR.

THE EXTRA OUT SIZE,

the Double Tuck-in Blankets, measure 80 x 100 inch, Weight 10lb.
PRICE, 28/6 PER PAIR.
Come and examine the quality of these
BETTER BLANKETS.
They will bear out every word we say of them.

When speaking of "Better" goods we must mention Down Quilts. While we are distributing

POUND DOWNS

(the best 20/ worth in Australia) by the hundred all over the Commonwealth (Carriage paid, of course), we don't want to lose sight of the great Values of our

BETTER DOWN QUILTS.

There are two prices especially at which we have managed to secure quite unexceptional quality and remarkably beautiful designs and colourings.

AT TWENTY-NINE AND SIXPENCE

are two ranges—one with plain roll and panel and reverse of artistic harmony; and the other with the addition of a full handsome Frill.
WITH PURE ODORLESS DOWN.
All full double bed size, 6ft x 5ft.
EXACTLY THE SAME,
excepting that they are VERY MUCH BETTER, may be said of the ranges we offer at

TWO GUINEAS.

THERE IS NOT A QUILT IN EITHER RANGE THAT YOU WOULD NOT BE PROUD TO PLACE IN YOUR BEST BEDCHAMBER.

We would like to persuade you to spend an hour in our New DOWN QUILT SHOWROOM. You would find the time well spent.

All our Household and Other Drapery go

CARRIAGE PAID
THROUGHOUT AUSTRALIA.

The Comfort of our BLANKETS AND DOWN QUILTS will often induce you to "sleep in"; therefore
RELIABLE ALARM CLOCKS,
2/11, 3/6, 4/6, 4/11, to 6/6 each.
